

BRIEF NEWS ITEMS OF THE CITY

Building Landing Station—

The Utah-Idaho Sugar Company has decided upon the location for three of its landing stations in Jackson county, says the Medford Tribune. One of them will be in Medford, one at Talent and one at Seven Oaks. There will probably be others located in the county later, but just where the company has not decided. Each of these landing stations will be 361 feet in length, 12 feet wide and 17 feet high at the dumping platform. The platforms are so constructed as to enable a wagon loaded with beets to be dumped into cars without hand labor. Thirty-thousand feet of lumber is required for the construction of each station.

GLENDALE NEWS.

Appropriate and impressive Easter services were observed at Olivet Church last Sunday, and a large congregation was in attendance at the morning service, which concluded with the administering of the Holy Communion, at which service the largest number of communicants were served that ever assembled in the church. The service was a gem of theological merit. The Rev. Dr. J. W. Knott pronounced the benediction.

The Glendale postoffice, which we are sure is one of the best managed postoffices in Oregon, has been promoted from a fourth to a third class office, which places it in the Presidential class, and makes it a selected instead of a commission office, under civil service. International money orders are now issued from this office and L. L. Hurd's salary is now $1190 per annum and, in addition to this he is allowed clerk hire. During all these 17 years we can say that we have never had a single exception to the excellent management of this office postmaster, as well as those who enjoy this finely managed office, on having such a diligent official and such a well equipped service.

Mrs. J. B. Howell spent one day in Grants Pass this week. Mrs. Wm. Spoker and Miss Bernice Clark accompanied her.

Miss Maude Walker of Ireland, came over to this city Saturday and went to the E. L. Downing home on Sunday, where she will remain indefinitely.

The patrons of the Review in this city and valley are very appreciative of the splendid way in which it conveys the news to its subscribers in the days that all are anxiously awaiting heralds from the seat of war, and from those news centers that gather such news. We are sure there is no other city of the same number of inhabitants that can surpass Roseburg in regard to the splendid service rendered by the two daily papers, the Review and News, in their loyal and patriotic dissemination of news. In this regard they are a unit and stand for true Americanism.

It is with joy, unspeakable, that we note the liberation of the 100,000 exiles of Siberia and their return to their native land and to their homes and freedom. And again we hear the supreme command, "Let my people go, that they may serve me, let the oppressed be free."

J. R. Throne, of Anchor, spent two days in this city last week looking after business matters and greeting his friends. He says there is plenty of snow in the Anchor Valley yet.

L. B. and Richard Miller, of Applegate, were in this city last week purchasing supplies.

Col. Blumfield, formerly of this city, was looking after mining interests here last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Anderson, of the Shively Valley, were transacting business in this city today and purchasing supplies. They stated to us that they were prospering in their former home, and while the snow was tiresome, it was made endurable by plenty of good reading material, and the weekly visits of the rural mail carrier, who brought papers from all over the U. S. They are Eastern people who located at the head of this valley last year. James Thomas, the Anchor postmaster, came with Mr. and Mrs. Anderson to haul out their goods. Mr. Thomas, who inaugurated good roads on upper Cow Creek, is still boasting the good roads scheme, also he is always finding new avenues of prosperity in his home locality.

Slogans of roses and strawberries. They are numerous and all meritorious and it surely will cause a honor to Roseburg when the carnival day arrives.

DRAIN AND VICINITY.

O. M. Krewson, a former resident of Drain returned here last evening after a year spent in Montana and Arizona.

I. M. Hartman, who was severely injured some three months ago while blasting dumps on a ranch near Jacksonville, since which he has been in a hospital at Medford, was sufficiently recovered to return to his home here a few days ago.

The polo setting gang of the W. U. Telegraph Co. which is rebuilding in line through here, have been located in this city the past week. The wire crew on the same work is now in the vicinity of Rice Hill.

R. A. Dozier, who came here some three months ago with a view of disposing of the local arid mill plant, left for Oregon City a few weeks ago. He had been quite ill for ten days previous, but was improved at the time he left.

There was born to Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Newton, on Thursday, April 5, 1917, a daughter, at their home in South Drain.

William Cary, aged nearly 89 years, who had been a resident of this locality for several years, died at the home of his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Lowe, on Monday, April 2, 1917. He is survived by his widow, one son, G. H. Cary, and two daughters, Mrs. Lowe and Mrs. H. D. Gertje, all residing in this locality. Funeral services, conducted by Rev. J. E. Dunlop, and burial took place at the Putnam cemetery in Sunnyside.

Sam Jones, after spending the winter at Long Beach, Cal., returned here Tuesday of this week.

At the city election held on Monday of last week, Ben Huntington, Jr., was elected mayor without opposition, Harry Ensign (re-elected) and Henry Humen were elected councilmen for two years, and Lawrence Newton was re-elected for one year as councilman.

The people of Drain and vicinity, in order to do their full share in the demonstration of patriotism that is sweeping over the country, raised about $20 by popular subscription and with some volunteer work erected a 140-foot flag pole and purchased a 14-foot flag, and on Wednesday of this week with an assembly of people that somewhat resembled a Fourth of July celebration, conducted a program of exercises on the main street in town. Patriotic songs, music by the local band, and a speech by Benton Miles followed by hoisting the flag, which was done by L. G. Davis, a veteran of the Civil War, made up the program, every number being loudly cheered.

Alfred Cellos and his sisters, Miss Ada Cellos and Mrs. Ray Wellington, formerly Miss Bessie Cellos, all of whom formerly resided here, but for the past several years in Wyoming, arrived here Wednesday afternoon. They left their home at Union, Wyo., upon receiving word of the death of their sister, Mrs. Walter Butler, at Modesto, Cal., and expected to meet their brother-in-law here with the body of his wife, but they learned before reaching here that burial would take place at Modesto. The railroad station houses were removed bodily from where they had stood for several years, on Wednesday of this week to make room for the extension of the passing track.

We still have a goodly supply of large, tender asparagus. Oak brand at 20c per box is cheaper than fresh stock, considering waste. While it lasts at the People's Supply Co.

Bank Has Anniversary—

It was five years ago this morning that the Umpqua Valley Bank, on Cass street, opened its doors for business in this city. Although in business but a comparatively short time, the bank has deposits exceeding $100,000, while its total resources are approaching the half million dollar mark. This is considered a most remarkable record and speaks well for those in charge of the affairs of the institution.

Filed Bond Today—

In order to hold the automobile alleged to be owned by Mrs. Norman Agee, and which was recently released from attachment by reason of an order signed by a sheriff's jury, E. C. Benson, secretary of the Douglas Creditors' Association, today filed a bond of $2000 in the justice court. It will now be necessary for Miss Fay Agee, if she is the legal owner of the automobile, to replevin the car. Mr. Benson says he has obtained considerable new evidence which will tend to indicate that the sale of the automobile to Miss Fay Agee was not legal. The automobile was originally attached by Mr. Benson to insure the payment of a certain account alleged to be due one of his clients from Mrs. Agee.

More Members Added— Joseph Mitchell, chairman of the membership committee of the Patriotic Service League, of this city, today reported that 36 new names had been added to the enrollment of the organization during the past 24 hours. The Patriotic Service League is strictly of a local nature and was organized for the express purpose of assisting the Douglas County soldiers who are called to the front.

Preparing to Move— "Black Brothers, proprietors of the "Palace of Sweet," are making preparations to move into their new store in the Hoover building later in the present week. The interior of the room is being remodeled and other improvements are being made. A number of attractive family boxes will add considerably to the attractiveness of the establishment. These boxes are being built in, and are different from those found in other stores in this vicinity.

EUGENE EDUCATOR BEFORE STUDENTS

DEAN STRAUB, OF THE UNIVERSITY OF OREGON, DELIVERED A MOST INTERESTING ADDRESS BEFORE THE PUPILS OF THE LOCAL HIGH SCHOOL.

EDUCATION IS VERY ESSENTIAL

Prof. Straub Says Education Should Be Measured by Dollars and Cents, and Not in General Way—Talk Enjoyed.

"It is not just how much an education will be worth to you in a general way, but what it means to you in actual dollars and cents that I want to speak to you about this afternoon," announced Dean John Straub, of the University of Oregon, when he addressed the assembly of high school students Thursday afternoon. Dean Straub believes in high school education for the young people and he brings a message of encouragement to all of the high school students in the state, to continue their high school studies and enter a college course.

This is the first time in two years that Prof. Straub has spoken in this city, but those who remember his talk at that time greatly enjoyed it. The address which he gave today was a splendid plea for education, for its practical as well as cultural value. Prof. Straub said that he admired the young people with the spirit of independence and self-reliance, but warned them not to become so independent thinking that they will ignore the advantages of college training.

"This is an age of mind and not of muscle," said Dean Straub, "and if young people develop their brain and neglect their body, I am sorry for them. It is a time when efficiency is needed and you cannot afford to let anything keep you from finishing your education. The boy who goes to work immediately upon leaving the grade school has an earning capacity of only $250 per year. In comparison with the man of college education, whose earning power is increased to the average of $2,000 per year. A man gets his best wages for labor when he is young, but there is no limit for promotion in the work where brains are required. Sometime in your life you will have to work hard for about ten or 12 years. If you do it when you are young the better it will be for you."

Prof. Straub advised that in choosing a life profession to find out if some machine can do the work for you, for if a machine can accomplish your work it will drive you out. He said there was no machine that did the thinking. He thought that preparation is one secret of success. "It pays to be prepared," he added. "That is my lesson and what I want to tell you. Get thorough efficiency and preparation for your life work and you won't need to look for the job, it will come to you. It doesn't take several thousand dollars to get through college if you are really in earnest and want an education."

Before concluding his talk Dr. Straub told of the self-support that many of the college students were earning and sketched the educational life among the students at the State University.

A HEAVY FLYER.

Charles W. Hartley, of Sutherlin, despite 212 pounds weight, would like to fly. Although he has never flown before, he is an expert mechanic, and is desirous of joining the aviation corps of the U. S. Army. Mr. Hartley, who is a rural mail carrier in the Sutherlin vicinity, arrived here last evening and made his formal application. On account of his weight, however, it was referred directly to Washington, D. C. If the application is granted, he will doubtless be the heaviest flyer in America.

Nature Cures, the Doctor Takes the Fee.

There is an old saying that "Nature cures, the doctor takes the fee," but as everyone knows you can help Nature very much and thereby enable it to effect a cure in much less time than is usually required. This is particularly true of colds, Chamberlain's Cough Remedy relieves the lungs, liquefies the tough mucus and aids in its expectoration, allays the cough and aids Nature in restoring the system to a healthy condition, cures, the doctor takes the fee.
