L. C. HASKELL KILLED

Gardiner Man Loses Life in Coos Bay Accident

PLANT GARDINER SAND DUNES

Will Ultimately Recover 6,000 Acres—Use 10,000 Young Pines This Year—Two More Tragic Deaths

MARSHFIELD, Or., March 5.—Luther C. Haskell, a resident of Gardiner, was killed today while slinging rigging in Camp 4 of the Smith-Powers Logging Company, on South Inlet.

Haskell was about 30 years old and had been at work in the camp only a few days. His death occurred when a heavy log rolled over him. It started without warning.

Two More Tragic Deaths.

Caught in the belting, carried around the shafting and torn to pieces was the fate of William Pond, an employe of the Porter mill of the Simpson Lumber Company at North Bend today. Pond tried to shift the belt while the machinery was going at full speed and his death resulted. One leg was torn off and his face was crushed beyond recognition. Pond was a single man, aged 35, and leaves relatives in North Bend. He had just been promoted to a higher position in the mill.

Ed Caston, a logger employed at the Smith-Power camp on South Slough, was instantly killed this afternoon when a log rolled on him. The body was brought to this city and will be held until relatives are heard from.

Planting the Sand Dunes.

Eugene Guard: Plans to complete the five years' task of reforesting the great Mt. Hebo "burn" this year, and plans to plant 10,000 pine trees on the sand dunes of the coast of Oregon near Gardiner, is an experiment seeking to reclaim thousands of acres of waste land and to prevent the shifting dunes from destroying additional land, were announced today by H. L. Rankin, forest supervisor of the Siuslaw forest reserve. The work in both cases will commence before April 1.

Herman Johnson with a crew of 30 men will leave within ten days for Mount Hebo. He will plant 45 acres from the first camp, after which operations will be discontinued until fall, when that portion which remains of the great burn will be planted with Douglas fir trees.

The work has been going on for years. It was not expected to have it finished before 1915, but the planting will be finished this year. It means that 6000 barren, burned over acres will have been planted to new forests which in 40 years will produce timber for cutting.

The Hebo burn is one of the largest of the great treeless areas left by the great fire of 1861, which was started by the Indians in Southern Oregon at the time of the Rogue River massacre and which swept the whole coast area. Most of the territory has reforested itself, but some of the areas have been too large for the wind to carry the seed across and the first of these, Hebo, will be finished this year.

The next to be attacked will be a 6000 acre burn in the northwest section of Lane County. Reforestry on this will commence within a year.

But more important than this is the announcement that the forestry service will undertake the planting of 10,000 maritime pine trees on the sand dunes near Gardiner. The work will be done under the direction of Harold Lewis, a rancher in district four. This is the first of a series of important experiments to be made by the forestry service to reclaim thousands of acres of sand dunes along the Oregon coast and to protect areas of timber annually destroyed by the shifting of the dunes by the wind. The work will commence this month.

Lighthouse Man on Visit.

Eugene Register: A. P. C. Hald, keeper of the United States lighthouse at Gardiner, on the coast of Douglas County, is in Eugene for the first time in many years. It is seldom that the lighthouse keepers take a vacation, and even when the time comes to leave they are always loth to do so. They love the sea and their work and never feel right when they are away.

Hald was the first keeper of the light at Heceta Head, on the coast of Lane County, a few miles north of Florence. This light was established about 25 years ago, and Hald lighted the match that sent the first rays of the powerful lamp out over the sea to guide the mariners to safety. He remained at that post for a number of years and was afterward transferred to the Gardiner light.

Hald declares that the outside world is too busy for him, that there is too much excitement in the cities and that he will be glad when his vacation is over and he will be able to resume his lonely vigil at the top of the tall tower at the mouth of the Umpqua River.

BOOM'S BOOTERIE HAS ASSIGNED; HEAVENS CO. BANKRUPTCY TRUSTEE

A. J. Geddes was on Thursday afternoon made a temporary assignee of the stock of shoes and hosiery of the Booterie, conducted by W. S. Boom on Cass street. No legal action has been taken in the matter, however, and Mr. Geddes will have charge pending a settlement with the creditors. The stock, which is valued at approximately $9500, will be sold by the assignee, who will conduct the store as in the past. Mr. Boom may open later, after negotiations and a settlement has been effected. For the present he contemplates a vacation of several weeks, but is undecided as to where he will go. The claims are said to aggregate about $9000.

Heavens Company Bankrupt.

The first meeting of creditors in the case of the Heavens Co., of Green, in bankruptcy, was held here today in the office of Referee Chas. L. Hamilton. They elected Atty. Carl E. Wimberly as trustee, and E. L. Parrott, I. S. Riddle and Herman Marks as appraisers. The property consists of the cannery buildings and plant, at Green, and is listed as having a value of $11,000. The value to the creditors, however, will depend upon whether it can be continued as a cannery. The liabilities consist of claims amounting to about $4000, and $5000 worth of bonds issued by the company. The latter will constitute preferred claims. It is hoped that someone can be found to take over the cannery and continue its operation.

DEBT OF THE STATES

Total is $419,000,000 For 48 States of Union

OREGON FOUR CENTS PER CAPITA

Iowa Only State Having Less—Increase of Debt in All States is 50 Percent During Past Ten Years

WASHINGTON, March 6.—Preliminary figures from the forthcoming bulletin pertaining to National and state indebtedness and funds and investments have been given out by Director W. J. Harris, of the Bureau of the Census, Department of Commerce. The bulletin carries information for the United States and for each state in the United States. The data were compiled under the supervision of Mr. John Lee Coulter, expert special agent in charge of wealth, debt and taxation.

The bulletin which soon will be issued will contain statistics for each year from 1890 to 1913, inclusive, and will also contain details for the year most nearly corresponding to 1880, thus making it possible to show the general movement during a period of over thirty years. The bulletin will show the total debt of each state as well as many details, such as the various classes of outstanding bonds and special debt obligations to public trust funds. It will also show the floating debt and its component parts. Under funds and investments will be shown separately all the different funds, and in each case cash and securities will be shown. The population of each state for each year under consideration will be used, and the per capita debt (less sinking fund assets) will be given.

An inspection of the tables in the bulletin soon to be issued shows that on June 30, 1913 (or the close of the fiscal year falling within the twelve months preceding that date), the total debt of the 48 states in the United States amounted to $419,157,000. Of this total about $19,000,000 represented floating debt, and nearly $400,000,000 represented funded debt. Of the funded debt about $359,000,000 are represented by bonds, and $41,000,000 are special debt obligations to public trust funds.

As an offsetting item against the total debt, the 48 states reported $77,022,000 in sinking fund assets, leaving the debt (less sinking fund assets) for the 48 states $342,251,000.

Various practices are found in different states with reference to the assumption of debt by the states, and some difficulty arises when attempt is made to compare the debt of the different states. The only two states which call for special mention in this connection are Arizona and Massachusetts. In Arizona the state has assumed responsibility for a very large amount of county and municipal debt, and has issued state obligations to cover the same, holding the counties and municipalities responsible in turn. It might be noted, however, that the Arizona debt even under these circumstances amounts to only eight-tenths of 1 per cent of the total for the United States. Massachusetts, on the other hand, has assumed liability for debts of metropolitan districts which in most cases would probably be classed as local, county, or municipal debt. The total debt (less sinking fund assets) for Massachusetts represents 23.2 per cent of the debt for all states in the United States. Iowa, Wyoming, and Oregon each has less than one-tenth of 1 per cent of the debt of all states, while in the case of Pennsylvania the sinking fund assets exceed the total debt. Vermont, Nebraska and Kansas each has only one-tenth of 1 per cent of the debt of the 48 states; in contrast, New York has 25 per cent of the total for the 48 states.

Per Capita Indebtedness.

A study of the per capita debt shows that in Iowa the debt (less sinking fund assets) amounts to only three cents per capita, and in Oregon four cents per capita. In Arkansas, Florida, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Minnesota, Nebraska, New Jersey, Oregon, Pennsylvania, South Dakota, Texas, West Virginia, Wisconsin and Wyoming the per capita debt (less sinking fund assets) is less than $1.00.

Past and Present State Debt.

According to the report ten years ago, the indebtedness (less sinking fund assets) for the 48 states amounted to $234,968,866, as compared with $342,251,000 shown in the report now being prepared. This is an increase in ten years of $107,342,000, or nearly 50 per cent, in contrast with an increase of slightly more than 26 per cent in the population of the country. Ten years before that, in 1890, the indebtedness (less sinking fund assets) for the states and territories of the United States amounted to $211,210,000; while in 1880 it amounted to $274,746,000. Thus between 1880 and 1902 the per capita indebtedness (less sinking fund assets) for the 48 state combined gradually decreased, while during the last ten years there has been a very notable increase. In 1880 the per capita indebtedness (less sinking fund assets) amounted to $5.48; in 1890 it had been reduced to $3.37, due to the increase in population and decrease in debt; in 1902 it amounted to $2.99, due to the rapid increase in population and very slight increase in debt; in 1913 the per capita debt had increased to $3.52, the increase being due to a very rapid increase in debt in contrast with a much slower increase in population.

RABBIT NO GOOD AS PIED PIPER LEADER.

Set on Fire He Heads for Hole in Alfalfa Stack and Farmers Work Hard to Save Hay.

WALLA WALLA, March 5.—Rabbits have done great damage to the big 600-acre Baker-Langdon apple orchard here and William Johnson, superintendent, was told that a rabbit soaked in kerosene and lighted would lead all the other rabbits from the place. He caught one in a trap and tried it.

Instead of running out of the orchard, the rabbit headed for his hole in a large alfalfa stack and burrowed deep into its depths. It required hard work to get hold of the cremated rabbit and save the 1500 tons of hay. Traps are now being used to get the rabbits instead of the newly patented pied pipers.

HOSPITAL IS REACHED.

ROCHESTER, Minn., March 6.—Charles W. Post, the cereal magnate, has arrived here to have his appendix removed at the Mayo sanitarium. His special train arrived at 9:25, but such a crowd was waiting at the depot that his attendants decided to leave him in the Pullman until 11. The trip from Santa Barbara, Cal., took 66 hours and 25 minutes. It is still undecided at what hour the surgeons will operate.

LEVYS CANAL TOLLS

Resolution Reported to Repeal Free Section

SEVERAL DODGING INCOME TAX

Two Big Magnates Transfer Citizenship to England—Big Rush on Returning Ball Players

(Special to The Evening Review).

WASHINGTON, March 6.—The house commerce committee today favorably reported the Congressman Sims resolution repealing the American vessels' exemption from Panama Canal tolls. Committeemen Goremns, Knowland, Hamilton and Lafferty voted against the report.

This Sims resolution is exactly what President Wilson asked for in his message to Congress yesterday. Adamson, of Georgia, will press its adoption in the House, but it rests with Underwood, of Alabama, who opposes the measure, to decide when it will come up for hearing. The indications are that obstructive tactics will be resorted to. It is unlikely that consideration of the measure will be possible until after the administration's anti-trust program has been put through. That would mean a delay until June or July. Senator O'Gorman, leader of the Democratic insurgents against the repeal, said the Senate committee would not rush matters.

Explanation Wanted.

Senator Poindexter today introduced a resolution in the upper house asking the President to explain what he meant by his reference in his canal tolls message to matters of "even greater delicacy and nearer consequence."

Victor Moses Wins.

The nominations of Thomas Gill for postmaster at Miles City, Mont., and Victor Moses for postmaster at Corvallis, Oregon, were sent to the Senate today.

(Victor Moses is County Judge of Benton County, and formerly resided at Myrtle Creek).

Having Eye Trouble.

President Wilson has planned to leave for Philadelphia tomorrow to have his eyes examined by a specialist.

BOLGING INCOME TAX.

LONDON, March 6.—Isaac Seligmann, the noted New York banker, and Frank Bliss, a former Standard Oil magnate, became British subjects today in order to avoid payment of the American income tax. Other wealthy Americans have also threatened to renounce their citizenship. A memorial to Secretary Bryan, protesting the payment of the American tax on incomes produced in England was prepared by Americans here.

AFTER BALL PLAYERS.

NEW YORK, March 6.—The big liner Lusitania, bringing the Giants and White Sox baseball teams, docked at its pier at 10 o'clock this morning. Thousands welcomed the teams and the organized magnates almost took possession of the liner. The Federal League officials, unable to charter a tug or secure passes, were forced to wait on the pier. The vessel was boarded at quarantine by Ban Johnson, president of the American League; owner Landin, of the Boston team, and President Baker, of the Philadelphia Nationals. The Federals wirelessed to Capt. Speaker asking him to tell the other players that the Federal magnates are waiting for them at the Knickerbocker Hotel, ready to talk business. The Giants and White Sox today completed a tour of the world, playing in many countries.

BOY IS CHARGED WITH PLACING TIES ON TRACK.

For placing railroad ties on the track near Dillard Sunday, which were struck by the engine of the southbound passenger train No. 63, Willie Keller, the 16 year old son of G. E. Keller, of Dillard, was brought here this afternoon by Sheriff Quine and the local S. P. detective, for a hearing before Judge Ree, who has charge of such juvenile cases. He was accompanied here by his father. While the officials think the boy did not realize the seriousness of his act, it is deemed a grave charge, and it is probable a term in the reform school may result.

PORTLAND MAN BUYS MYRTLE CREEK MINE.

Portland Journal: Frederick Spaulding, cousin of Albert G. Spaulding, the American sporting goods man, has purchased the famous old placer mining camp known as "The Headquarters Place," on North Myrtle Creek, in Douglas County. Mr. Spalding has a favorable report on the gold bearing gravel of the creek bed, which was untouched by the miners in former days, and it is expected that the camp may again become conspicuous in mining circles. M. Spalding announces that he will establish a summer home on the property. The property was purchased from John F. Woodward, a local timber man.

CALIFORNIA CITIES ARE HAVING TROUBLE WITH GEN. KELLEY'S HOBO ARMY

(Special to The Evening Review).

RICHMOND, Cal., March 6.—Leaving Richmond at 10:56 a. m. on the order of a score of police, whom they outnumbered 100 to one, General Kelley's and William Thorne's armies of unemployed, numbering 2500, are on the way to Benecia. A box car trip was arranged in advance. The men were fed last night, and were given food to last one day on starting. It is reported that Benecia is not welcoming these visitors, and would resist their landing from the ferry, by force.

General Kelley Defies Police.

OAKLAND, Cal., March 5—Threatened resistance of "General" Charles T.. Kelley's "unemployed band," to the order of the police, moving them from this city and Emeryville to Richmond, failed to materialize today, when 250 armed officers marched on to the camping grounds and dispersed the aggregation. While Kelley stood on the top of a wagon exhorting his men, they fled before the police. The men were formed into lines, were escorted by the police to streetcars and were moved to Richmond.

The Industrial Workers of the World faction had been moved earlier in the day, without even threatened resistance. The men say they will proceed to Sacramento.

Kelley had delivered an ultimatum that he would not leave his camp unless furnished transportation for all his men to the state capital.

Subsist With Guns.

RICHMOND, Cal., March 5.—A detachment of the unemployed band ordered out of Oakland and Emeryville started a riot in Richmond, where they were put off the cars today and attempted to demolish a large wooden storage building. The police, with drawn revolvers, subdued the mob, but not before $2000 damage had been done. Boards were torn from the building and windows were smashed. Several of the mob were struck by the policemen's clubs before order was restored.

Two newspaper men were arrested with the ringleaders. They had mixed with the rioters to obtain photographs. They were released immediately.

ANNOUNCEMENT FOR SHERIFF.

I hereby respectfully announce myself a candidate for the nomination for Sheriff of Douglas County, subject to the will of the Democratic voters at the primary election on May 15. (Paid Adv.). H. T. ASHWORTH.

Huerta to Take the Field Against Mexican Rebels

DAYLIGHT ROBBERY IN ST. LOUIS

Bandits Get $18,000 Cash and Force Auto Driver to Hurry Them Away—Tacoma Robber Fares Badly

(Special to The Evening Review).

MEXICO CITY, March 6.—After appointing as his successor some one acceptable to the Washington administration, General Huerta is unquestionably preparing to take the field personally against the rebels in the very near future. It is said he had in mind for the presidency Jose de la Portilla Y Rojas, minister of foreign affairs. According to friends, Rojas was given the portfolio of foreign affairs in order to give Americans a chance to make his acquaintance, and he has proved friendly to them. It is the general opinion of foreigners that he will be satisfactory to everybody concerned, except the rebels.

Diaz Again to the Front.

WASHINGTON, March 5.—While tension that has been felt over the Mexican situation as a result of the Benton execution, has been practically removed in official circles here, the discussion of Mexican affairs at both the capital and executive quarters today revealed a broad interest in details of the Mexican problem with the arrival of Felix Diaz, who helped Huerta to overthrow Madero, and later fled from Vera Cruz because of fear of Huerta. It is generally supposed that he desires to appear before the Senate foreign relations committee, though he has submitted no requests, and has avoided publicity. Senator Shively, acting chairman of the committee, said Diaz would be heard if he wished, as all information possible on the Mexican situation was being gathered by the committee.

No promise will be made for the support of any counter revolution in Mexico, such as two Mexicans, who said they represented Diaz, outlined before the foreign relations committee yesterday. Senator William Alden Smith, of Michigan, asserted he would not give a hearing to Diaz if he had his way about it, as he believed the United States was becoming the "international spawning ground of revolution."

Bryan Gives Information.

Secretary Bryan appeared before the House committee on foreign affairs and answered questions about conditions in Mexico. Some members of the committee said he made a favorable impression and that resolutions calling for information would not be necessary. Representative Aiken, Republican, of Pennsylvania, however, who has a resolution pending calling for information on the Mexican situation, issued a statement declaring that the House was entitled to receive the facts and that they should be made public.

ROBBERS GET $18,000 CASH.

ST. LOUIS, March 6.—Bandits robbed John Lucas, paymaster of the Hamilton Brown Shoe Company, of $18,000 cash, at the corner of a street in the heart of the business district, in broad daylight today. Lucas and another employe had just left a bank in the company's automobile. The bandits, masked, stuck guns in their faces and demanded the money. Lucas turned it over to them without a word. The robbers leaped into the automobile and forced the chauffeur to drive away. They are still uncaptured.

PISTOL FAILS, THIEF FLEES.

TACOMA, March 6.—Failure of a revolver in the hands of Cora Johnson, a woman barber, to go off when she pulled the trigger, saved a negro man, who robbed three safes early this morning. When the woman discovered a man trying to break into the shop, he had evidently just left Becker's brokerage office, and the Pacific Monument Works, where safes had been blown. The loot was only ten dollars. The woman snapped the trigger in his face, and he fled uncaptured.

Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Kelley are expected home tomorrow from their trip East. They have lately been visiting in California.
