JUDGE FAVORS THAW.

CONCORD, N. H., Feb. 20.—Ex-Governor Stone, of Pennsylvania, Harry K. Thaw's chief counsel, made a bitter attack on William Travers Jerome when the hearing before Judge Aldrich on Thaw's habeas corpus petition opened today. The hearing marks Thaw's crucial battle against extradition, all question of New York's honesty in his decision.

Judge Aldrich made several comments on the case as it appeared to him and the Thaw lawyers were jubilant at his indication that he considered the question of New York's good faith of importance in the case. New York has contended that Judge Aldrich must ignore all question of New York's honesty in his decision.

Judge Aldrich's word on this question came while Governor Stone was arguing. The judge interrupted to ask:

"How can I satisfy myself as to this question of good faith?"

Ex-Governor Stone replied: "By hearing of all facts."

When the hearing adjourned for the noon recess, Judge Aldrich made

THIS STATEMENT:

"It seems to me that the important question at this hearing is whether extradition is the appropriate remedy, not whether Thaw shall be returned to New York. Secondly it is important to decide whether in the description of the offense alleged by the state of New York they have not left their charge in the field of uncertainty."

Ex-Governor Stone made the opening argument and openly charged bad faith in the proceedings.

TWENTY DAYS FOR THAW.

CONCORD, Feb. 21.—The Harry Thaw habeas corpus case closed at noon. No decision is expected for at least 20 days. That period was granted to the attorneys for the state of New York in which to file briefs.

HYOMEL RELIEVES IN FIVE MINUTES.

You Breathe It. If your head is all stuffed up from a cold or catarrh, you suffer with dull headaches and seem lacking in vitality or are constantly sneezing and coughing, you need a remedy that will give the quickest, most effective and lasting relief possible—something that will go right to the spot, clear the head and throat and end your misery.

It is practically impossible to use Hyomel and not only be relieved but permanently benefited. The Red Cross Pharmacy will refund your money if you are not satisfied. Ask for the complete outfit—$1.00.

FRILLS NOT FOR FARMER.

Committee Told Rural Credit Will Not Mean Extravagance.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 20.—The American farmer is not squandering his money on frills and farbelows, John T. Colter told the joint congressional rural credits committee today.

"The farmers of this country need a rural credit system," said Dr. Coulter. "They will not run to extravagance if money is made cheaper for them. The American farmer borrows money, according to my investigation, for good and useful purposes."

Indian Caricature.

Humor is more or less a secular enjoyment, and its suggestion in pictorial art therefore necessarily has a secular significance. And as the chief motive of Indian art was religious expression, secularism in the form of caricature was never very much emphasized. But this aspect, though not very frequently represented, was not entirely absent in Indian art. Even the oldest records of Indian painting bear evidence to the fact that the sense of ridicule or satire was not altogether divorced from the whims of art of those times. Calcutta Modern Review.

Life and Its Pictures.

Life, according to a writer in the London Academy, is one of the few uninteresting towns of France. He went there "obscure in the belief that no town in France with over 200,000 inhabitants could be entirely without interest," but finally "led to the station, defeated, and took train for Lyon."
