

EVENTING ROSEBURG REVIEW

MARCH 21, 1913.

WE ARE HERE AND HERE TO STAY.

And in order to stay and make an honest living and enjoy the confidence of the people, we guarantee to give you the best shoemaking, both in new work and remaking ever given in Oregon. Shoemaking is no guess with us, we learned the trade from start to finish and have worked at it nearly 50 years. It will pay you to bring your work to us and be benefited by our long years of experience. Work done day and night.

ANNUAL HIGH JINKS AT THE COMMERCIAL CLUB ON MARCH 28

The second annual High Jinks of the Roseburg Commercial Club will be held in the club rooms Friday evening, March 28th. The invitations, which will be out soon, are now and are a laugh in themselves. This is going to be a get-together meeting, so leave your grouches at home and come prepared to have a royal good time. These High Jinks are strictly informal, and anyone appearing in a dress suit will be severely dealt with by the committee. The members of the committee have been in training for several days, in order to be in physical trim to deal with anyone violating this rule, or any person who brings the dog or comes armed. The committee has also appointed several burly deputies to go and get those who have been invited and do not appear. So unless you can furnish an affidavit showing a valid excuse, you had better prepare to come. The committee wants to give everyone fair warning in this respect and far enough in advance of the date so you can make your plans accordingly. Refreshments will be served during the evening, and an orchestra has been engaged to furnish music. Forewarned is forearmed. Be there. Something doing every minute.

ABANDONED INFANTS.

The "Baby Post" Once Did a Rushing Business in England.

There once flourished in England a regular "baby post," the rates of postage being fixed on a strictly business basis, according to distances traversed. The curious institution came into existence in connection with the founding hospital in Guildford street. When this charity was first established it was understood that its operations would be confined to London and its environs. But the people of the country towns and villages heard of it and showed a decided disposition to share in its advantages; hence the "baby post."

All over the country there were men and women who entered vigorously into the business of carrying children to London and depositing them at the gates of the founding hospital. The charge was 8 guineas from distant localities like York and Monmouth, down to a guinea from places situated within thirty to fifty miles of the metropolis. The unfortunate infants were borne on horseback in panniers, two to each pannier, or in wagons lined with straw, for which the charge was somewhat less.

Naturally abuses grew up in connection with the traffic. But, even apart from them, the mortality among the "posted" babies was terrible. Thus, out of 14,531 received at the hospital in four years, only 4,400 lived to be "apprenticed out," being a mortality of more than 70 per cent.

Eventually parliament passed a measure abolishing the practice, and the "baby post" ceased.—London Answers.

When Buttons Were Unknown.

How did the world manage for centuries without buttons? In early ages they were unknown. The voluminous garments of oriental races are still attached to their wearers by means of straps, as were those of the Greeks and Romans. The Normans were responsible for the invention. The etymology of the word points to the derivation of the idea. Bout, an end or extremity, and button, to push, show that the button was originally a push piece, like the buttons of our modern electric bells. The Normans probably conceived the idea from the rough knots of their furniture, on which most likely they hung their garments. Once introduced, buttons came rapidly into common use.

The Old Man's Hint.

Mother (at 11:30 p. m.):—What's the matter, John? You look disturbed.
Father:—I thought I'd give that young man calling on our daughter a vigorous hint it was time to go, so I walked right into the parlor and deliberately turned out the gas.
Mother:—Oh, my! And did he get angry?
Father:—Angry? The young Jackanapes said "Thank you!"—Boston Transcript.

The Cause of Rheumatism.

Stomach trouble, lazy liver and deranged kidneys are the cause of rheumatism. Get your stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels in healthy condition by taking Electric Bitters, and you will not be troubled with the pains of rheumatism. Charles H. Allen, a school principal, of Sylvania, Ga., who suffered indescribable torture from rheumatism, liver and stomach trouble and diseased kidneys, writes: "All remedies failed until I used Electric Bitters, but four bottles of this wonderful remedy cured me completely." Maybe your rheumatic pains come from stomach, liver and kidney troubles. Electric Bitters will give you prompt relief. 50c and $1.00. Recommended by all druggists.

LYCEUM TICKET HOLDERS.

We are happy to announce that we will have the Ernest Gamble Concert Company for our last number, Wednesday, March 26. The Lyceum committee of Eugene has also accepted the Gamble Co. instead of the Whitney Company. This will make seven times that this celebrated company has appeared in Eugene. We hope our friends will help us to fill the armory next Wednesday night and the Gamble Company will do their part.
