WIELDS CLUB OVER THE GRANGERS.

Although the item of $50,000 for courthouse and jail construction stands out boldly in the county budget, the apologist for the County Court has the nerve to claim that the taxpayers will not have to pay it.

Equally astonishing is the revelation of a spirit back of this movement which seems to emulate the gentle tactics of a highway man, who with a club poised over your head demands your coin.

In this instance the club held over the heads of the Grangers is the threat that unless they "stand and deliver" on this $50,000 proposition the appropriation for a county agricultural agent will be cut off.

Such threats cannot help kindling a burning flame of resentment in every liberty-loving citizen. Our farmers have always been too patriotic and public spirited to submit to such petty tyranny from any self-constituted "superior" power.

In this day of the Nation's great and growing need no one would dare to cut off the very agency whose sole purpose is to increase our food supply. Such threats are preposterous.

Another thing no Granger is likely to forget. He is being daily urged and begged and cajoled for greater and still greater production in every department of the farming industry.

MAKE GOOD YOUR PLEDGE CARD.

W. K. Newell, acting food administrator for Oregon, calls the attention of those who have signed the Hoover pledge card to the importance of taking their obligation seriously.

"This little pledge card, which has been signed by millions of housewives for their families, throughout the length and breadth of the Nation, is no mere scrap of paper," said Mr. Newell recently.

"Our allies look to us for sustenance for their armies and their famishing people, and in addition to this duty we must keep our own army abundantly rationed. This extra demand upon our food supplies must be met through conservation, and for this reason we have been asked to conserve."

"Food conservation, under the direction of the United States Food Administration, is the war task that has been assigned to those who stay at home. It is just as important a task as that of the men in the trenches."

"Those who attempt to belittle the importance of food conservation or to interfere with it, are either prompted by disloyal motives or are in deplorable ignorance of the fundamental needs of our country and her allies in waging this war against the barbarous empire which has made starvation a part of her war policy."

"The Hoover pledge card is, indeed, no mere scrap of paper. Let every patriotic family keep it to the letter, and be glad to have an opportunity to serve as well as such slight inconveniences."

Possibly a good many people do not fully realize the purpose of the item of $10,000 included in the present county tax budget for timber cruising. Briefly it is but the beginning of a movement for cruising all the timber lands of the county for assessment purposes.

STATE PRESIDENT GIRLS NATIONAL HONOR GUARD IN ROSEBURG TOMORROW

Miss Lucille Lindholm, state president of the State National Honor Guard will arrive in Roseburg tomorrow morning from Portland on an extended tour of inspection to all of the county school organizations.

ENGINEER ON HIGHWAY IMPROVEMENT WAS HERE; SAYS ROAD STILL OPEN

That the Pacific Highway improvements in the northern part of the county are progressing in a satisfactory manner with only a few exceptions, was the report made to the County Court here this morning by E. D. Bishop, engineer for the highway commission, who had been located for some time on the project near Leona.

Mr. Bishop arrived today, however, to confer with the County Court with regard to one minor trouble which occurred over the right of way. The subject is a well known rancher of the Leona vicinity, and had caused some difficulty because of the encroachment of the road on his premises, which cut off the rippen from the rest of the place and left no means of reaching it.

Mr. Bishop said at the present time the road is open to travel and that most machines are traveling through daily, although the next heavy rain will probably render them impassable for the remainder of the winter.

SEND MORE TOBACCO AND MORE LETTERS, BEGS A SOLDIER BOY

"Another cigarette and a letter from our friends—that's all we want," writes a Portland boy who is attached to the office of gas service with the American expeditionary force in France, the Portland Journal reports. The letter is from Roy C. Coughton to E. J. Streicher, connected with Gleibach & Joplin.

"If our fellows had as much desire to hear from home as we have over here," writes Coughton, "or if you could even half realize the desire for mail that comes over each of us each time the United States mail comes in and we get home, I am sure each and every one of you would each and every week sit down and mail a letter to each and every person you know who is in the service."

Morton Parsons and myself from the First district, and Finch from the Second Portland district, are all working for your uncle Sammy on work we know nothing of, hardly ever before heard of, although everyone has some vague ideas regarding the same—working longer hours than we worked in Portland, with less compensation, sleeping on cots, washing in cold water, putting our soap and dessert out of one dish, taking a bath when the French bath house has hot water and generally while you lazy loafers won't let us know whether Portland is on the map or not.

"When you come, fill up your harrack bag and all the tobacco you can get in it. Never mind about bringing your extra shirt—you will wear one a couple of weeks longer than usual and won't need but two, but bring your own smoking. The French weed does not make a hit with any of the boys over here."

"When the American boys get started, Fritz will start in fighting. I tell you I am proud of the Americans. There's bigger, look better, can do more work and I believe will more die than any other nationality under the sun."

(Portland Courier). "J. N. Hedden, one of the best known men in the Lower Empire country, was in this neighborhood from Scottsburg the first of the week looking after matters of business."

TURKEY DAYS—Thur., Fri., Sat. of THIS WEEK NOVEMBER 22nd, 23rd, and 24th

We will buy and receive all dressed turkeys we can get. Guaranteeing to the grower the highest price consistent with the best markets on the Pacific Coast

GROWERS BEWARE

We will be guided by any statement or representation from outside parties as to any price that may be obtained in any other market or determined by the Federal Food Control. As we have a letter from the Oregon Commissioner stating that they have no authority to fix such prices and that no attempt will be made to do so, further than merely suggesting what a reasonable price should be under present conditions.

We believe that the grower is entitled to the highest price which conditions in any available market on this coast will justify.

WE WANT YOUR BIRDS

Not only on condition that our price is equal to the best. "Call your birds at home before killing, receive all this money, un-dressed or immature birds for later killing. Be sure that your price is not set for at least 21 hours before killing. You will thereby make more money and help a little in the price on the good birds. You will before seeing us you may lose money."

A twenty-five ct. smoke

One for you, maybe; 100 for a soldier

YOU probably know what that means when you have one; maybe "two for a quarter" is your favorite spend.

But the value of a smoke isn't only in what it costs; it's partly in who smokes it, and what it means to him.

Most men who smoke will give up a quarter without thinking much about it; you want a smoke; you "drop in" and get it. A quarter's nothing to you then.

But over in France, where they can't "drop in" at the next corner, the soldiers are hungry for that quarter's worth of American smokes, that you take and enjoy so lightly.

Our Tobacco Fund for Soldiers is Supplying them

The kit of good smokes that your quarter buys for the soldiers is about double what it buys for you. We've arranged with the American Tobacco Company to make up these "kits" with 45 cents worth for 25 cents.

Your quarter will go farther and do more good in this way than any 25 cents that you ever tossed on the counter. Three packages of Bull Durham, two packs Lucky Strike Cigarettes, one tin of Tuxedo, Plenty of "papers" for making, and a stamped post card addressed to you; for 25 cents.

Better make it $1.00, or $5.00 or $10.00; send four, 20 or 40 of these kits to the fellows who need 'em worse than you ever did.
