We Are Still Doing Business!

We never did stop our plant for fire or high water—and NOW, when we are just raising the plant four feet, all we have to do is lengthen the big drive belt on the engine to reach the machinery drive shaft. Why should we stop. You'll get your laundry right on time—send it in and see.

We're raising the plant, but the price remains the same—just send us your next bundle of laundry. Phone 791 and we will call for it.

Roseburg's new street sweeper was given a trial this morning, working satisfactorily behind a team of horses.

The street was not sprinkled before-hand and the result was a huge cloud of dust in the wake of the sweeper. Whether it is advisable for the city to wait until after the close of the forthcoming rainy season before buying a sprinkler is a question that a great many citizens are answering in the negative. Councilman Mullen has maintained that even during the winter months a sloping pavement that dries quickly must be sprinkled before it is swept and time may prove that he is correct.

Sixty iron posts for Roseburg's new street lighting system in the paved district will arrive here the latter part of this week, according to the announcement of "Booster" Colt, who says that he has received word that they will be shipped from Portland next Thursday. All but five of these posts have been signed for by local citizens, but Mr. Colt says he will have little trouble finding locations for them. Most of the opalescent spheroidal-shaped globes are already on hand, and the remainder will be here when the posts are ready for emplacement. It is planned to install the new system in time for the street-cleaning celebration on October 15. While this date has not been officially decided on, the several committees of the Commercial Club are working toward it and from all indications it will not be changed.

When you can't get what you want in building materials elsewhere, go to Page Investment Co., 709 North Jackson Street; but you would save time in going there first. Phone 2421.

James K. Hawkins has been re-elected to the pastorate of the Methodist Episcopal church of Roseburg, according to word received here, although the appointments listed in press dispatches from the conference in Cottage Grove contains neither Rev. Hawkins' name or mention of the Roseburg church. Among his assignments are five churches, the following: W. R. F. Brown, Drain; Sanford Snyder, Gardiner; A. Eldridge, Yoncalla; G. A. Gray, Canyonville; B. A. Bristol, Ten Mile; L. L. Grafton, Wilbur; F. S. Clemo, Wilderville; W. C. Reuter, Newberg; E. E. Locket, Elkton.

DISTRICT ATTORNEY MULKEY'S BIG ROUND-UP

Jackson County Grand Jury Returns 30 Indictments, Most of Them Against Bootleggers.

MEDFORD, Or., Sept. 20.—The past week has been a lively one in the Jackson county circuit court, and Judge Hanna, District Attorney Mulkey and the grand jury have been doing a land office business. The grand jury discharged Saturday, brought in 30 indictments, most of them being for violation of the liquor laws. District Attorney Mulkey has been for some time gathering evidence against saloonmen and others for selling liquor to minors, keeping open on Sunday and other violations of the law. The gallon-house in Applegate Valley and the one on Rogue river, near Grants Pass, each got a reminder that they must keep closed on Sunday and not sell liquor in quantities less than one gallon, as their United States license permits. Among those indicted were a Medford Japanese and a white man, each charged with running a blind pig and supplying boys with liquor. A Gold Hill barber, who had a leading place in the rear of his barber shop for boys, got a fine of $75 and costs for dealing out liquor to them. Gold Hill and Woodville saloonkeepers are also before the court on a charge of selling whiskey and beer to boys.

Best Treatment for a Burn. If for no other reason, Chamberlain's Salve should be kept in every household on account of its great value in the treatment of burns.
