MYRTLE CREEK NEWS.

Word has reached here that A. Fenton, a former Myrtle Creek business man, died recently in a hospital at Albany.

C. O. White was attacked with heart failure Tuesday evening, and for several hours was in a critical condition. But he has recovered and is about his usual duties.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Thompson have sold their ten-acre farm on the North Myrtle road, which they but recently secured from C. E. McClain. The purchasers are Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Boyles, lately of Prineville, Oregon. The deal was made through D. C. Fitzer, Thursday.

J. H. Harris is short six shovels by reason of their wandering out of their inclosure to the railroad track, where their remains were found scattered along the right of way Monday. At the price pork is retelling in the local market, this loss is little short of a financial panic.

The spelling contest at Riddle Saturday resulting in a victory for the Glendale school in number of points made, placing it at the head of the list with 44 points to 49 each for Myrtle Creek and Riddle as final totals for the three contests.

C. Luddington, one of our old and respected citizens, died at the home of T. N. Humphreys in Missouri Bottom, Monday morning, evidently from heart failure. He appeared in usual health on the night prior to his death, and complained of feeling ill only a short time before death struck him. The funeral was held from the local Baptist Church at 11 a. m. Tuesday. Pastor Bowers preaching the funeral sermon. The remains were laid to rest in the Odd Fellows cemetery. The Mail.

Pains in the Stomach.

Thousands recommended Electric Bitters as the very best stomach and kidney medicine made. H. T. Alston, of Raleigh, N. C., who suffered with pain in the stomach and back, writes: "My kidneys were deranged and my liver did not work right. I suffered much, but Electric Bitters was recommended and I improved from my first dose. I now feel like a new man." It will improve you, too. Only 50c and $1.00. Recommended by all druggists.

WHY FAMOUS PASTRY COOKS USE K C BAKING POWDER

The patrons of our first class hotels and restaurants are exacting—they demand the best. Women go where the pastry and cakes are noted for their excellence. Men are attracted by hot bread and biscuits—when fresh and moist and light.

The pastry cook with a reputation uses K C Baking Powder because he knows that results are certain; every time everything is as good as his best.

Then, too, with K C Baking Powder he can mix the various kinds of batter before the rush of the meal begins and bake as needed so that every order goes to the table fresh and hot, yet the last he bakes are just as good as the first.

The reasons behind these reasons, is that K C is really a blend of two baking powders. One commences to give off leavening gas as soon as moistened. The other requires both moisture and heat to make it active. Dough or batter will remain in a partially leavened condition for hours, and when put in the oven, will come up as light as if mixed a moment before.

For cookies, pancakes, doughnuts and the like, which cannot all be baked at once, K C is indispensable. For all baking the double raise makes doubly certain.

Follow the example of the professional cook and your baking will be equal to his.

CITY IS KILLING WEEDS BY A TAX.

Los Angeles' Novel Experiment in Civic Betterment a Success.

Los Angeles, Cal., is embarked on the novel experiment of taxing its weeds out of existence, and the experiment has aroused so much interest among those who study municipal affairs all over the country that it is the subject of a special report by Ethel Cleland to the National Municipal League.

"Twice a year, in August and April," she says, "in accordance with an ordinance of July, 1912, owners, agents and persons in possession of property must remove from their sidewalks, property, lands and lots all noxious weeds and vegetation except such as are cultivated for use, ornament, food or fuel, all dead trees, tin cans, rubbish, refuse and waste material of all kinds which may endanger or injure neighboring property or the health welfare of the residents of the vicinity; otherwise the board of public works will remove all or any of these detrimental to civic beauty and hygiene and to insure payment for their removal and collection assess the cost, together with 25 per cent thereon to be added to cover interest, upon the property."

"This assessment is known as a weed tax. All weed taxes unpaid on the last Monday of November of each year become delinquent, and 10 per cent is added to the amount of the tax when thus delinquent, and a delinquent list, with an accompanying alphabetical index of names, is published once a week for three successive weeks in a Los Angeles paper, with a notice appended declaring that unless these taxes are paid in twenty-eight days from the date of the appearance of the first notice the property on which they are assessed will be sold to the city. As costs of such publication 50 cents is collected on each separate piece of land separately assessed."

"All property delinquent on which the weed taxes and ensuing penalties have not been paid on the day fixed in the published notice is sold to the city, and if not redeemed within a year a deed is drawn up conveying to the city the absolute title to the property."

To redeem the property within the year after it is sold to the city the owner pays the weed taxes, penalties and costs, also the sum and interest on the same at the rate of 7 per cent, all unpaid weed taxes assessed since the sale and also certain penalties, varying with the time after the sale such payments are made."

WOMEN'S WORK FOR THE SOCIAL CENTER.

Making the public schoolhouse the civic home of the neighborhood. What more appropriate task could engage the energies of American womanhood?

RURAL SCHOOL INTEREST.

Much Can Be Done For Their Material Improvement.

Greater public interest in the rural schools, their consolidation where practicable and the enrichment of courses of study will bring about an improvement in the material environment of these schools. Substantial, well arranged well heated and well ventilated schoolhouses will be the rule rather than the exception.

The grounds about the schoolhouse will be laid out so as to provide suitable playgrounds and shady nooks for out of door study and instruction. To stimulate interest in the planting of trees about country schoolhouses the department of agriculture has recently issued a farmers' bulletin on this subject. C. Where circumstances will permit school grounds will be maintained. These need not be large nor elaborate, but may easily be so managed as to furnish such material for instruction and an opportunity for the children to learn by doing things themselves. Such gardens are now successfully maintained about country schools in some places in this country and more commonly in certain parts of Europe.

There will also be collections of weeds, dried plants, soils, minerals, insects and other natural objects, not as curiosities, but as direct aids to instruction. Already much has been accomplished in some states in providing the country schools with useful libraries. In Wisconsin and California all the school districts have libraries, and in Connecticut, Minnesota, New York, Indiana and Illinois much progress has been made in this direction. The public libraries are being closely connected with the public schools. In Massachusetts, for example, nearly every township has a public library to which the school children and their teachers have access.
