STRAWBERRIES SAME
AS GOLD NUGGETS IN SOUTHERN MISSOURI.

In the current issue of Farm and Fireside appears an interesting account of the production of strawberries in Southern Missouri. In that part of the country, the business has been developed to a point where the producers are making a great success, owing in part to the excellent marketing facilities provided by the

Strawberry Association

Following is an extract from the article:

Throughout the world the strawberry is one of the most valuable and profitable crops. The average acre yields a gross return of from $200 to $300 per acre. A man with a small acre and good soil may make from his $200 per acre crop as the net of production is not at all important in the case of the berry crop. There is a number of methods of growing strawberries and one of the most successful is the method of growing them in a covered bed. This method is especially adapted to the production of a high quality crop of strawberries in a short season. The strawberries grown in this way are of a superior quality and are
market.
