ABOUT GOOD SHOES.

(By R. L. Stephens, the Shoe Man)

Consider for a moment that everybody wears shoes in some shape or style, their whole life through; then consider next the life of a shoe—is it better to invest $6 for one pair or the same amount for three pairs? You all like new shoes, but most people don't like breaking-in a new shoe, so it is invariably the best and most satisfactory plan to get one good pair instead of 3 for the money invested. There is more satisfaction.

REBELS SURRENDER

Honduran Government Recovers Port of Amapala

NICARAGUA IS TURBULENT

Tolstoi Discovered In Monastery and Wife Starts After Him—Mind May Be Affected

Special to the Evening Review.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.—The State Department this afternoon confirmed the report that Commandante Villadares of Amapala had telegraphed to President Davilla of Honduras surrendering the port which he has held for weeks. It is also announced that Valladares appealed for protection of the U. S. gunboat Yorktown and that he is now guarded by American marines. Further disturbances are unlikely. The rebels surrendered after all but a hundred men had deserted.

Estrada's Troubles Begin.

COLON, Panama, Nov. 14.—Many persons were killed and scores of others wounded when troops acting under directions of the Nicaraguan government, used machine guns to disperse mobs at Corinto and Leon that had gathered to protest against President Estrada for not instituting promised reforms. Another revolution is imminent. Several clashes in other cities are reported.

Mexicans Are Quieter.

EL PASO, Texas, Nov. 14.—Reports from the Mexican interior indicate that the anti-American feeling is quieting down. Sunday crowds made no demonstrations. Mexico City is reported practically normal today, though troops are still patrolling the streets. Americans remaining in these sections yesterday kept their windows barred.

The last serious outbreak occurred last Saturday night at Guadalajara, when Carlos B. Carothers, a real estate dealer, shot and killed Jesus Loza, a 14-year-old Mexican, and wounded Prudencio Chavez, a gendarme, in defending his home against an attack by Mexicans. Quick action of the police and soldiers saved Carothers from mob violence. Damage by the mob amounted to $15,000, and residences of several Americans were damaged.

Tolstoi Located.

ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 14.—All doubt that Count Tolstoi contemplated flight was settled today by one of his daughters, who said he had arranged his affairs as though he intended being regarded as among the dead. Countess Tolstoi is en route to a monastery in an endeavor to induce Tolstoi to return home. Reports that Tolstoi had become reconciled to the Greek church, which excommunicated him after he published The Resurrection, are not verified.

Countess Tolstoi twice attempted to commit suicide through grief over her husband's disappearance on October 10.

"I can no longer continue to live a life surrounded by luxury," he wrote to his wife, "and like many other old men I am going to retire from the world. I contemplate a life of solitude and ask that you do not seek my place of sojourn or come to it if it is discovered. I beg forgiveness for any grief I may cause you."

Many believe that the mind of the aged novelist is unbalanced. Tolstoi for a long time has been wrecked by illness. For more than a year he has remained at his home, 70 miles from St. Petersburg, refusing to see any but a very few callers. A great deal of that time he has been confined to his bed by illness and it was rumored months ago that his mind was affected.

W. E. BODGE DIES OF INJURY AT MEDFORD.

Special to the Evening Review.

MEDFORD, Or., Nov. 14.—W. E. Bodge died at 1.30 o'clock this afternoon.

Word received here this morning was to the effect that Warren E. Bodge, a former tailor of Roseburg, was dying in that city of an injury sustained during a fire there last Saturday evening. He was riding to the fire in a chemical wagon drawn by a team of horses that got beyond the driver's control and dashed into a telegraph pole. Mr. Bodge was thrown onto the cement sidewalk with heavy force. Apparently unhurt, he got up and began walking away when he suddenly collapsed and became unconscious. A blood clot had formed in his brain. At a late hour this afternoon he was reported to be sinking rapidly.

Mr. Bodge is married, his wife being a daughter of W. W. Elffert, a Medford tailor. He was a member of four different lodges of this city, Elks, Odd Fellows, Eagles and Knights of Pythias. He is about 27 years of age. His sister, Miss Rose Bodge, was killed a few months ago in a runaway in the Yellowstone National Park.

Berger Opposes Gompers at Congress of Labor—National Apple Show Opened

Special to the Evening Review.

PARIS, Nov. 14.—Rain which began last night continues to fall, and fears for the safety of villages along the Seine are expressed. The river has already reached the high water mark and a number of streets are overflowed. The poor in Eastern Paris are fleeing, fearing a repetition of last year's floods. Possibly several factories will be closed, throwing thousands out of work.

2,000,000 Apples on Exhibition.

SPOKANE, Wash., Nov. 14.—The Third National Apple Show was formally opened this morning. Practically every commercial orchard district in Washington, Oregon, Idaho, Montana and the province of British Columbia is represented in the numerous competitions for prizes and premiums of $20,000, and in addition there are displays from California and other states.

The telegraphic message from President Taft, extending greetings to the growers represented and the management of the show, was the signal to "open the gates," and immediately after its arrival, which was heralded by the blowing of factory and locomotive whistles and the ringing of bells in all parts of the city, the first "Live Wire" convention in the Northwest was called to order. More than 125 commercial organizations were represented by one or more delegates.

The delegates were the first to view the displays, composed of 30 cars of apples, including 19 straight cars, entered in competition in their classes and eligible in the sweepstake contests for the chief prize of $1,000 and the world's championship. There are 36 district displays, representing Washington, Oregon, Idaho, Montana, California and British Columbia, more than 300 entries in the box contests and about 2000 entries on plates. It is estimated there are fully 2,000,000 apples on exhibition.

FORMER ROSEBURG MAN KILLS HIS WIFE'S LOVER.

R. E. (Slim) Ellison Finds Another in His Home and Shoots Him—Given His Liberty.

Special to the Evening Review.

ASHLAND, Or., Nov. 14.—R. E. Ellison, a freight conductor, killed a man named Wayne at Klamath Falls last Saturday night. Ellison's wife was the cause of the tragedy, and the circumstances are of a scandalous nature. Wayne was employed in the commissary department of railroad construction at Klamath Falls, where the Ellisons resided.

The shooting took place at Ellison's home, Ellison arriving unexpectedly and discovering Wayne in a bedroom. Wayne attempted to make his escape through a window, but Ellison was quicker with his gun.

Ellison is at liberty on his recognizance, pending the completion of an investigation by the authorities. Public sentiment seems to be with him.

Ellison once worked out of Roseburg as a brakeman, leaving here eight years ago. He is familiarly known among the railroad men as "Slim."

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Siegel returned this morning from a pleasure trip to St. Louis, Mo.
