ENGAGE VILLAGE MANAGERS.

Two Suburbs of Chicago Have Adopted This Plan of Government.

The village of Glencoe is the second of Chicago's suburbs whose board of trustees has delegated administrative duties to a general manager. Following the example of River Forest, which adopted the plan last June and where the whole village machinery is well lubricated in consequence, Glencoe chose Herbert H. Sherer from among 200 applicants to take charge on Feb. 1. He receives a salary of $1,800 a year.

Glencoe, like River Forest, has a population of 2,500. Both villages are typical suburbs, most of their men being employed in Chicago. The village trustees, who serve without pay, are men of affairs in the city who cannot give proper attention to the details of administration. The new manager is expected to co-ordinate the different departments of the village, purchase supplies, employ workmen, O. K. bills, report regularly to the board as to what is being done and recommend such changes as he may advocate.

During the seven months' trial of the scheme in River Forest, say the trustees of that village, its manager, Karl M. Mitchell, has saved by a cost accounting system and improved methods in the various departments far more than has been paid him in salary. Mr. Mitchell had been connected with the Chicago Telephone company for sixteen years. He had received training at Northwestern university and the University of Chicago in finance, law and business organization.

Mr. Sherer made a record as superintendent of streets and alleys in Evanston, Ill. By the use of efficiency methods in his department he reports that he saved the city $1,507.82 during 1913. In addition, $400.79 was returned to the city treasury by the sale of baled waste paper and compost. His most noteworthy accomplishment perhaps has been the cleaning up of alleys. Armed with snapshots of refuse and junk piles, taken by his ally inspector, he has obtained convictions against offending householders.

Not only does the public support him, but his workmen are for him to the man. Some time ago he posted an "honor roll" bearing the names of those street cleaners and refuse collectors against whom no complaints had been registered during the previous month. The honor men were allowed each a day off duty at the city's expense during the following month. The "honor roll" is now an established institution, and last month over 40 per cent of the employees of the department were listed.
