DAN POWERS KNOWN BY LOCAL PEOPLE

ATTORNEY WHO WAS DEPORTED FROM KLAMATH FALLS LAST NIGHT HAS SIGNED HIS INTENTION OF COMING TO ROSEBURG FOR A BRIEF VISIT

KNOWN TO CARL WIMBERLY

Mr. Powers Attended the Willamette University for Several Years Before Locating in Portland— Has Socialistic Tendencies

News of the deportation of Dan F. Powers, a Portland labor attorney, from Klamath Falls Thursday night, was received here with considerable surprise as he is personally known to many people of this city. He passed through here a few days ago, and at that time informed Attorney Carl E. Wimberly that he expected to visit briefly in Roseburg on his return from the Klamath (Special).

Attorney Powers and Mr. Wimberly attended Willamette University at the same time and were classmates for several months. District Attorney George Neimey was also attending college at Salem at that time. There are a number of other Roseburg attorneys who also have an acquaintanceship with the deported lawyer.

Speaking of Mr. Powers' experience at Klamath Falls, the Oregonian had the following to say:
Dan F. Powers, an attorney from Portland, arrived here last night to consult with J. W. W. prisoners in jail here. He first tried to gain access to the city hall with letters of instruction from J. W. W. agitators at Seattle headquarters, which recommended and encouraged the work being done here. As Powers' presence here was not desired by the community and as he was not wanted in the jail where he could communicate with the prisoners, a large group of business men conducted him to the bridge over Link River at the west end of town and threatened to plunge him overboard. Powers then offered to leave town. Thirty minutes were given him to get off and he engaged an automobile to drive him toward Astland. He promised not to return here in the interest of the I. W. W.

Made in the U.S.A. "Business Building" is based on Supply and Demand of any Article Transportation and Advertising are the Greatest Factors between the producer and consumer. "Advertising Lowers the Cost of Distribution" Men become strong as they stand together, encourage each other, stimulate each other. Here are ten commandments that should be printed in every American newspaper and published and posted on the walls in many forms by business organizations. These ten commandments form a document that we would do well to study.
1. In all expenses keep in mind the interest of your own countrymen.
2. Never forget that when you buy a foreign article your own country is the poorer.
3. Your money should profit no one but Americans.
4. Never profane American factories by using foreign machinery.
5. Never allow foreign eatables to be served at your table.
6. Write on Amer. an paper, with an American pen, and use American ink.
7. American (Oregon) flour, Oregon fruit and Oregon fruit Juices can alone give your body the true American energy.
8. If you drink coffee, drink coffee from American colonies.
9. Use only American clothes for your dress, American hats for your head, American shoes for your feet.
10. Let no foreign flattery distract you from these precepts; and be firmly convinced, whatever others say, that American products are the only ones worthy of citizens of the U. S. A.
"Made in U. S. A." is a slogan that should swell into a chorus. Men become strong as they stand together, encourage each other, stimulate each other. When you buy, look for your home products; you will find them advertised in your home paper.
