SUNDAY AT THE CHURCHES.

Methodist Episcopal, Rev. Alexander Maclean, pastor.—Let the public take notice that all our services will be held in the armory, corner of Lane and Jackson streets. There are two large stoves available, and we have demonstrated that the armory can be made as cozy and comfortable as any building in Roseburg. Sunday school opens promptly at 9:45, not at 10, as heretofore. James E. McClintock is the superintendent. The preaching hours will be 11 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. Epworth League at 6:30, subject, "Unto you a Savior—the Christmas Meaning." The pastor's morning theme will be, "The Sweetest Carol Ever Sung," and in the evening the subject will be "The Incarnation of Christ." The armory accommodates more people than any other auditorium in the city, and we extend a hearty welcome to all classes of people. We will make you thoroughly at home, and we have only time for the discussion of the great living questions of the Kingdom.

MacAllister.—Worship at 11 a. m., theme, "The Angels' Announcement of the Birth of Jesus to the Shepherds of Bethlehem and the Song of the Heavenly Host: Glory to God in the Highest and on Earth Peace and Good Will to Men." At the morning service the sermon will be on "The Song of the Angels." The procession will be "Serenata," by Mazowski, and for the offertory Miss King will play the Intermezzo Cavallieri from Rusticana. The choir will sing Hadley's famous "The Heavens Are Telling."

The Southern Pacific Railroad Co. has issued a splendid booklet entitled "Poultry Profits in Western Oregon." It is beautifully illustrated with poultry scenes in the Willamette, Umpqua and Rogue River valleys, while the reading matter is made up of all those things which every poultry grower ought to know. It treats of climatic conditions best suited to this industry; foods necessary; markets, and where the profits are to be made. Station Agent Moore will have a supply of these booklets for free distribution in a few days.

Portland Telegram: Seeing A. Young, an aged derelict, trying to pry his way into a neighbor's home yesterday, Mrs. Charles Baksey, wife of Patrolman Baksey, better known as Strangler Smith, a wrestler of ability, grappled with the man as he left her house, and held him until her husband responded to her calls for aid. It is supposed that Young planned to burglarize Baksey's home in a spirit of revenge, but mistook the house of a neighbor for that of his Nemesis. Baksey has arrested Young for drunkenness in the North End on several occasions, and Young has repeatedly threatened to get even.
