FAIR BIG SUCCESS

Melrose Grangers Appreciate Assistance Given

BENEFITS ARE RECOGNIZED

Complete List of Premium Winners In Exhibits of Agriculture And Poultry

(Written for The Review by Fred A. Goff).

The success of the Melrose fair went far beyond the expectations of the management. We cannot see each one individually and thank you personally, so if you gave any assistance to this event we ask you to consider that you have the deepest gratitude of the Melrose fair board, Melrose Grange and the residents of Melrose.

We feel that our fair was a success in more ways than one. But the one we consider foremost is the bringing of the people into a closer relation.

The list of prizes awarded below shows you where they came from. The visitors from Roseburg on Thursday show you who your friends are, for they must be interested in your success or they would not have closed their places of business to come. We earnestly invite you to come again.

To the O. A. C. instructors we cannot be liberal enough in our thanks. Prof. Stockwell, on livestock and dairying; Prof. Krause, on horticulture; Prof. Lunn, on poultry, and last but not least, Mrs. Colvin, on domestic science, aided us greatly by their lectures and by judging our exhibits for us. Their work here will greatly improve the conditions in more than one home, or farm.

Among those who deserve thanks for cash donations are the Melrose Orchard Co., $20, and the Southern Oregon Orchard Co., $25. This money was distributed for prizes.

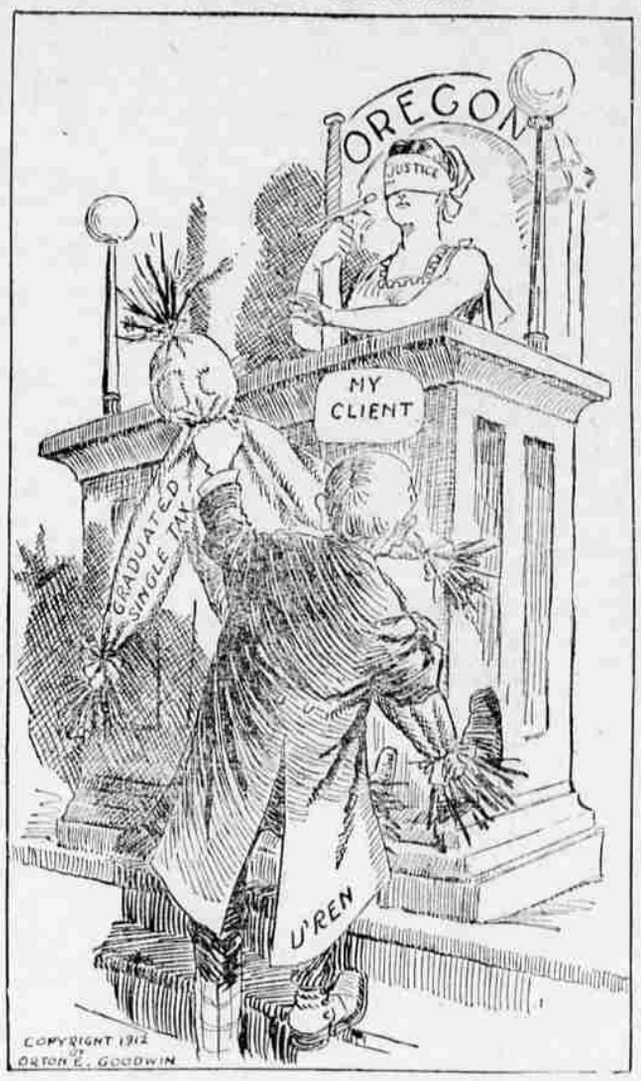
INSPECTOR MADE THE GOAT FOR THE HIGHER-UPS.

NEW YORK, Sept. 14.—Police Commissioner Waldo's action in reducing Cornelius C. Hayes from inspector of police to captaincy for failure to said disorderly resorts in his district was upheld here today, when Hayes was dismissed from the service for making false statements. A deputy police commissioner presided at the hearing. He ruled that Hayes had not proved the charges made against Waldo. The order suspending him was made permanent.

AN INSULT TO JUSTICE



CONTEST FOR SPRECKELS COIN RENEWED BY HEIRS.

(Special to the Evening Review).

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 14.—The contest over the millions of old Claus Spreckels, the sugar king, was reopened today before Judge Sewell.

The two brothers, Augustus and Rudolph Spreckels, and their sister, Emma, are trying to prove that in his lifetime Claus Sprockels gave to John D. and Adolph more than half of his large estate, which they say he had no right to do, as it belonged to his wife.

The accounts of the sugar company date from June, 1898, and fill a large dray.

GENERAL NEWS.

All 33 so-called Cunningham Alaska coal land claims, involving alleged fraudulent blanket patents which contributed to the Ballinger-Pinchot controversy, have been disposed of finally by the Interior Department. The appeals have been adversely decided and Secretary Fisher has directed the immediate execution of the decision of Commissioner Dennett, of the General Land Office, who held that the claims were improperly allowed and that the entries should be canceled.

The Grand Army of the Republic, in National encampment at Los Angeles this week, elected Judge Alfred B. Beers, of Bridgeport, Conn., Commander-in-Chief.

OREGON NEWS.

Edward Tubbs, a cornet player in Arnold's Carnival band, who was run over by a street car in Albany two years ago and later sued the car company for $75,000, has compromised for $17,000 cash. Both his legs were broken and one was afterwards amputated.

The Port of Coos Bay Commissioners have passed a resolution to offer $150,000 to the Government to help pay for the rebuilding of the jetty so as to have from 20 to 40 feet of water on the bar, provided that Congress appropriates a sum sufficient to carry out the work. A resolution was also passed to offer $50,000 under similar conditions for the improvement of the channel of the inner harbor. The commissioners will at once take steps to raise money on a bond issue.

A series of thefts committed in many states and totaling thousands of dollars is believed by the authorities to have been brought to an end by the arrest this week at Woodburn of Kent R. Cochran, temporary station agent of the Southern Pacific Company at that place. A handkerchief found in a package returned to a San Francisco firm minus the merchandise shipped C. O. D. to Knights Landing, Cal., led to Cochran's apprehension.

TO CLEAR BORDER

United States Troops Ordered to go Into Mexico

REBEL FORAYS ANGER U. S.

Plans For Invasion of Mexican Capital Completed at Washington—Big Battle in Progress

(Special to the Evening Review).

WASHINGTON, Sept. 14.—Permission to cross the border and drive the Mexican rebels from close proximity to the American line was given the United States forces in Texas in a telegram sent to El Paso today by General Leonard Wood, chief of staff of the United States Army. Colonel Steever, at El Paso, is incensed over the depredations of Mexican rebels in their forays across the border to assist in patrolling the three border states.

It has leaked out that the War Department has complete plans to raise the American flag over the City of Mexico within two months from the time the President gives the order for a movement of troops across the Rio Grande. It is figured by the minutest sort of calculation that two months would be all the time required to drive an army across Mexico and capture the capital.

It develops that detailed plans of the most elaborate and complete character have been perfected for the subjugation of Mexico. The plans include both land and sea operations, though it is obvious that the most important movement would be by the land forces.

REBELS INTERCEPT FEDERAL REINFORCEMENTS.

DOUGLAS, Ariz., Sept. 14.—A federal force of 300 men are locked in a desperate engagement with rebels 15 miles south of the Arizona border, according to a federal messenger who arrived shortly before noon, after a terrible ride across the desert for reinforcements.

It is believed the rebels engaged in the fight are part of Col. Rojas' forces, and that the federal troops are those sent from other garrisons to relieve Tigre.

HISS MADERO, CHEER DIAZ IN MEXICAN CAPITAL.

MEXICO CITY, Sept. 14.—The name of Madero was hissed here today in the chamber of deputies and that of Diaz was cheered by a crowd that packed the galleries. It the streets later disapproval of the president loudly was voiced by throngs who watched the chief executive pass in his carriage. The same throngs called hearty vivas for the deposed Diaz.

LOVE LETTERS LEAD TO ARREST OF ALLEN GANG LEADER.

DES MOINES, Iowa, Sept. 14.—Love for his mountain sweetheart in Virginia led today to the capture of Sidna Allen, leader of the notorious Allen clan of bandits who shot up the court house at Hillsville, Va., killing the Judge, Sheriff and several others. Allen surrendered without astruggle. His arrest was brought about through intercepton of letters he had written to the young woman in Virginia. The letters were filled with endearments, and stated that Allen was working with a construction company near Des Moines.

WYTHESVILLE, Va., Sept. 13.—Victor Allen, last of the Allen clansmen to be tried, was acquitted today on the charge of participation in the Carroll County court house murders at Hillsville last March. Two other members of the gang, previously convicted, were sentenced to die in the electric chair on November 22.

Miss Mary Ackley, of Waterloo, Iowa, who has been spending the summer with her cousin, Mrs. Wayne Drollinger, left this morning for Grants Pass for a short visit, after which she will go to Los Angeles to spend the winter.

An epidemic of liver fluke, or leach, as it is commonly called, among Louis Pankey's sheep on the Joseph Thornton ranch at Oak Creek called Dr. R. E. Hunt, the veterinary, to that place this week. Forty head have died since the disease attacked the band. Sheep become infected in swampy places, to where they roam in search of green feed to give proper nourishment to their system. Veterinary science knows of no medicine that will kill the parasite, which resembles the tubercular germ, but swift and effective eradication is obtained by moving the sheep to a place where they may have plenty of green feed. Dr. Hunt states that the disease is prevalent in several localities in Douglas County at the present time. Complete information as to the handling of sheep thus afflicted will be furnished upon application to him.

NET OF EVIDENCE CLOSES ON LOUNSBERRY AND WIFE.

Suspected Yoncalla Train Robber Alleged to Have Planned Job in Grants Pass.

Medford Sun: What Lounsberry did in Grants Pass before and after the Yoncalla train robbery, and who was his partner, will be an important development in the investigation of the Federal authorities. A room in a Grants Pass lodging house will be the revolving place in the investigation. There clothes were changed, plans made, and other developments, now not generally known, given light. Incidentally, not half the developments of that day have been told.

It was never intended for public ears that Mrs. Lounsberry had been partially recognized upon the streets of Grants Pass clothed in male garb. The "leak" is believed by Federal and police authorities to have changed the plans of Mrs. Lounsberry to return to Medford with her two boys. There was quite an exchange of words at the meeting, which recent developments have made of importance.

The Federal authorities and the local police have never got away from the idea that Lounsberry had an assistant in both the Redding and Topeka robberies, on the ground that it would be impossible for a man to leave and enter a train without the help of someone, and not attract the attention of someone.

The whereabouts of Mrs. Lounsberry is still a mystery. A telegram from Topeka says she left that city on schedule. She may be with relatives in Montana or Minnesota. In the meantime the home ranch is going to ruin, the crops unattended to, with kindly neighbors helping all they can to keep things in order.

EXPRESS COMPANIES WILL NOT OBEY GOVERNOR WEST.

PORTLAND, Or., Sept. 14.—All express companies operating out of Portland and into dry territory declared this morning they had received no notice from Governor West to stop sending liquor into the arid zones, and, even if they did, they would continue shipping the stuff just the same, so long as the laws did not prevent it. This applies to the American, the Great Northern, the Northern and the Wells-Fargo express companies, each of which has been advised by legal counsel that there is no discretion in the matter, liooze must be accepted for shipment when offered, no matter what the destination nor to whom forwarded.

The instructions further were that if Governor West or any of his agents undertook to seize and destroy packages of liquor in dry or any other territory while in the possession of the express company, the state of Oregon was immediately and directly liable for damages and suits would be instituted against the Governor.

So far as the express companies are concerned, it doesn't matter whether Governor West sends out notices to stop shipping liquor into the desert places; it will have no effect on the handling of the thirst-quenching packages.

CREDITS HIMSELF

Roosevelt Tells Reno Audience What a Power He Was

CERTAIN LAWS NEEDED HIM

Proclamation and Pure Food Acts Due to His Magical Presence in Presidential Chair

(Special to the Evening Review).

RENO, Nev., Sept. 14.—Theodore Roosevelt today struck at those he said were wrongly claiming the credit for the irrigation and pure food laws. He said there was no chance to pass either the reclamation act or the pure food law until he became President. He said he made them administration measures.

"I had lived in this country," said Roosevelt; "I knew its needs. It was about time the country had a President who knew the difference between dry farming and an irrigation ditch, one to whom alfalfa has no mystical sound."

Continuing, Roosevelt outlined the Progressive policy of developing land for the actual settler and homemaker, who himself tills his own soil. Roosevelt received an enthusiastic reception here. He began his remarks with a eulogy of Hiram Johnson, his running mate.

"Johnson's record in California," said the Colonel, "is almost a statement of what we want to apply to the Nation at large."

WOODROW WILSON LEAVES FOR THE WEST SUNDAY.

SEAGIRT, N. J., Sept. 14.—Woodrow Wilson will start West tomorrow in a private car. He will be accompanied by a secretary, two stenographers and eight correspondents. His first stop will be made at Columbus, Ohio, where he is due to arrive Monday morning.

STORM SWEEPS TWO SOUTHERN STATES; STEAMER SUNK.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 14.—Alabama and Florida were hard hit by flood storms, driven by a heavy gale, according to an announcement posted at the Weather Bureau here today. At Mobile one and one half inches of rain fell, flooding the lower wharves. Wires are down. Reports from Pensacola, Florida, say the river steamer National was buffeted by a 75-mile gale and sank.

The summer suspension of services at St. George's Episcopal Church in Roseburg ended this week, and regular services will be resumed tomorrow, Sunday, September 15.
