REVIEW EVENING ROSEBURG

JUNE 21, 1913.

OAKLAND NEWS.

Ray Clayton was in from Tyee Monday with a load of wool and 75 dozen eggs.

Monday afternoon C. L. Chenoweth was elected director, and H. M. Stephens clerk, of the Oakland school district.

Monday morning Cummings & Parsons paid a fine of $25 and costs in the recorder's court for disposing of liquor after closing hours.

G. W. Cooper, of Green Valley, has purchased a new engine and thresher from the Rumely-Olds people. The sale was made by E. E. Leas.

Z. L. Dimmick came in from the farm Monday, slightly indisposed. At this writing he is recovering nicely at the home of Commissioner Pinkston.

Arrangements have been perfected for a real lively celebration. Oakland will do her part and asks the hearty co-operation of all neighboring localities.

Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Chenoweth returned from Portland the first of the week, accompanied by their daughter, Miss Ruth, who has been attending school the past six months.

Mrs. Mary Beckley, Jesse Beckley and Mrs. Orville Mattoon passed through the city Wednesday on their way to Klamath Falls. They will make their entire trip by auto.

A. C. Leabo has gathered and sold to local dealers 70 crates of strawberries. He could have sold twice this amount at home. Next year he will increase the acreage.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Cochran, of Medford, were called to Missoula, Montana, last Saturday to see their son, Percy, who was operated upon for appendicitis. At last reports he was improving nicely.

W. T. Emery writes from Woodman, Colorado, that he is not taking any medicine, but is gaining strength every day. Mr. Emery is well pleased with this popular health resort. He says over 800 patients have been sent home completely cured. Many friends patiently await his return to the old home in Coles Valley.

A fish and game association was organized Tuesday evening in this city. Dr. Gilmour was temporary chairman and H. M. Stephens secretary; Dr. Wainscott, Dr. Stevenson and J. T. Bridges, committee on by-laws. The coming week a carload of trout will arrive from the state hatcheries, and the local fishermen will be busy distributing the young fish in the neighboring streams.—The Advance.

Whooping Cough.

"I have used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy ever since I have been keeping house and I consider it one of the best medicines I have ever used. My children have all used it and it works like a charm for colds and whooping cough. In fact I consider it good for any kind of a throat or lung trouble, and do not think any household complete without it," writes L. C. Haines, of Marbury, Ala. You will look a good while before you find a better preparation than Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for colds and whooping cough in children. It contains no narcotic and is pleasant to take. For sale by all dealers. C

DRAIN NEWS.

The teachers for the fall term have been chosen, and are as follows: Principal, G. M. Sprague; vice-principal, W. C. Lea (H. S.); H. S. teacher, Miss Mable Wilson, Roseburg; 7th and 8th grades, Miss Minnie Hickethier; 5th and 6th grades, Harry Brookhardt; 3rd and 4th grades and domestic science in all grades, Miss Lucile McCullan, of Underwood, N. D.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. John S. Masten, at Houlton, was the scene of a beautiful wedding ceremony Wednesday afternoon, June 11th, when Miss Eva L. Masten became the bride of Benjamin W. Perkins. A variety of beautiful roses with dainty ferns combined in effective floral display furnished an attractive setting for the service. Rev. W. A. M. Brock of the Episcopal Church officiated. Mr. Perkins is a young lumberman, holding a responsible position with the St. Helens Timber Company.

After the wedding luncheon, Mr. Perkins and his bride left on the afternoon train for Portland and Brain, Oregon, where they will spend the honeymoon. On their return they will take up residence at St. Helens. Timber Company camp.—Nonpareil.

Best Laxative for the Aged.

Old men and women feel the need of a laxative more than young folks, but it must be safe and harmless and one which will not cause pain. Dr. King's New Life Pills are especially good for the aged; for they act promptly and easily. Price 25c. Recommended by all druggists. B

TEXAS CITY HAS PLANS FOR CIVIC DEVELOPMENT.

Improvements to Consist of Street, Sewer and Water Main Extensions.

The city plan committee of the San Antonio (Tex.) chamber of commerce is having prepared at an expenditure of several thousand dollars a comprehensive and modern city plan, which will care for the future development and growth of the city for a period of fifty years after it has been completed and the first steps taken to put it into effect. This plan is being made by a force of experts under the direction of Myron H. West, city planner and builder, of Chicago.

In order to put this plan in operation the voters of San Antonio will be called upon to vote a bond issue of $5,000,000, which will provide for street, sewer and water main extensions, along with other civic improvements. The passage of the bond issue is assured, and several contracting firms from the north and east have already opened offices there, with a view of bidding on and securing contracts for the improvement work.

In the way of street improvements for the present the work will consist of repaving the principal streets in the business section of the city and the main arteries of traffic or thoroughfares leading to the suburban residence districts. It is expected that $2,000,000 will be spent in this work.

A bond issue of $300,000, with an additional $80,000 appropriated by the city, has already been passed for widening Commerce street, one of the principal business streets, for a distance of several blocks, from Alamo street to Main plaza. The abutting property owners have pledged themselves for another $100,000, and the entire work will cost about $500,000. The street at present varies in width, and the fronting buildings will be set back to make it a uniform width of sixty-five feet. The setback will range from thirteen to twenty-three feet.

SCHOOL GARDENS INCREASE.

Growing Interest in Movement Largely Due to Women's Clubs.

School gardens continue to receive a constantly increasing share of public attention. From very many parts of the country reports bear witness to this widespread interest. There can be no question that the movement should be encouraged by all who are in any way concerned in practical horticulture. If the younger generation has implanted in it an intelligent interest in garden routine work, together with an intelligent acquaintance with growing plants, there will not be the need of so much missionary work in garden art in the future as there has been in the past.

It is to the women's clubs very largely that the present movement owes its vitality, says the Los Angeles Times. In the interest which the members of these organizations evince in the young and the beautiful they have taken hold of an issue which would most properly come within the field of the action of the horticultural societies. Only very few of these latter have realized their opportunity. Local horticultural societies must do something more than hold stated meetings whereat formal addresses are presented, usually on a topic worn threadbare by long service and at which but a small percentage of the membership is present. How many such societies, started in enthusiasm, peter out after a few years without any apparent reason! The members themselves wonder what is the matter with their society.

The matter is that they are doing nothing really creating nothing making no progress. In order to be alive the society must be aggressive. It must carry its tenets and principles beyond the confines of the meeting room and attack problems of public weal. The school garden movement was started some eighty years ago, but its most rapid development has been within the past decade. Work in this country is not by any means sufficiently widespread. With a sound practical school garden guide to follow, is it any wonder that garden art has reached a wider distribution across the ocean than it has with us?

Communities Should Pull Together.

A single snowflake falling upon the broad landscape ultimately melts and leaves no visible trace of its abortive effort, but when joined to millions of others the earth is soon covered with a white mantle, says the Farm Journal. A single brook wending its way through the valley is weak and impotent, but joined with others it forms a great stream whose flow speeds the wheels of industry. A single man in a community can do little by himself, but by joining scores of kindred souls the whole can do much for the moral, mental and physical betterment of the community. Neighborhoods seem to grow when the people cease to labor as units and work at cross purposes. Therefore it is essential for the community's advancement that all pull together. There should be no room in any neighborhood for pullbacks.

Tree is Not a Nuisance.

A tree that has been standing for many years in a highway without being considered an impediment to travel cannot be considered a nuisance if found to extend a few inches into the street when curbs are to be put in, but the curb must be arranged to carry water, etc., past the tree so that it will not interfere with the improvement of the street in a workmanlike manner, according to a recent decision by a Maryland court.

SUNDAY AT THE CHURCHES.

Parcel Post Atlas FREE

Everybody Should Have One.

A complete Parcel Post map, showing instantly the rate of postage under this new system from any point in the United States to any other place in the Union is what everyone is looking for at present.

The Review has just such a map.

Better still, it will be given free to subscribers who pay for a year in advance for either the Daily or Twice-a-Week Review.

This map, printed in colors, occupies two pages of a 12-page atlas, the pages being 14 by 18 inches in size, thus giving a U. S. map 18 by 28 inches. A large detailed map of the Panama Canal zone in colors occupies two other pages and a big Parcel Post map of Oregon is another feature. The latter, as well as the U. S. map, is laid off in parcel post units, showing instantly the rate on parcel post packages from any postoffice in the state to any other postoffice in Oregon. To find the rate it is only necessary to measure the distance with a ruler, a stick or a piece of string, on either the Oregon or the U. S. map, on a direct line between the two points desired, and then place this measurement on the "zone" diagram at the foot of the map. There the postage rate per pound will be found in plain figures whatever the distance may be.

In addition to these maps there are several pages of detailed information regarding the new parcel post laws and regulations, explanation of the "zone" system and postage rates, etc. Also full information as to what may be sent by parcel post, as well as other postage rates and classifications. All the important facts relating to the Panama Canal are also included.

These maps are certainly the best we have ever seen, and doubtless are the best yet devised for showing instantly the parcel post rates between all points in the United States. We are informed that the U. S. maps alone, using this same universal zone unit system, are being sold for 75 cents each.

Following our custom and belief that nothing is too good for Review subscribers, we ordered a quantity of these parcel post atlases by wire, and they have just arrived by express, direct from the manufacturers in the East.

The newest thing out.

Something everybody needs.

They are Free to Review subscribers who pay a year in advance.

Send in your order now and get the benefit. This atlas will save you many trips to the postoffice to ask about parcel post rates and regulations.

GIVEN ABSOLUTELY FREE

with a year paid in advance subscription to either the Daily or Twice-a-Week Review. This applies to either new or old subscribers. We also have other fine premiums and splendid clubbing offers. Address, REVIEW PUBLISHING CO., ROSEBURG, OREGON.
