Infection and Insect Bites Dangerous

Mosquitoes, flies and other insects, which breed quickly in garbage pails, ponds of stagnant water, barns, musty places, etc., are carriers of disease. Every time they bite you, they inject poison into your system from which some dreadful disease may result. Get a bottle of Sloan's Liniment. It is antiseptic and a few drops will neutralize the infection caused by insect bites or rusty nails. Sloan's Liniment disinfects Cuts, Bruises and Sores. You cannot afford to be without it your home. Money back if not satisfied. Only 25c at your druggist.

MAKING SCREEN DOORS

AND WINDOWS.

Is an exact science here. No hand-work can compare with it in accuracy of measurement and fit. We have such a variety to choose from, too. Bring your window and door measurements here and you get screens which will explain to you why all our mill work is so popular.

Claiming that his crops had been damaged to the extent of $500 as the result of his neighbor's stock and turkeys overrunning his place, John Hartman, a farmer living near Elkton, filed suit in the Circuit Court yesterday charging his neighbor, Louis Bowers, of violating an agreement between them in regard to the maintenance of a division fence and claiming damages. The plaintiff contends that both parties had agreed to maintain and keep in repair half of the fence, but that the defendant had neglected to comply therewith for about five years. Both his neighbor's stock and turkeys have run upon his pastures, with the result that they were ruined, according to the complaint.

It is unnecessary to dilate on the details of the story of "The Lion and the Mouse," as the photo-dramatization unfolds the plot and sequences in such a clear, consistent manner that it needs no help or explanation. Sufficient and more important as advance information of any production is "who is responsible and who made it?" Charles Klein is the author of this play and the Lubin studio and players produced it. Elmer Clayton is the leading woman. What the photo production loses in lack of sound is more than compensated by the latitude of natural settings. "The Lion and the Mouse" has been a winner wherever shown, and it is to be regretted that it can only be shown here the one day, Sunday.

MITCHELL WAGONS

Some of the Things That Make the Mitchell Better:

Hot Set Tires instead of cold awaged tires.
Hewed Out Axles instead of common sawed axles.
Air Seasoned Timber instead of kiln dried timber.
Yellow Poplar Bodies instead of slash pine or cottonwood.
Deep Sawed Felloes on wide tire and regular wagons instead of bent felloes.

Red Lead and Chrome Green Paint instead of ready-mixed or mineral paints.
Mitchell Paints never blister, scale off in any climate no matter how exposed. It is put on—four coats—with a brush and well "keyed" in—not dipped.

Every Stick of Timber, Every Bar of Iron, Every Piece of Steel and Every Pound of Paint used on a Mitchell wagon must stand certain tests and measure up to certain standards which experience has shown to be best for that particular part, and anything not coming up to this standard is at once rejected and not bought at any price.

Mitchell Wagons are not made to sell at the same price as other wagons. They cost more to build and are worth much more to use. If you want the best wagon, get a Mitchell. They are not only the best at the price, but

"THE BEST AT ANY PRICE."
