STUPENDOUS COST OF WORLD WAR

ESTIMATED THAT OUTLAY OF THE BELLIGERENT NATIONS WILL REACH THE ENORMOUS TOTAL OF $180,000,000,000 OR MORE.

DEBT SEVEN TIMES MULTIPLIED

Kaiser's Insane Dream of World Domination Has Caused Terrible Financial Burden as Well as a World of Sorrow.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18.—Every man, woman and child in the belligerent nations owes seven times as much money as he did at the beginning of the war.

Figures of the war's cost to the world compiled by the Federal Reserve Board are summarized in the statement that the approximate public debt per capita had increased from $60 before the war to almost $400 at the end of July. To this is to be added the cost since July, which is at the highest rate of the entire period.

The direct cost of the war is calculated by the board at somewhere between $170,000,000,000 and $180,000,000,000, not taking into account the amortization of the debt or the cost of indemnities.

Four fifths of the huge burden falls upon the shoulders of the future. It is stated, only Great Britain and America absorbing a considerable amount by taxation.

The total debt of the seven principal belligerents before the war did not exceed $25,000,000,000.

The board contrasts these figures with the total value of the gold and silver extracted from the earth since the beginning of the world which, it says, hardly exceeds $30,000,000,000.

The belligerent nations, therefore, owe about six times the amount of all the gold and silver in all time.

Prices have risen to three times the average of what they were at the beginning of the war, the board shows.

Government efforts to keep prices down have been without avail, it points out.

Exact figures of the various public debts are, of course, incomplete, but the figures for each country are brought up to as late a date as it has been possible to obtain them.

Great Britain's debt has increased almost ten times over in the period of the war, or from $5,589,000,000 to $52,540,000,000, down to last June. These figures do not include debts of Australia, Canada, New Zealand and South African colonies.

France's debt was quadrupled by the beginning of this year, the figures for a latter date not being available, increasing from $6,832,000,000 to $25,410,000,000 by that time.

Italy's debt rose from $2,929,000,000 to $6,918,000,000 by the close of last year.

Figures from Russia are brought up only to September, 1917, but they show that at that time she owed $26,287,000,000, as compared with $5,234,000,000 at the beginning of the war.

The public debt of the United States is calculated to January 1, in order to be in line with those of other countries, increasing by that date to over $8,000,000,000 from a pre-war figure of a billion and a quarter.

Since that time $11,500,000,000 have been subscribed to the Liberty bonds, thus increasing the National debt about sixteen fold. Most extraordinary increase of all was that of Germany rising from $1,208,000,000 to $24,322,000,000, as far back as last December.

Austria owed $2,734,000,000 at the beginning of the war, which was increased by June, 1917, to $11,553,000,000.

Hungary increased her debt from $1,392,000,000 to $5,910,000,000 by December, 1917.

Miss Clara McClaskey was visiting here from Sutherlin yesterday.

W. H. Johnson of Leavenworth, Wash., who was visiting here, left yesterday for Hornbrook, Cal.

C/EDNIR YOUNG MAN WAS KILLED IN BATTLE RECENTLY IN FRANCE

Information reached Gardiner on Tuesday that John Pyritz, of that place, had been killed in action at the battlefront in France. The young man was the only son of August Pyritz, of Gardiner, and was widely known and highly esteemed there. A telegram from the War Department brought the sad news of the young man's death while in the service of his country. This is the third young man from the western part of the county who has recently given his life to his country, the others be-

The following letter was received by Mrs. Bessie Martindale from her son Wayne, who has been in France since last spring. His many friends will be sorry to hear that he has been injured in the shoulder, though we trust not seriously. Although Wayne is not able to write, he found a comrade who was glad to do it for him.

CAMAS VALLEY BOY INJURED IN FRANCE.

The Red Cross is very good and is taking the best of care of us. Our hospital is in one of the famous French winter resorts. Everything here is like home in France. White here I met another Oregon boy who comes from Astoria. We often talk of the good old times that used to be. I will write as often as possible, but news is rather scarce. With best regards to everyone. Your loving son, WAYNE.
