

WILL LAY NEW RAILS

Southern Pacific Co. to Improve Road in Douglas Co.

WORK TO BEGIN NEXT MONTH

The Proposed Improvements Will Extend From Sutherland North to Divide and Will Entail a Big Expenditure

The authorization for the expenditure of $200,000 for the laying of 37 miles of 90-pound standard rails in the place of the old rails on the main line of the Southern Pacific between Sutherland and Divide was received yesterday by F. W. Schultz, road master of the Southern Pacific with headquarters in Eugene.

The work is to begin next month, according to present plans, said Mr. Schultz last night. Two large gangs of men will be put on the work which will take some time to complete.

The new standard rails will take the place of the 60-pound rails now on the main line which, where fit, will be used on branch lines. A great many of them may be used on the Corvallis & Eastern between Corvallis and Yajuma.

The plans of the railroad company for the laying of standard rails include the yards both at Sutherland and at Divide.

The material yard will be established at Eugene, where a curving machine will be placed to adjust the rails for the curves. The other rails and tangent rails will be distributed along the track as they are needed.

The authorization for the placing of crushed rock ballast along this section of track is also expected in the near future, according to Mr. Schultz. This will mean the expenditure of thousands of dollars by the Southern Pacific Company.

The order for the new standard rails and the expected authorization of the standard rock ballast is only the company's effort to bring the entire rail road up to standard as fast as possible, said Mr. Schultz last night.

The company has adopted the 90 pound rail and the crushed rock ballast as its standard, and is putting the entire road into shape.

The Southern Pacific does not have a crushed rock ballast north of Ashland to any extent.

Mr. Schultz, who has his office in Eugene and retained there in road master for the Southern Pacific north of Eugene to Chiloche, and south to Oakland. Also, the branch lines from Eugene are under his direction, including the Springfield, Nativio and Wendling lines, as well as the Astoria line in Eugene and Springfield.

The exact nature of the new rails is not known.

On top of the recent expenditure of $100,000 or more in the local Southern Pacific Railroad yards improving and increasing the track with new signals and other features, the Southern Pacific Company is rapidly putting its whole line into the best of shape.

SPEND QUIET SUMMER

Pres. Wilson and Wife Will Sojourn at Long Branch

TO ESTABLISH SUMMER CAPITOL

"Shadow Lawn" Is a Mecca for Tourists and Is Visited Daily by Hundreds of Sight-seers—Many Telephones

LONG BRANCH, N. J., July 21.—President Wilson will arrive here soon to occupy the summer capital "Shadow Lawn," and receive formal notification of his nomination. His sojourn in this heretofore uniquely named place should be lucky for his lucky number is still working, for this is the thirtieth year since the magnificent place built by the late John A. McCall, of the New York Life Insurance Company, in 1902, was opened.

Only unfortunate followed the three persons who have previously lived here.

McCall, who spared no expense and who is credited with having spent a million dollars on "Shadow Lawn" and its 65 acres of ground, benefitted with over fifty thousand dollars worth of shrubbery and trees, and containing an artificial lake and a fifty thousand dollar stable and garage, spent only one season in the big white building on the hill before troubles came thick upon him.

Joseph White, the Texas postage stamp millionaire, who founded his fortune on a bid for bonds in the second Cleveland administration, made it his home for several years before his financial collapse.

J. B. Greenhut, a New York merchant prince, who next purchased it, last year became a bankrupt. But the superstitions say the rule of three having been followed to the end, the hoodoo now is broken. Besides, "13" is President Wilson's lucky number, he says.

The hopes of Long Beach and its wealthy summer colonies have long centered in the place being the summer White House. It has been regarded as almost too pretentious and undignified for a mere private residence.

Shadow Lawn today is a mecca for motorists, and is visited by hundreds of sight-seers daily. From the upper stories may be seen the summer homes of Presidents Grant and Garfield on the ocean, less than a mile away.

An idea of the size of the building may be gained from the fact that 25 telephones have been installed for the convenience of the President's household.

Last fall, former Senator James Smith, Jr., made the suggestion that it was ideally located for the President's headquarters in a National campaign.

Credit for bringing the summer White House to Long Beach is particularly due to these New Jerseyites: H. P. Robbitt, state editor of the Long Beach Record; Dr. Geo. H. Baker, Richard H. Swayer, Myron T. Oppenheim, Dr. Joseph T. Welch, Senator John W. Stinson, Editor James Kearney, of the Trenton Times, Representative Thomas J. Scully, Appeals Court Judge Henry S. Terhune, Senator Henry E. Ackerson, Jr., Public Utility Commissioner J. Lyle Kimball, editor of the Ashbury Press, and Charles Mc Donald.

COMING TO ANTLERS

"The Birth of a Nation" is the Season's Biggest Attraction.

Some idea of the intensity of the action contained in the 12,000 foot film of historical incident that go to make up D. W. Griffith's "The Birth of a Nation" may be gathered from the fact that 140,000 feet of living photograph was made of the subject from which to cut 12,000 feet—less than 10 per cent of the total—of the absolute punch and glory of the subject.

Percy Hammond, in the Sunday Tribune, Chicago, June 12, says as follows of Griffith's enormous production:

"To me the most artistic thing in 'The Birth of a Nation' is that real and photographic exactness of the assassination of Lincoln. There is a wonderful work of action and stage management—with its precise attention of scenes—the audience, the play, the President's box, the assassin, the confusion, everything as it should be. And the eerie Ku Klux Klan incidents, with a thousand shrouded knights, night-riding to vengeance, and the Wagnerian trumpet call of the Valkyries as they converge to lynch the ravaging negroes. That trumpet call is an opulent device of sound applied to the silent drama.

No spoken word, no play can duplicate its thrilling cadence. That moment when the Ku Klux ride against a red horizon, swift, with uplifted emblems of vengeance, is a fine spectacular interval."

"The Birth of a Nation" will play a two-days engagement at the Antlers Theatre on August 3 and 4.

PRINTER BELIEVES HE IS JUSTLY ENTITLED TO HALF OF THE FEE

Will S. Trites, J. P., feels that he is shy five planks, while in all probability the said five planks repose safely in the jeans of Geo. P. Trites, D. D., says the Sutherland Sun.

The situation is this: Last Sunday a young lady and gentleman duly provided with a marriage license, came to Sutherland to get married. On arriving here they inquired as to who was justice of the peace. Being told the justice was Mr. Trites, they inquired where he lived. A citizen directed them to the east part of town, in which locality Mr. Will Trites, J. P., resides, as does also Rev. George P. Trites.

After proceeding a couple of blocks the two happy souls on a marriage bent (required of another citizen as to the home of "Mr. Trites.") The obliging citizen thinking G. P. Trites the one sought, pointed out the residence of the popular pastor. The happy couple proceeded to the parsonage and were promptly married, the Rev. Geo. P. Trites thus securing five wheels of silver which were originally rolling directly for the pocket of his brother, Will S. Trites, J. P., who resides but two blocks away.

When Will got next to the matter he was of the opinion that his brother should "whack up," but at last decided there was no "whack" in sight.
