GOV. BENSON TO SAN JOSE FOR VACATION. Special to The Review. SALEM, Or., July 21.—Governor Frank W. Benson leaves tonight for San Jose, Calif., for a two weeks' vacation. On his return he may inspect the central California fish hatcheries. Governor Benson's private secretary, C. N. McArthur, will act as the state's executive. This afternoon Governor Benson forwarded the following telegram to President Taft: "I heartily second Congressman Hawley's invitation to you to visit Salem on your western trip. I trust you will be able to speak here."

"BLACK HAND" METHODS BARED BY CONFESSION.

CHICAGO, July 20.—Tony Baffo, a 19-year-old Italian boy, who has been in this country three years, confessed today to killing Giuseppe Filippelli, a grocer, at the same time laying bare the inner workings of the Black Hand. The organization to which Baffo belonged was called the Society of Justice. The murder was committed last April. According to Baffo, while working as a laborer on a railroad, he met Antonio Nudo, Raffaele Nudo and Pasquella Nudo, Joseph Cara and a man named Ernesto who wanted him to join their gang and promised to give Baffo the sister of the Nudos to marry. The gang was formed, Baffo says, to get money from people supposed to be well off. He says they had been laying for Filippelli for three months, but had no chance to get him because he always had his wife with him or baby in arms. On the night he was killed, Baffo declared, they waited until Filippelli came out of the store carrying a baby. Pasquella and Baffo walked toward a vacant lot and when Filippelli passed Pasquella struck at Filippelli with a club but missed him. Filippelli then turned around and grabbed Baffo and Baffo says he pulled a revolver and shot twice. The others cut him. Baffo says the men had written Filippelli demanding money and were angry because he did not pay them. The police have arrested Antonio Nudo, Ernesto Ferres and Giuseppe Cara, and expect to apprehend the others.

DECENT WOMEN STAY AWAY FROM POLLS.

In Colorado Only Dregs of Woman-kind Vote Says Former Governor Rev. H. A. Butchel. NEW YORK, July 20.—"Only the dregs of womankind vote in Colorado; the mothers have to be practically clubbed to the polls. Power was not intended for women; influence is more subtle and is woman's greatest force. When woman seeks power it is a great calamity, not only for her, but for the men as well. My wife and daughter shun politics, as do the majority of the women in Colorado. I believe that women want the vote without the responsibility."

This is the opinion expressed by the Rev. Dr. Henry A. Butchel, former governor of Colorado, one of the four states in which women have the right to vote. Dr. Butchel came here to preach in Calvary Methodist Episcopal Church. Continuing, the former governor said:

"Chivalry was the motive that prompted the granting of the equal franchise in Colorado, and women legislators have been suffered to put forth their claims out of deference to their sex. There have been few who did not demand the most absurd and unreasonable laws. The only trouble about the women legislators is that they will not listen to argument—no woman will. Logic does not appeal to them."

"It is a hateful subject to me," he continued, "for, once I make any statement regarding it, all the long-haired men and short-haired women will be up in arms to argue about it. I will admit there is an inferior type of women who rush to the polls as a means of gratification, just as a certain class of inferior men use politics for their own ends, but it is this class of women that keeps the conservative home women away from the polls; the latter shrink from coming in contact with this other type of women."

"There are women from the beginning of the world whose wit and intuition have been valuable in every line of business, art or politics. These are the women of influence—not the women of power who have only succeeded in bringing trouble or unhappiness in their train."

The street committee of the city council, comprised of Sam Josephson, Joseph Miesli and Henry Ryan, on Tuesday looked into the requirements for the piping of the remainder of the big drain extending northwestwardly through the city, from upper Lane street to the river, at the foot of Washington street. They report that there would be needed for such a project about 2000 feet of pipe, which, at $2.50 per foot, would cost $5000 to lay. Councilman Josephson said that such property owners as were interviewed had no objection to the laying of the pipe, but as to bearing the expense—well, that was quite a different matter.

SEA WALL BREAKS

Galveston Again Flooded by Waters of Gulf

7 FEET DEEP IN STREETS

Testimony in Sutton Inquiry is That He Drank to Excess and Was "Wild West" Bully

Special to the Evening Review. HOUSTON, Tex., July 21.—Two spans of the railroad bridge connecting the city of Galveston with the mainland were swept away today by wind and water. A mammoth wall of water surged through the streets of the city, which is now flooded to a depth of seven feet. Communication with the outside world is entirely cut off, and there is fear of a repetition of the disaster of September 8, 1909. One report is that a cyclone struck the city, wrecking the great sea wall and that a terrific gale is sweeping into the city from the gulf. A later report is that the wind has changed its course, driving the water back from the city. There has been no loss of life, but the damage to property is tremendous. It will be a week before railroad communication is restored. The sea wall bordering the city was built especially for the prevention of such disasters as that of nine years ago, when the city was visited by a flood from the gulf that cost hundreds of lives and millions of dollars' worth of property.

Bevan, Too, Says Suicide.

ANNAPOLIS, Md., July 21.—First Lieutenant W. F. Bevan, of the battleship New Jersey, resumed the witness stand today and reiterated his previous declaration that Lieutenant Sutton, of Portland, Or., suicided at the academy on the night of October 12, 1907, after a fist fight with classmates. Bevan, as well as other witnesses, testified that Sutton was the only one of the crowd carrying a weapon. The witness was one of the three men who were holding Sutton to the ground when the latter shot himself. Bevan said that in a talk with Sutton one day Sutton threatened to kill himself because life in the marine corps was unattractive to him. He was positive that Sutton took his own life.

Sutton a Bully.

Bevan's testimony also revealed that a situation bordering on a Wild West rampage had existed in the marine camp prior to the shooting, when Sutton had been trying to make Lieutenant Roelker dance by leveling two revolvers at his feet, and afterwards rushed from the camp, disregarding his arrest by the officer of the guard and shouting that he would quit the marine camp for good and all.

Bevan explained that Sutton fired a bullet into his own brain, after some one remarked that Sutton had killed Roelker.

Lieutenant Osterman, as a member of Sutton's automobile party on the night of October 12, corroborated Lieutenant Adams' story, except to add that he believed Sutton was badly intoxicated that night. Osterman told of an incident about a month prior to Sutton's death when Sutton "shot up the camp."

"I was awakened by the bullets whizzing through our tent," said the witness, "and, stepping out into the camp street, saw Sutton standing in the door of his tent firing a revolver."

Seeking Roelker.

WHEELING, W. Va., July 20.—With the avowed purpose of locating Edward P. Roelker, the much-wanted witness in the Sutton inquiry now being held in Annapolis, Harry B. Thomas, of Martins Ferry, Ohio, is today in Wheeling. Thomas, in a sensational statement last night, declared he had seen Roelker within the last two weeks, and was sure he could find him. Thomas said today he was sure Roelker had been employed for some time in the Wheeling offices of a coal mining company, name.

FARMERS BEGGING FOR HELP FOR HARVESTING.

WASHINGTON, July 20.—Fifty thousand able-bodied men are wanted in the harvest fields of the West to take care of the bounteous crops. Farmers are literally begging for help, according to officials of the Department of Commerce and Labor, whose duty it is to find employment for throngs of aliens who come into this country. The officials are almost powerless because of the penniless condition of many of the immigrants. Assistant Secretary McHarg, of the Department of Commerce and Labor, suggests that the railroads transport aliens to the west at actual cost, as their profit would come in hauling back the tremendous product of the aliens' labor.

BINGER HEIMANN TO BE TRIED THE COMING FALL.

Honey Ordered to Prosecute, but if He Fails to Comply, McCourt Will Act in His Stead.

WASHINGTON, July 20.—In the remarks of Representative Tawney, printed in the Congressional Record this morning, appears this quotation from a letter of Attorney General Wickersham, of recent date: "I have given general instructions in all cases in which Mr. Honey is retained to make careful examination of the cases and, if they cannot be brought to trial within reasonable time with any prospect of success, that the indictments be dismissed, and have caused some indictments to be dismissed under these instructions."

Inquiry at the Department of Justice today brought forth the statement that "Binger Hermann will be brought to trial at Portland early this coming fall. Mr. Honey will personally conduct the prosecution."

No information was obtainable as to the case of J. N. Williamson or other land fraud defendants yet tried. No specific date has been fixed for beginning the Hermann trial, it is said.

If not Honey, Then McCourt.

PORTLAND, Or., July 20.—When the above dispatch was read to him last night, United States District Attorney McCourt said it was the desire of the department that Mr. Honey should conduct that case. This was Mr. McCourt's wish also, for the reason that Mr. Honey is familiar with the testimony, having personally examined many of the witnesses, and knows also the theory under which he brought the action. Mr. McCourt, however, indicated that in the event Mr. Honey's engagements prevented his being here, the United States Attorney's office would conduct the Hermann case.

Others Draw Good Salaries.

WASHINGTON, July 20.—According to figures furnished Chairman Tawney of the appropriations committee by Attorney General Wickersham, Francis J. Honey is not the only special attorney of the Department of Justice who is drawing a very neat salary from the treasury. A tabulated statement of payments made to special employees of the Department of Justice between July 1, 1908, and March 30, 1909, shows that during that period Tracey C. Becker has received $740 and B. D. Townsend $437.

In addition to his monthly salary, which averages about $375, Mr. Becker was paid a lump sum of $2000 August 31 last; $1000 December 26 and another $1000 March 23. Mr. Townsend's payments are all regular, being at the approximate rate of $575 per month.

Roosevelt Has Thrilling Experience With Hippopotami—Murder Ends a Debauch

POLICE'S LATEST THEORY OF BRACKETT SHOOTING

PORTLAND, Or., July 21.—Another woman, not Mrs. R. M. Brown; another man, neither Main nor Quinn, nor Carlton, by latest deductions, involved in the mysterious shooting of Rae F. Brackett on Yamhill street, between Fourteenth and Fifteenth, last Wednesday night, and today the Chicago police will be asked to question there an insanely jealous husband who is supposed to have left Portland Thursday morning. That he mistook Mrs. Brown, in the company of Brackett, for his wife, fired at the electrical engineer on his way home and fed the next morning, believing he had wreaked vengeance upon a man intimate with his spouse, is now considered the sanest solution of the shooting mystery. At all events the latest suspect has not been seen since the night of the affair, and, adding color to the newest deductions, the most recent woman in the case lived within a stone's throw of the scene of the shooting.

She has left her lodging house for other quarters here, thus far not known by the probes, but that she is in Portland is a certainty, anxious inquiries by her for her husband over the telephone being heard daily at the last place he was employed.

"He has skipped; I don't know where," she is reported as saying to an acquaintance yesterday. Constant delving failed to bring out one point to disprove the theory that Brackett had been shot by mistake or under the deduction that the jealous Portland husband had fired the shot and fled, believing he was an unwritten law fugitive. His name and he identity of the new woman in the case are withheld pending the result of an investigation at Chicago which will be directed today.

CONFEREES CLASH

Aldrich and Payne Disagree on Lumber Schedule

PRESIDENT TAFT TO DECIDE

POLICE'S LATEST THEORY OF BRACKETT SHOOTING

WASHINGTON, July 21.—The tariff conferees of the House and Senate will dine with President Taft tonight, when the president will attempt to wipe out the ill feeling between Payne and Aldrich and reach a better understanding. It is agreed that the president will obtain free iron ore, removal of the countervailing duty on oil, some reductions on hides and the house rate on lumber. It is predicted that Taft will fall in his insistence for free hides or to secure authority to enter into a reciprocity treaty between the United States and Canada.

At tonight's meeting the president will report to the conferees what progress has been made in an effort to get votes to carry his recommendations for free raw material. He will also receive reports on the present situation in the house and senate regarding the tariff bill.

Taft today called a meeting of the cabinet. It is understood that government expenditures are under discussion.

Clash on Lumber Tariff.

Some say that the difference between Aldrich and Payne have taken such form that progress is impossible unless the president has influence to compel action. It is not denied that there was a clash yesterday between Representatives Payne and Fordney of Michigan. From a credible source it was learned that a crisis was reached when an effort was made late yesterday to vote on the lumber schedule. Payne protested and argued that such a move would be unfair to the President, as this was one of the subjects practically submitted to him for adjustment, provided he could get votes enough in the two houses to adopt compromise rates.

The paper and pulp fight bids fair to be especially stubborn and probably will be somewhat prolonged. Much progress has been made on the cotton schedule, but hostility and a number of other leading items of cotton manufacture are causing the tariff arbitrators much concern. The drawback provision is practically the only important administrative feature that remains unsettled.

Although the rates of duty have been fixed on practically all of the steel products, there has been a protest against the increased rate on structural steel punched for use. It was thought that a compromise on lead and its products was in view, but this schedule also has proved difficult of adjustment. The duties on zinc in blocks and pigs, which were increased by the senate over the house rates, is another matter which is delaying the settlement of the metals schedule.

An agreement as to whether there should be a reciprocity provision for the free entry of agricultural machinery does not seem to be near at hand and the same may be said with regard to the differences existing between the house and senate regarding the rates on window glass, the increase on gloves made by the house bill and rate on barley and barley malt. On account of the attitude of the senators from California, nothing has been done with the increased duty on lemons.

An adjustment of the duty on mineral water and the rate on bottles which affects the former also remains to be agreed to.

Roosevelt's Escape.

NAIVASHA, Africa, July 21.—Surrounded by 12 hippopotami while in a rowboat on Lake Naivasha, pursuing a female hippo, Roosevelt had a thrilling escape from death yesterday while accompanied by two natives. The hippos appeared upon the boat a long distance from shore, and one of them, a bull, dived under the boat, raising it. Roosevelt shot and killed the beast before it could repeat the act, and the other hippos became frightened by the flash of the powder and swam away.

Harriman's Way of Resting.

VIENNA, July 21.—Despite the warnings of physicians that only relaxation and abandonment of business could possibly bring about improvement from his nervous disorder, E. H. Harriman is transacting large stock deals by cable. Extra operators have been installed by the cable company since Harriman became active again in the market.

Booze-Murder-Suicide.

SPOKANE, Wash., July 21.—Fred G. Browning today ended a week's debauch by shooting his wife to death as she lay beside their 2-year-old baby in a boarding house. He then attempted suicide by shooting himself in the head and is now in a hospital in a critical condition. The couple quarreled frequently because of his fondness for liquor. Angry words this morning led to the tragedy, the woman dying instantly.

SUPREME COURT ORDERS.

J. T. McGee, appellant, vs. J. W. Beckley, respondent. Appeal from Douglas County, Judge J. W. Hamilton. Motion to relax costs denied. Opinion by Chief Justice Moore. Motion for rehearing overruled in the case of Ames et al. vs. Moore.

Important Notice. Partial repairs have now been made to the large main supplying the city reservoirs but it may become necessary to replace a portion of this main at once. We are sparing no pains or expense to restore full service, but sprinkling and irrigating must be done moderately and sparingly for the balance of this week. We wish to thank our customers most kindly for their splendid response to our request of July 19th and for their cooperation, and we further beg to assure the public that it is our intention to improve and extend the service with Roseburg's growth. J. L. & S. A. KENDALL. July 21st, 1909.

Don't be a Knocker. I am proud to state that the MODEL AMERICAN CIGAR is equal to any article on the market sold for a bit. All Roseburgers should be proud of a product of such quality. My reputation is too well known for anyone to doubt the above. Please do not let anyone influence you otherwise. L. KABAT, Manufacturer, Roseburg, Oregon.
