By KATHLEEN COATES

LADIES ATTENTION.

Social items intended for publication in Saturday's issue of The Review must be in the hands of Miss Kathleen Coates by 5 o'clock Friday evening. No exceptions will be made to this rule unless the belated items pertain to some social event held on Friday evening. Miss Coates can be reached by postal card or letter. Items of a social nature may also be telephoned or left at The Review office.

As the warm autumn days creep on and the rich colors of fall clothe the landscape, Halloween becomes the center of most interest. This is one of the merriest times of the whole year and many plans are being made for that occasion which will be announced soon. Already the Halloween note has entered into many of the entertainments and several events lately have been of that nature.

The calendar for this week has contained a wide variety of social activities and the Teachers' Institute provided an intellectual stimulus besides being the inspiration for several social affairs. Perhaps the largest of these was the wintewurst roast enjoyed in Wimberly Park on Monday evening, when the Roseburg teachers entertained. Many games and "stunts" were pleasing and one of the features of the evening was a very clever song composed for the occasion by Prof. R. G. Hall, of Rose school, which reads as follows:

Rose of Roseburg Bids a Welcome to Her Guests

When the Lord made the country, He made many flowers; But the queen of them all was the Rose.
When man made the city, He constructed many bowers; But he beautified them all with the Rose.
Take a Rose, Take a Rose, Wherever you go, Take a Rose. Any fate that may fall, She's the queen of them all, The joy of the earth is the Rose.

When Old Man Oregon Went to find a home, The Land of the Rose, he chose, And the pretty little town That is to him a crown Is the burg of Aaron Rose.

Be a Rose, Be a Rose, For the town of all towns is a Rose, She arises in her might And she does things right, Even Portland wants to be a Rose.

When the town began to grow and show, The little heads of tow, Good schools were what we chose, So we made a half a dozen, But the choicest of them all Was given the name of Rose.

Be a Rose, be a Rose, Come across and be a Rose, For the school trustees Take any school they please And they all send their children to the Rose.

When the Mayor of the town Thought 'twas time to settle down, He whispered to the lady that he chose, "Oh, the fates are so kind, So dearie, dearie mine, We'll live right close to the Rose."

To the Rose, to the Rose, The mayor is a patron of the Rose, All the preachers as they come, First look around some Then they send their jewels to the Rose.

Our girls are the fairest, Our boys are the rarest, All who can, go to the Rose, We are crowded to the limit, We transfer them every minute, The crop never fails at the Rose.
At the Rose, at the Rose, The pupils all pass at the Rose; In athletics we are winners, Other schools are mere beginners, The People are at the Rose.

To the people of the county We extend our hands, You are welcomed by the Rose, We've the best that ever grew, But no better than are you, You, also, look like a Rose.
Take a Rose, Take a Rose, You are welcomed by the Rose, The whole world knows Where the best-rose grows, The thornless Roseburg Rose.

Baptist Missionary Society.

The ladies of the Baptist Missionary Society were very graciously entertained Thursday afternoon by Mrs. H. E. Pickens at her home on South Jackson street. About 14 were present and the early part of the afternoon was occupied with a program on missions and mission work that proved very interesting and enjoyable. This was followed by a social hour. The rooms were very prettily decorated in roses and chrysanthemums. The dearest of refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Ivan Pickens.

Hostess to Sewing Club.

Mrs. C. L. Selecman was hostess to the Sewing Club at her home on Commercial avenue Thursday evening. Sewing, fancywork and conversation made the evening pass pleasantly and the hostess served very dainty refreshments at small tables prettily centered with roses. Those seated were: Dr. and Mrs. K. L. Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Jossé, Mrs. Geo. Bolter, Mrs. C. W. Wharton, Mrs. Clark Bargar, Misses Elizabeth Parrott, Velle Barker, Margaret McCallen, and Messrs. Earl Stewart, Eugene Parrott and S. S. Josephson.

New Idea Club.

The members of the New Idea Club will be entertained next Thursday afternoon by Mrs. F. L. Callins, at her home in Edenbower.

Evening At Cards.

Miss Anna Bryan was a delightful hostess at her home on Chadwick street Wednesday evening when she asked a few friends in to play cards. After several games of this diversion had been played dainty refreshments were served. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Selecman, Miss Velle Barker, Miss Margaret McCallen, and the hostess, Miss Anna Bryan.

Afternoon Tea.

The ladies of St. George's Parish entertained this afternoon at the Parish House with a pleasant afternoon tea. It was planned as a get-together meeting for the ladies to discuss plans for the bazaar which occurs November 5, 6 and 7, and as an informal social afternoon. Very dainty decorations lent a charming appearance to the rooms and delicious refreshments were served.

At Marble Quarry.

Marble Quarry was the scene of a merry picnic party Wednesday afternoon when a number of society folk motored there and spent the evening about a large bonfire where they cooked a most delicious dinner. The evening hours were delightfully occupied and a most enjoyable time was spent until late in the evening. Present were: Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Selecman, Dr. and Mrs. K. L. Miller, Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Hinkley, Mrs. N. Curry, Misses Lulu Curry, Isabel Curry, Elizabeth Curry, Vera Horner Madge Miller, Maybelle Miller, Mabel Van Buren, Elizabeth Parrott, Alice Heecroft, and Messrs. A. Salzman Eugene Parrott and Chas. Curry.

Social Evening.

The Junior Loyal Sons of the Christian church enjoyed a very happy entertainment last evening at the church parlors. A variety of delightful games were played and at the conclusion of the evening a dainty lunch was served.

Eastern Star Banquet.

The Eastern Star enjoyed their usual social evening with a banquet Thursday. A short program was first listened to and a beautiful vocal solo by Miss Lucy Bridges was greatly appreciated. Hon. O. P. Coshaw gave a very interesting talk and the remainder of the evening was spent socially. Halloween decorations gave a bright air of festivity to the rooms and everywhere flicked the gruesome hobgoblin and awesome witch. Black and orange crepe paper was artistically arranged in pretty design and long banqueting boards were beautiful with tall yellow chrysanthemums surrounded by pumpkins in deeper shades. Many clever Halloween motifs added the finishing touch. About sixty were present for the evening, including Mrs. Williams of Portland, who is the guest of Mrs. Marie Ritter.

Happy Birthday Surprise.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Chandler, whose birthday anniversaries both occurred on Monday of this week, were most pleasantly and completely surprised that afternoon at their home on Pitzer street, when a merry coterie of their friends appeared to help them celebrate the occasion. The afternoon was passed with singing, music, conversation and many enjoyable entertainments. Entertainers, Misses Cora and Gene Moore, entertained at the piano, and Thos. Moore played several violin selections that were greatly appreciated. Late in the afternoon a beautiful and delicious lunch was served, the table being most harmoniously centered with a large cluster of scarlet geraniums. Toasts and birthday greetings were tendered to the host and hostess and each of the ladies presented Mrs. Chandler with a beautiful china cup and saucer in remembrance of the occasion. Those present for the afternoon were: Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Chandler, Mrs. M. Martens, Mrs. F. Bailey, Mrs. L. J. Barnes, Mrs. Ferguson, Mrs. W. Bagley, Mrs. M. Moore and child, Mrs. McVey, Mrs. John Ferguson, Mrs. McGrover, Mrs. Neuffer, Mrs. Sloan, Mrs. Koscinz and Mrs. Langenberg.

Entertained For Bride Elect.

One of the charming social functions of the week was given at the home of Mrs. H. Howard on West Douglas street Wednesday evening, when Mrs. Howard and Mrs. W. E. Carl entertained with a miscellaneous and china shower in honor of Miss Mary Carl, who will become the bride of Dan Coffell, of this city, this evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Vernon, in West Roseburg. The young couple will be at home to their many friends at their home on 3111 street.

Autumn leaves and foliage in the bright, glowing colors of fall decorated the rooms and small keycaps and hairpins gave a dainty touch to the lovely decorative appearance. Games and a variety of merry entertainment features made the evening most pleasant and many lovely and useful gifts were presented to the fair bride-elect. As the midnight hours crept on refreshments of the most delicious order were served at a small table, pretty in appointments of keycap and heart design. Cunning place cards were painted with hearts and keycaps and on them were written the names of the following present: Mr. and Mrs. W. Gammon, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Wells, Mr. and Mrs. H. Benton and their guest, Mrs. Crook, of Portland; Omar and Harry Benton, Mr. and Mrs. P. Seals, Mrs. Addie Foster, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Vernon, Miss Minnie Candell, of Hiddle, Mrs. W. Wilson, Mr. Ernest Phelster, Mr. McNeill, Mr. Ernest Miller, Mr. Clarence Coffell, Mr. Dan Coffell, and the host and hostess, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Carl and Mr. and Mrs. H. Howard.

Basketry Exhibit and Party.

An exhibit of baskets made by the ladies of Mrs. Marie Ritter was shown in the window of Strong's furniture store during the week. The baskets were made from matting and raffia and designed in many different patterns for various uses. A rich blending of colors made them very beautiful and show a skillful application of the art. Mrs. Thos. Wharton will entertain a number of the ladies who have been interested in the art of basket making at a basket party at her home in West Roseburg next Monday afternoon.

Cards Were Played.

Another of the series of delightful card parties planned by the ladies of St. Joseph's Parish pleased a large gathering at the Parochial house Tuesday evening. Eight tables were in play during the evening and in the intervals music was enjoyed. Miss Mabel Bryan entertained with a beautiful vocal solo, playing her own accompaniment on the ukelele. At the close of the evening the daintiest of refreshments were served. First prize at cards was won by Mr. Wotnick and Joseph Murphy was awarded the consolation.

Birthday Dinner Party.

Mrs. Elbert Hermann entertained Sunday evening at her home on Hakoley street at a very enjoyable dinner party. The occasion marked the birthday anniversaries of the hostess and the honor guest, Mrs. W. J. Weaver. Covers were placed for Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Weaver, Dr. and Mrs. F. W. Haynes, Miss Toka Haynes, and the host and hostess, Mr. and Mrs. Elbert Hermann.

Joyous Evening.

Miss Phyllis Tisdale was a charming hostess at her home on Winchester street last evening when she entertained, as her guests, the daughters of St. George. The evening was spent with working on banner articles and telling stories of interest. Very dainty refreshments were served by the hostess at its close.

The Sewing Circle met at the home of Mrs. R. L. Russell Wednesday afternoon and enjoyed several pleasant hours.

AT THE MAJESTIC TODAY.

The Week's Dancing.

Among the dancing affairs of the week the first to be given was at the Maccabee hall Monday evening for which the Moose lodge was host. On Thursday evening Ott's Orchestra entertained with a "hard times" dance at the armory and a good attendance was present.

Last evening the Trotters Club held their regular hop at the armory and many of the members were present to enjoy it.

Gardiner Surprise Party.

Monday evening the Ladies' Aid Society and other friends gave Mrs. Fred Earl, of this city, a surprise party, it being her birthday, says the Port Umpqua Courier. Twenty-five were present at the event, which took place at the recipient's home. A bountiful lunch had been provided by the visitors for the occasion, which was served after a few hours of jollification.

Mrs. Earl was taken completely by surprise by those who had planned the party, but not so much but that she was able to make the evening a most pleasant one to all. Before leaving, the self-invited guests joined in congratulating the lady on the occasion and wishing that she might be spared to celebrate many more anniversaries of the same kind.

Birthday Surprise Party.

Last Saturday evening Mrs. Henry Wade was given a birthday party by the Ladies Aid of the M. E. Church of this city, says the Gardiner Courier. The lady in whose honor the party was given had no knowledge of the plans of those who had the party in hand until they suddenly appeared on the scene at her home, laden with all the delicacies needed to make the occasion one long to be remembered. About 18 ladies made up the party. A few pleasant hours were socially spent, after which lunch, which had been provided, was served, the party returned to their homes, but not before wishing Mrs. Wade many more anniversaries of the same nature.

It Saved His Baby's Life.

Some years ago, in a letter to the manufacturers, H. G. Vines, Arispe, Iowa, stated that Chamberlain's Cough Remedy had saved his baby from dying with the croup. This is a favorite remedy for croup with many mothers, and is pleasant and safe to take. Obtainable everywhere.

PRUNE BUYER HERE.

W. F. Drager, of Salmon, arrived in the city last evening to remain for a few days. Mr. Drager is a member of the Dräger Fruit Company, which operates prune packing plants at Salem, Roseburg and Myrtle Creek. Mr. Drager says there is a big demand for prunes this year, and the returns received by the growers are quite satisfactory. In Douglas County the prune crop was exceptionally heavy, while the quality far surpassed that of last year.

HERE FROM ASHLAND.

Harry Hildeburn arrived here last evening from Jackson County, where he has a contract to crush several thousand yards of rock for the state. The crushed rock is being used in improving the roads of Jackson County. Mr. Hildeburn says the work is progressing satisfactorily and he hopes to complete his contract within the next few weeks. He will return to the scene of his operations Monday.

Forget Your Aches.

Stiff knees, aching limbs, lame back make life a burden. If you suffer from rheumatism, gout, lumbago, neuralgia, get a bottle of Sloan's Liniment, the universal remedy for pain. Easy to apply; it penetrates without rubbing and soothes the tender flesh. Cleaner and more effective than many ointments or poultices. For strains or sprains, sore muscles or wrenched ligaments resulting from strenuous exercise, Sloan's Liniment gives quick relief. Keep it on hand for emergencies. At your Druggist, 25c.

PLEAD NOT GUILTY.

F. G. Mathison and E. J. Frasier, who were arrested recently in connection with alleged land swindles in Lane and Douglas counties, yesterday entered pleas of not guilty before Judge Skippworth at Eugene. The men will probably be brought to trial during the next term of court in Lane County. At the time Mathison was arrested in California he was negotiating for the purchase of property owned by S. S. Johns and situated in the vicinity of Myrtle Creek.
