ROSEBURG REVIEW

Stick to good old Roseburg—Prosperity is due;
The new and growing Roseburg will stick by you.

VOL. XIX.

ROSEBURG, OREGON, THURSDAY EVENING, SEPTEMBER 21, 1916.

No. 175.

RAILROAD IS TALKED

Attorney O. P. Coshow Gives Out Interview at Marshfield

THE RAILROAD WILL BE BUILT

F. B. Waite Is Also Enthusiastic Regarding the Construction of a Railroad Tapping Timbered Districts of County

O. P. Coshow, a prominent Roseburg attorney who has been active in the project there of securing a big sawmill and the construction of a railroad out to tap the timber of the Kendall holdings, was here yesterday, says the Marshfield Times. Mr. Coshow said that although the project has fallen through temporarily owing to no bids for the construction of the railroad being received, he hopes it will be brought to a realization soon.

The trouble, he says, was due to the insistence of the Roseburg city officials on getting the railroad built for less than cost. He said that the city voted $300,000 to aid the project. The city engineer of Roseburg estimated the cost of construction at over $350,000.

Some thought that Kendall Bros. would bid on the work and do it but Mr. Coshow says that he is confident that Kendall's did not intend to bid on the construction, not being railroad contractors. This resulted in no bids being received.

Mr. Coshow said that he understood that the Roseburg mill and railroad at Sutherlin were going ahead. He said that some had mistaken this, saying the railroad was being built from Sutherlin towards Coos Bay, while in reality the road now being constructed is in the opposite direction from Sutherlin. No bids were received but the Roseburg interests are now doing the work themselves.

F. B. Waite while here last week said that the carrying out of the Roseburg project at Sutherlin and the Kendall Bros. project at Roseburg would hasten the construction of a road from there direct to Coos Bay. He said that the mill operators would simply have to get cheap water transportation and the only way they could do it would be via Coos Bay. In addition to this, he said, the railroad would tap immense tracts of standing timber between the Umpqua and Coos Bays.

MANY NEW RESIDENTS.

That Roseburg is again filling up with new families to spend the winter here, is the information obtained by E. C. Benson, who has made considerable investigation recently in behalf of several newcomers.

According to Mr. Benson, where there were several vacant houses on streets in the southern part of town a few weeks ago, there is now not one left. People are coming from some distance to remain here for the winter, he believes, on account of the mild climate and because of a belief in the prosperity of the surrounding country.

GLENDAL DOCTOR IS DELAYED WHILE COMING HERE LAST EVENING

Dr. George C. Knott, a prominent physician of Glendale, and Mrs. R. G. McCall, wife of a Yoncalla doctor, yesterday had an experience which they will probably remember for some time.

Dr. Knott had been at Yoncalla for several days and when he was ready to leave there he invited Mrs. McCall to accompany him to Glendale for a visit. The lady readily accepted the invitation, and a half hour later they were on their way south by motorcycle. All went well until they started to ascend the northern slope of Rice Hill. There something happened to the machine and the gasoline in the tank ignited. The motorcycle was so badly damaged that it had to be abandoned by the roadside. Dr. Knott and Mrs. McCall then started on foot for Glendale, where they expected to board a train and continue their journey to Roseburg. Before reaching there they were overtaken by R. L. Gile, a local prune buyer, who agreed to bring them to Roseburg in his automobile. Both Dr. Knott and Mrs. McCall are well known here and they are being "keyed" considerably by their many friends. Whether Dr. Knott will return to Rice Hill after his machine had not been determined by him this morning.

INDUSTRIES NEEDED

Dr. Bailey Is Watching Movements of Review Check

FARMERS' MONEY A NECESSITY

Dr. Bailey Points Out That the Dollar Placed in Circulation Has Already Diminished About Seventy Cents

The following splendid article by Dr. C. H. Bailey tells the story of what a single dollar, when expended through the proper channels, can do in promoting the industries of a certain community:

In a recent number of The Review there appeared an article saying that the editor of that popular paper had issued a check in the amount of one dollar, the idea being to see how many accounts that one check could settle. Would it not be pertinent to ask first how our Editor Lee Winbury obtained the dollar? Unless he obtained it of one of the railroad men, the only other source would be from the farm. Of course, he might say that he obtained it from a merchant on an advertising account, but then the merchant would have to get it from one of these two sources. Did the genial publisher get the dollar for a subscription from some farmer's wife who sold her eggs in Portland, or from a prune or other fruit grower, or perhaps he got it from a broccoli grower or a stock raiser. The above industries, together with the railroad incomes, are our only source for outside money, and we have long since worn out the coins we have passed around among ourselves.

Taking it for granted, however, that the one buck was fairly earned, we note in the article that Sam Josephson took the check, endorsed it, and purchased Mellen's food for the baby. Here is our first serious error. We find Sam bringing up Josephson Junior on Mellen's food, instead of educating that youngster to imbibe Douglas County milk and keeping the dollar at home.

Laying aside the fact that some dairymen have been minus a dollar because Sam has been delinquent in his duty in not educating the baby to absorb home products in the form of home produced milk, let's proceed to the case of Dr. Hamilton. We all realize that the doctor is an honest man and did not give the Mellen's food, so that he has to pay for it. Allowing the doctor 30 per cent for his profits and expenses in selling Sam the baby food, he will have to send the other 70 cents to Mr. Mellen to buy more food with, for he has to keep his shelves full in order to do business.

Our dollar has now shrunk to 70 cents, and I am curious to see, after the check changes hands a few more times, how much we will owe ourselves, for it looks to me as though we were going to look like 30 cents ourselves when we take the lesson home and realize how few our industries are. Let's boost for the railroad and sawmill and let's get together and build a cannery, cheese factory and other industries, so that

SETTLEMENT IS NEAR

Gen. Pershing Will Probably Remain in Mexico

PROVIDE FOR BORDER PATROL

Villa's Activities Have Not Affected the Situation, According to Word Received From New London Today

NEW LONDON, Sept. 21.—The Mexican-American commission has nearly completed a settlement of the border patrol problem. The tentative program provides that General Pershing shall remain in Mexico for the present. An additional clause provides that the Carrancistas will assist in border patrolling, but the exact terms were not revealed. The United Press received positive assurance that the plan does not contain immediate withdrawal recommendations. General Bliss must approve the program before Washington and Mexico City can approve it. Villa's Chihuahua activities have not affected the situation.

WOMAN WAS INJURED.

Dr. A. P. Sether was called to the Southern Pacific depot at 4 o'clock this morning to attend Mrs. M. A. Mercer, of Winslow, Arizona, who fell from an upper berth while train No. 13 was passing through Wilbur early today. The lady sustained a severe sprain of the back, together with other painful injuries. She is about 60 years of age. She was asleep at the time she fell from the berth.

DABLIAS BEING SENT.

Commandant Markee, of the Soldiers' Home, and S. S. Josephson, of the Roseburg Commercial Club, will next Sunday send several hundred beautiful dablias to Salem to decorate the booth of the Douglas County exhibit on the opening day of the fair. The dablias will be plucked from the Soldiers' Home grounds and will no doubt attract much attention at the hands of fair visitors.

CONVICT MUST RETURN TO VIRGINIA WHERE HE FORMERLY RESIDED

Readers of the city papers will recall the arrest several weeks ago of a man who gave his name as Pike Page. He was arrested on complaint of South Salem citizens, who stated that he was peeping in at windows and otherwise acting in a peculiar manner, and after an examination was committed to the asylum for the insane.

The man at the time was laboring under a delusion that he was being followed by people who are trying to kill him by putting poison in his food, and the excuse he gave for window peeping was that he thought he recognized in a house a woman who had been particularly active in attempting to poison him, and he had crept closer in order that he might satisfy himself on the point.

Since his commitment to the asylum he has improved rapidly and recently he informed one of the physicians at the institution that as long as he was going to be locked up anyway he might as well be locked up where he could get credit for it. Upon being questioned by the doctor as to what he meant, he stated that his name is not Pike Page, but Joe Part, and that he escaped from the Virginia state penitentiary at Richmond, where he was serving a term for grand larceny.

The Virginia authorities were communicated with, and a reply was received from them that the man tells the truth, and a picture enclosed establishes his identity beyond question.

It is probable that Part will be returned to Virginia.

YOU SHOULD REGISTER.

The time for registering for the general election to be held in November, expires on October 5, and persons who have not registered then will find themselves confronted with the troubles attendant to the use of the Blank "A." Registration has been very slow of late, and there are several hundred voters in the county who have failed to record their names on the registration books.

Sam's baby can have all the imported food it wants without us wearing out our few home dollars.

REVIEW CHECK FOUND ITS WAY TO THEATRE LATE LAST EVENING

The check which was issued recently by The Review traveled some yesterday, no less than 15 endorsements being affixed to the instrument when it showed up this morning. L. J. Barnes, a local barber, who accepted the check early yesterday in exchange for a shave, later in the day presented it at Dole's Cafeteria in payment for his lunch. Mr. Dole then took the instrument to Harth's Toggery, where he purchased a necktie. From there the check went to W. F. Chapman, of the Red Cross Pharmacy. Mr. Chapman later presented the check to John W. Parker, a local bond buyer, who afterward placed it in the hands of W. J. Weaver, proprietor of the Umpqua Hotel. The next person to receive the check was J. E. Rubenstein, a traveling salesman. Mr. Rubenstein later presented the check to Miss Vera Smith, popular saleslady in charge of the cigar stand at the Umpqua Hotel, in payment for some tobacco. Miss Smith encountered some difficulty in getting rid of the check, and it was again placed in the hands of Mr. Weaver. This morning the check was found in the hands of C. W. Parrott, who accepted it last evening in exchange for a ticket for the "nigger" minstrel. The check is 1x17 inches in dimensions and was issued by The Review to demonstrate the purchasing value of a dollar when spent with the local merchants.

RIDDLE DANCE PROVED A DELIGHTFUL EVENT; MANY PEOPLE ATTEND

About 80 young people of this city went to Riddle by special train last evening, where they enjoyed a dance given in the open air pavilion there. The train left Roseburg at promptly 6:10 o'clock and returned here shortly before 2 o'clock this morning. The dance was one of the most delightful affairs of its kind ever held in Riddle and was attended by a big crowd. Old's orchestra, of this city, furnished music for the occasion.

Enroute to Riddle and return the dancers had a world of fun. A. Salzman acted as master of ceremonies and he kept the crowd in a jolly mood from the time they left the local station until they returned here early this morning. All sorts of jokes were played on the more timid of the dancers, and there was fun galore. Credit for the success of the dance can probably be attributed to the activities of Mr. Salzman and a number of other young people who neglected their business in order that they might suit sufficient tickets to guarantee a special train.

WOMAN WAS ARRESTED AS A "LAZY" HUSBAND WAS LATER RELEASED

TACOMA, Sept. 21.—Mrs. Lydia Muncie was arrested today as a "lazy husband." Her husband and a constable brought the woman home from Seattle, where she went after deserting her three small children three days ago. The case against Mrs. Muncie was dismissed when her husband agreed to receive her back.

REPORT DENIED.

Local Southern Pacific train dispatchers today denied the report circulated here yesterday to the effect that there was soon to be a shakeup in the schedules of trains operating out of this city. The dispatchers stationed in Roseburg have received no news of the alleged change in the time card, and are of the opinion that the report was premature and without the slightest foundation. As soon as anything authentic is received regarding a change in the movement of trains here, the local dispatchers say, they will make an official announcement.

BRITISH MAKE GAINS

England's Troops Advanced South of Ancra Last Night

TWO TRENCHES WERE CAPTURED

The Bulgarians Are Said to be Viciously Countering the Serbians—Many Prisoners and Machine Guns Taken

LONDON, Sept. 21.—General Haig reported that the British advanced south of Ancra last night. The Germans strongly counter attacked the New Zealanders, but were heavily repulsed. Paris reported that the French captured two trenches south of Thillemont. They gained 100 yards in the Vaux-Chapelle woods, and took 100 prisoners.

The French Italian forces advanced nearly three miles near Monastir with the allies left wing, taking 50 prisoners. The Bulgarians viciously counter attacked the Serbians. They entered Boreasica, but were later ousted, after bloody street fighting.

Petrograd announced that the Russians captured 700 Germans in the Koryzmitza region. They took positions east of Panturmt, capturing 400 prisoners and six machine guns.

Berlin, Sept. 21.—An official statement indicated that the Teutons are preparing for a new Rumanian invasion from the northern frontier. They have seized the frontier heights on both sides of Vulcan Pass, and have also defeated the Rumanians who recently drove ten miles into Transylvania. The Dobrudja battle is deadlocked.

Conscription Planned.

MELBORNE, Sept. 21.—The New Zealand House of Representatives has adopted conscription by a vote of 47 to 12. The House measure merely provides for a referendum vote on conscription. It is considered certain that the Senate will adopt a similar bill. The national election when the proposition will be voted upon, will be held within a few weeks. The women's vote will probably decide whether to send their husbands and sons to war.

FAREWELL RECEPTION WAS EXTENDED TO REV. JEFFREY LAST EVENING

Members of the Methodist congregation of Rev. W. R. Jeffries, Jr., tendered a reception last night to the retiring minister, who after two years residence in this city, will leave with his family early next week to attend the annual state conference at Lebanon and there to secure his new appointment.

A large attendance was present to extend farewell, and the occasion was marked by many expressions of regret, both on the part of the local people and the pastor. In appreciation of the sincere and steadfast work of Rev. Jeffries, Hon. A. C. Markers spoke the feeling of the congregation and complimented the minister highly on his accomplishments while head of the local church. He reviewed the work of the past two years and declared Rev. Jeffries had labored as had only a few who had ever been located in this city. Following this address, Mrs. C. S. Heinlein then in a fitting manner and in behalf of the members of the church, presented Rev. Jeffries and family with a handsome case, in response to both speeches Rev. Jeffries showed his intense feeling of leaving, and in an earnest and solemn manner thanked the congregation and expressed his regret at moving elsewhere. A social time followed, during which those present explained personally their regret at the departure of Rev. Jeffries.

Rev. Jeffries will preach his last sermon in this city next Sunday, and on Monday will leave to attend the conference.

WORLD KIDNAP WITNESS.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21.—An agent of the Department of Justice disclosed a plot to kidnap and murder Frank Crocker, an important nation-wide blackbird witness. Crocker fully confessed regarding the crime and the syndicate's workings.

PRIVATEERS LEAVE RANKS.

AUSTIN, Texas, Sept. 21.—Seven privateers deserted the 12th provisional division during the march from San Antonio to Austin. Recruiting officers jailed the men, and they were sent to Fort Sam Houston this morning.

REQUEST OF COUNTY JUDGE MARSTERS WAS REJECTED AT SALEM

SALEM, Ore., Sept. 21.—Discovering that road machinery valued at approximately $5000 had been left exposed to the elements in Clatsop County ever since the administration of former Highway Engineer Howley, Governor Withycombe, at a meeting of the highway commission yesterday afternoon, asked State Engineer Lewis to have the machinery placed under shelter. The machinery consists of a Howley concrete grader, several dump cars and an engine.

State Engineer Lewis recommended that for the present no more money be expended on the Rex-Tigard highway, and also reported that the Josephine County Court objected to expending $3000 allotted to it on the Glendale link of the Pacific Highway. Judge Marsters, of Roseburg, had suggested that the sum be expended on the Glendale road, and the commission told him it was agreeable, provided no objections were made by the Josephine County Court.

State Engineer Lewis said that it was agreeable to the interested parties to divert $1500 from a fund set aside for road surveys in the Willamette Valley, for a survey for a road from Independence to Corvallis, and the plan met with the approval of the commission.

WAGERS DON'T WORRY

More Than $50,000 Was Placed On Wall Street Today

WAGERING IS IN FULL SWING

Congressman Frank Doremus, of Michigan, Says He Is Not Worried Because Gamblers Place Money on Hughes

NEW YORK, Sept. 21.—Michigan Congressman Frank Doremus, chairman of the Democratic Congressional campaign committee, telegraphed Mr. McCormick that the "alleged Wall Street betting odds do not disturb me. A Wall street gambler three months ago was betting that Roosevelt would get the Republican nomination." National election wagering is in full swing. Hughes money is plentiful on Wall street and Wilson backers are increasing. Over $50,000 was bet on Hughes today. The odds are two to one.

MAKES FINE MAP.

M. J. Anderson, who is connected with the Douglas County Fire Patrol Association, has finished a fine map showing practically every section of Douglas, and parts of Coos, Lane and Josephine counties, together with the three important lookout stations situated in the local forests. Among the lookouts are Mt. Scott, Lander and Liveoak. Copies of these maps will be placed in the several lookout stations and in the local offices of the fire patrol association. By the aid of these maps the location of a fire can be determined quickly, and men can reach almost any part of the forest within two or three hours. Under the old system two days were often consumed in reaching the fires. During the past summer the men working under the direction of W. J. Lander, district fire warden, and Mr. Anderson have constructed about 150 miles of new trail as well as several miles of telephone line. There is at present about 600 miles of trails in the forests of Douglas County, all of which are said to be in first class condition.

NOTED MUSICIAN TO BE HERE.

In a telegram received here yesterday, Frederick Preston Search, a noted cellist and concert performer, known throughout the United States, announced that he would be in Roseburg Monday, September 25. He is on his way to Chicago to begin his concert season, having spent the summer in California.

The announcement was received with great delight by local musicians and arrangements have already been made for a local concert, which will be held at the home of Mrs. Nadine Shepard, in Pitt's Addition, on Monday evening. Owing to the lack of time the news was received, it was seen practically impossible to thoroughly advertise the event. Tickets can be had, however, from Mrs. Shepard, who will act as accompanist while the musician is here.

HIGHWAY IS OPPOSED

Commissioner Pinkston Does Not Favor So-called Cut-off

WOULD FIRST HELP FARMERS

Mr. Pinkston Yesterday Wrote a Letter to S. C. Bartrum in Which He Outlined His Position Regarding the Road

Believing that the money derived from road taxes in Douglas County should be expended in improving the highways that are used by the farmers in hauling their products to market, and not in building so-called scenic roads for the benefit of a few tourists and special interests, County Commissioner E. H. Pinkston yesterday wrote a letter to S. C. Bartrum, local forestry supervisor, in which he said he would oppose the proposed appropriation of $5,000 by the county court to aid in the construction of the Crater Lake cut-off. Mr. Pinkston's letter was written in reply to a recent communication from the pen of Mr. Bartrum. Mr. Bartrum's reply to Mr. Pinkston follows:

Roseburg, Ore., Sept. 16, 1916. Mr. E. H. Pinkston, County Commissioner, Oakland, Oregon.

Dear Mr. Pinkston:—You will recall that on September 1, 1916, I took up the matter of the Crater Lake Cut-off appropriation with you and the other members of the County Court, and that the Court, as a whole, made no decision. In order that I may inform the District Forester what the County Court is going to do in reference to the annual appropriation of $5,000 I should be glad if you will inform me by return mail if you are agreeable to the appropriation of $5,000 for the year to continue the work. The District Forester is anxious to have the information in order to provide for an equal amount.

Very truly yours, S. C. BARTRUM, Forest Supervisor.

The reply written by Mr. Pinkston and received by Mr. Bartrum today is self explanatory and follows in detail:

Oakland, Ore., Sept. 20, 1916. Mr. E. H. Pinkston, Roseburg, Oregon.

Dear Sir:—Yours of the 16th received. In regard to the appropriation of $5,000 for the Crater Lake & Tiller Cut-off Road, I would not favor the spending of any more money at present. As our County Road Fund is low and we have calls for money to repair and build bridges and assist weak districts on these roads, it is my opinion first to build and improve the roads for the farmer, fruit grower, and general public in our own county, so they can market their produce and build up our towns which can only be done with good roads. Therefore I will have to go on record as being opposed to spending any more money at this time on the Tiller-Crater Lake Cut-off.

Yours truly, E. H. PINKSTON.

BERT DUDLEY HANGED BY INFURIATED MOB; IRON DOORS SMASHED

OLATHE, Kansas, Sept. 21.—Fifty armed men today stormed the jail, and fired at Sheriff Carroll. They smashed the iron doors. The fire department hosed the rioters. Despite the resistance, the mob seized Bert Dudley, a white man, murderer of Henry Muller and wife. They carried him a quarter of a mile to the railway and hanged him to a pole.

SCHOONER IS SAVED.

SEATTLE, Sept. 21.—A wireless received this afternoon said the five-masted schooner Inca, which was reported in distress off the Unalaska reef last night, had reached the Straits of Juan de Fuca in good condition. The vessel is proceeding to British Columbia.

TROOPS ARE REVIEWED.

EL PASO, Texas, Sept. 21.—Twenty-six thousand militiamen and regulars formed in a column 20 miles long, marched past reviewing stands for seven hours. It was the greatest infantry division reviewed in American history. General George Bell and Major General Clement reviewed the troops.

Mr. and Mrs. Horace Rogers, of Portland, arrived here last evening to spend a few days with friends.
