GLENDALE AND VICINITY.

Postmaster Fisher, of Galesville, spent Monday in this city. He reports peaceful prosperity on upper Cow Creek. Mr. Fisher and his wife are representative residents of Cow Creek Valley and they both know how to handle Uncle Sam's postal affairs. Charles Cheeney, who is the grandfather of Mrs. Fisher, and who shares their home, is in his usual good health, and all are enjoying the beautiful autumn weather.

Mrs. Eva Tindall, of this city, is visiting Mrs. Elliff and Mrs. Dewey, at their farm home on Fortune ranch.

Today, Nov. 18th, is spring-like, and roses are blooming in the yards about the city. The air is cool and bracing, the sun shining brightly. Eastern people are, no doubt, wishing they could exchange snow storms and blizzards for the comfort and beauty of the climate of South Douglas.

Miss Gladys Beals, of Days Creek, is visiting at the home of her sister, Mrs. E. E. Totten, in this city.

Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Miller, who spent some time in California, returned to Glendale yesterday.

Dr. Adams was called to Coyote Creek Sunday to see several patients. In fact, the doctor is kept busy all the time.

Mr. and Mrs. M. F. Frost are again residents of this city.

Miss Maude Stevens left for Portland and other cities north on Monday. Miss Maude will be missed by her many friends in this city.

Charles Stuerhoff went out to the Anabel mines last week. He reports conditions very favorable for the usual winter's run at these important mines. He is shipping out their winter's supplies, and preparing for active operations to commence at once. Mr. Stuerhoff is superintendent of the mines.

Willis Middleton made a business trip to Grants Pass last week.

A. G. Hamilton is going out to one of the near-by mines, where he will act as piper.

Glendale is preparing to celebrate Thanksgiving in its usual generous style. Family parties are in order, and the usual menu of turkey and mince pie is to be in evidence everywhere.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Weidenbusch are now living in this city. Their home is on East Willow street.

L. L. Yokum, of Koler, was transacting business in this city Tuesday.

The co-partnership existing between Coburn & Hays, in this city, is dissolved by mutual consent. They each will continue their business. Mr. Hays will occupy the J. Hearing building, while Mr. Coburn will occupy the Hobbs building as formerly.

The Lystul mill is continuing its work as usual, and all the men are busy at work. X. X.
