DIETZ IS WOUNDED

Cameron Dam Outlaw and Son Felled by Leaden Hail

CAPTURE NOT EFFECTED

Mrs. Dietz Drags Both Back to Cabin —Deputies Plan Rush That May Exterminate Family

Special to the Evening Review.

WINTER, Wis., Oct. 8.—Seventy deputy sheriffs engaged in a pitched duel at noon today with John F. Dietz, the Cameron Dam pioneer, and his son, Leslie, who for seven years have stood off state and Federal officers and employees of big lumber corporations. Both were badly wounded, but were saved from capture by Mrs. Dietz, who dragged them from the open into the cabin fortress, where for the past five days the entire Dietz family, including children of tender age, have successfully withstood the besiegers.

Shortly before noon, Dietz left the cabin with his rifle and walked toward the deputies, who at once demanded his surrender. Instead of complying, Dietz turned and ran toward the cabin. A hail of bullets followed him and he dropped to the ground. Then his son, Leslie, rushed to his side and loaded his father's rifle, following this by bringing his own gun into play. Supported by his son, the father, badly wounded, stood up and both fired at the deputies. The deputies answered with their own weapons and both Dietz and his son fell. Mrs. Dietz immediately rushed to their aid and the deputies allowed her to drag them back into the cabin.

The sheriff is planning to rush the cabin at sundown. He thinks it might be necessary to kill all of Dietz' family to get him. Four days ago the deputies ambushed Dietz and his daughter and in the melee Dietz got away unharmed, but the girl was mortally wounded.

Case is Four Years Old.

Dietz came into the limelight about four years ago when he defended Cameron dam, on Thornapple River, against one of the largest lumber companies in the state. He held that the dam was on his property and tied up several winters' cuts of logs, valued at thousands of dollars, by refusing to allow them to pass the dam without paying toll. He was fought in the courts by the lumber company, but defied the order of the judges and held off at the point of a gun all officers who attempted to serve papers on him.

Dietz won. The lumber company paid him a large sum and he allowed the logs to go through.

The sheriff deputized men from all over the state to make the arrest of Dietz and several were shot in attempting to do so. In one engagement Dietz' son was shot in the head, but recovered.

The latest controversy between Dietz and the authorities of Sawyer county dates from September 6, when Dietz shot and seriously wounded Bert Harrell, in Winter, Wis., in a wrangle, it is said, over rent due on a school house.

Dietz first quarreled with C. G. O'Hare, president of the Winter school board, it is said, and Harrell, taking O'Hare's part, struck Dietz. Dietz then shot and has claimed it was in self-defense.

Since the shooting Dietz has defied the sheriffs to serve a warrant on him.

The Governor yesterday, in an effort to induce Dietz to surrender, offered the outlaw's family immunity and agreed that Dietz should have a fair trial. Dietz held out for the dismissal of all the indictments against him except the one charging him with assault with intent to kill Harrell.

At the conclusion of the conference this afternoon Dietz predicted that he would be shot, but said he would die a martyr to his cause and family.

Pointing to the United States flag waving above the cabin, Dietz said:

"I'm going to stay right here after that is shot to rags. Shoot when you are ready.

Attackers Called Assassins.

"This is my home. I will die right here where I have lived and where we have all resisted repeated attempts at assassination. There floats the flag. I will die beneath it fighting for my rights like a good American.

"I never have harmed a man in my life, nor have I ever violated a law. I have defended myself and my family only.

"I will make my life cost dearly. I am here to sell it and am ready for the transaction. Let them begin shooting."

INJURED BRAKEMAN DIES.

Harry Jewett, the S. P. brakeman, injured at Sutherlin Thursday at midnight, died at Mercy Hospital Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock. The remains were shipped to Harrisburg, the family home, for burial. Coroner Jewett will probably hold an inquest to inquire into the details of the accident.

A PLEASANT SURPRISE.

A considerable number of the members of Roseburg Rebekah lodge very pleasantly surprised Mr. and Mrs. S. F. Cawlfield, at the home of Mr. Cawlfield's mother, on West Lane street Friday evening. Games, music and refreshments added to the enjoyment of the evening. A fine oak chair was presented to Mr. and Mrs. Cawlfield on behalf of the lodge, of which they are both active members.

Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Lewis, Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Milledge, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Bradford, Mr. and Mrs. H. O Lewis, Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Stephenson, Mr. and Mrs. O. J. Lindsey, Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Patrick, Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Cavender, Mr. and Mrs. Lincoln Wright; Mrs. Alda Dixon, Mrs. Williams, Mrs. Jackson, Mrs. Hoffman, Mrs. Hoffman, Mrs. Short, Mrs. Mary Lewis, Mrs. Ada Payton, Mrs. Rosena Patrick, Mrs. Viola Cockelrease, Miss Grace Buell, Miss Susie Lewis, Miss Mollie Brockway, Mr. Chas. Brockway.

'Death to Taft's Dogs" is Rioters' Cry—Commandant Threatens to Burn Almapa

Special to the Evening Review.

GUATEMALA CITY, Oct. 8.—Foreigners, who are able, are fleeing in terror from Almapa, Honduras, following the summary imprisonment of Americans and Englishmen and the seizure of the property by the city commandant. The foreigners are accused of fomenting a revolution.

The authorities are making no effort to prevent pillaging. The English consul at Almapa has fled to San Salvador and cabled to his government for a cruiser. The commandant, upon hearing of this, declared he would burn the city if a warship approached. All American interests are threatened. Refugees are appealing for protection.

"Death to Taft's dogs," is the cry in Almapa.

Uncle Sam Sends Cruiser.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8.—The gunboat Princeton was ordered today to proceed to Almapa, Honduras, without delay, to protect the lives and property of Americans. The Princeton, under forced draft, is now en route to Almapa from Acapulco, Mexico.

Indians Hasten Land Sale.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8.—The Government is forced to start bargain sales to dispose of 500,000 acres of land in Utah and Montana. These lands were taken from the Uintah and Crow Indians in 1905 under promise to pay the tribes when the lands were sold. Now the Indians are clamoring for the sale. Leading conservationists of the state are protesting against the proposed release of the lands by the Government. The first sale will be at Billings, Oct. 15, the second at Provo, Utah, Nov. 1. No individual sale of over one section will be made.

Roosevelt Spoke Briefly.

ROME, Ga., Oct. 8.—Colonel Roosevelt arrived here today and was greeted by a large crowd. He spoke briefly to school girls. He is saving his voice for a tour of Indiana. This afternoon he goes to Atlanta to be the guest o fthe Chamber of Commerce. Tonight he speaks at a negro church.

To Bury Times Victims.

LOOS ANGELES, Oct. 8.—The funerals of fourteen of the victims of The Times explosion will be held in the Auditorium tomorrow. Rev. Robt. Burdette, assisted by several other ministers, will preside at the service, which will be public. Arrangements have been made to seat 5000. The bodies will be interred in Hollywood cemetery in one plot.

TWO MORE INDICTMENTS RETURNED AGAINST WEISS.

Local Cold Storage Plant Operator Accused of Selling Liquor to Minor —Russell Caught.

Max Weiss, the local cold storage plant operator, faces two more indictments by the Douglas county grand jury. Following his indictment last Friday on the charge of selling beer to W. H. Newman, he was arraigned in court this afternoon on two additional charges, one alleging that he sold "intoxicating" liquor to a minor, the other alleging that he permitted a minor to loiter in a place "where intoxicating liquor is sold." In both of these cases the prosecuting witness is Fred Dillard, son of S. L. Dillard, a local druggist.

In the Newman case, Weiss this morning entered a plea of not guilty. In the other two cases he took until next Monday morning to plead. His attorneys are John T Long and W. W. Cardwell.

Two Negroes in Court.

Two negroes formerly employed here on the street paving work, were arraigned in court this morning. Bert Howe, indicted for slashing a fellow negro named Wilson with a knife, plead not guilty to a charge of assault with a dangerous weapon.

Ralph Russell, the paving company's janitor, who attempted to pass a forged check at Rice & Rice's store, took until Monday morning to plead to the indictment returned against him Friday evening. Attorney Geo. Jones will act as counsel for both negroes. Russell's attempt to pass the spurious check occurred last Monday. Immediately afterwards he hit himself somewhere in the city and on Thursday morning he started afoot on a journey southward. Somebody on an incoming passenger train reported his migration to Sheriff Fenton, and the officer, pursuing on horseback, overtook him at Greens, five miles from here, where Russell tried to secret himself behind a pile of railroad ties.

Others to Stand Trial.

Walter Leatherwood, indicted for assault and battery upon Matt Short, at Wilbur, entered a plea of not guilty Friday evening. His will be the first criminal case to be tried next week. Lowe's case is scheduled next. Number 3 will be the case of Ben Kennedy, of Camas Valley, who plead not guilty to an indictment returned last May, charging him with assault with a dangerous weapon. John T. Long will act as his attorney. Max Weiss' trial in the Newman case is listed in fourth place.

Minnesota Forest Fire Burns Baudette and Spooner

CORPSES STREW RAILROAD

Portugal Sounds Death Knell of all Religious Orders—Expelled Monks Shed Blood

Special to The Evening Review.

FORT WILLIAM, Ont., Oct. 8.—The towns of Baudette and Spooner, Minnesota, were destroyed last night by forest fires. A belated dispatch from Baudette, which had 1500 inhabitants, says.

"A number of lives have been lost and millions of dollars worth of property destroyed in this, the most disastrous fire in the history of Northern Minnesota."

Incoming Canadian Pacific trains report the right-of-way strewn with corpses, five of which were found within five miles of the city. The victims had endeavored to flee, but the flames overtook them.

It is feared that many settlers to the south have perished, as the fire swept over that part of the country.

Manuel Officially Banished; Monks Resist Expulsion.

LISBON, Oct. 8.—The Republic of Portugal today formally proclaimed an order of banishment against King Manuel, the Queen Mother Amelie and the Duke of Oporto. It is reported that Manuel tried to commit suicide when he heard of his exile, but was prevented by his mother. This occurred at the home of the English governor of Gibraltar.

President Braga today appealed to the outlying provinces to cease fighting for their hopeless cause—that of assisting the Royalists to regain control of the government. The republic will execute the Royalists and Clericals most active in their opposition to the new regime. A decree will be issued Sunday, it is reported, ordering all religious orders to vacate Portugal within 24 hours. All monasteries and convents will be officially closed and their contents confiscated. All land held by them will be preempted by the government. Many priests accused of sedition are under arrest and awaiting trial.

Monks Shed Their Blood.

Though the official order of expulsion by the government is one day off, its enforcement has already begun. Reports from different parts of the country tell of heavy loss of life accompanying the banishment. One report, from Quelpos Monastery, says that two regiments of republicans fought several hundred Monks, who barred the doors against them. After a bloody battle, the surviving Monks were permitted to depart, taking their dead and wounded with them.

President is Interesting.

The most interesting man in Portugal is the new president, Theophile Braga, who may be said without exaggeration to be the father, not only of this revolution, but of that in Brazil, having, by his standing as a professor of philosophy, paved the way for both movements.

His unassuming manners may be inferred from the fact that last night, after having been elected first president of Portugal, he returned, as usual, in a second-class compartment of the train to his unpretentious little home in the suburbs, quietly receiving the congratulations of the richest and humblest of his friends and deprecatingly acknowledging the frantic ovations of his fellow-passengers.

Braga today received the correspondent of the Press. He particularly desired it to be understood that the revolution had no military or personal aim, but like those in Brazil and Turkey, were purely the outcome of philosophical ideas.

SANITARY BARNS AND HOW TO BUILD THEM.

CORVALLIS, Ore., Oct. 7.—How to plan and build dairy barns that are both sanitary and convenient will be taught this year at the Oregon Agricultural College in a course in farm structures just introduced.

The students will learn how to design their own houses, barns, granarys, silos and other farm buildings; where to place them; how they should be constructed; and the cost of both materials and construction. An unusual feature of the instruction will be that which will aid students to draw plans in class for buildings, solving special problems of their own home farms, such as barns on hillsides or on low ground.

The various uses of concrete on the farm, with practical laboratory work in the making of concrete floors, walks and fence posts will be also a part of the students' instruction.

Problems in fencing, including the relative merit and cost of various sorts of materials and different designs will be an interesting part of the course, which will include as well a comparison of the efficiency of good and bad roads, and the methods of construction and maintenance of good roads in rural districts.

ROUSING COLLEGE PLAY AT ROSEBURG THEATRE.

"Classmates" is the name of the new play to be put on by the Bernell Stock Company for three nights beginning tomorrow. "Classmates" is a new departure for the Bernell players in that it is a college story with the students for the principal characters. Jim Graham, a big football player, becomes the victim of Cupid's dart when his room-mate, Ned, introduces him to Dora Winston. Ned himself is also in love with Dora, though he has already become entangled with Kate Blackmore, a poor girl, daughter of the landlady where Ned lives. The story works out to the tune of college yells, provoked by the sports of college life. There is no end of good comedy which will be in the hands of nearly every character in the cast.
