

OREGON HUSBANDS WHO NEGLECT FAMILIES ARE DUE FOR IMPRISONMENT.

SALEM, Ore., April 29.—Among the laws that will go into effect on the third of June is one that is likely to make shiftless or neglectful husbands sit up and take notice. It provides that "any person who, without just or sufficient cause, shall fail or neglect to support his wife or children, shall be deemed guilty of a felony and shall be punished therefor by confinement in the state prison for not less than one year nor more than three years, or by imprisonment in the county jail for not less than 30 days nor more than one year."

While such a husband is in prison the law provides that the County Court shall pay to his wife the sum of $1 a day and 25 cents additional for each child, but that not more than $1.75 a day is to be paid to any one wife.

The widows' pension bill also provides that a mother shall receive support for her children when her husband is an inmate of some Oregon institution, but it has been pointed out by Governor West that the laws do not conflict, as the wife whose husband was sent to the penitentiary for non-support would draw pay under the non-support act, which will allow her more than the pension act.
