Registration to Close Tonight

The county clerk's office was a scene of activity this afternoon, being filled with belated voters who have put off their registration until the last moment. The books closed at 5 o'clock this evening and those who have not registered at that time will be required to vote under the "Blank A" provisions at the coming election. Ample notice has been given all voters through the press and by advertisers interested in certain measures, but in spite of this fact there are many who have put off this important duty.

Chamber Commerce Favors Millage Tax

At a meeting of the board of directors of the Roseburg Chamber of Commerce the question of giving endorsement to the college fund millage tax and the public school millage tax was given considerable thought and the board recognizing the absolute necessity of more funds to our educational institutions, voted unanimously to endorse the following measure and to give widespread publicity to these two measures to come before the voters. The resolution as endorsed by the board of directors follows:

"Whereas a financial crisis is upon the Oregon Agricultural college, the state university and Oregon normal school;

"Whereas the condition of these educational institutions is due to causes over which they have no control; among other things is the increase in attendance at the agricultural college and the state university of 150 per cent, and

"Whereas, there will be submitted to the voters of the state of Oregon at the special election to be held May 21st, 1929, a measure giving an increase of taxation for said institutions of 1.25 mills;

"Now therefore it is hereby resolved by the Chamber of Commerce of the City of Roseburg, Douglas county, Oregon, that such measures that are necessary for the support of these educational institutions has the approval of this body, and we recommend its favorable consideration to the voters of Oregon.

Reserve Bank To Exchange Bonds

In order to place bonds in the hands of the public during the Liberty loan campaign, the United States government engraved and printed temporary bonds with four or more coupons attached, which by their terms are exchangeable after the date of the last interest bearing coupon, for permanent bonds with coupons attached covering the interest to maturity. The local banks were today notified that the federal reserve bank at San Francisco is ready to exchange these temporary bonds for permanent bonds and the banks are requested to display prominently a card announcing this fact. Holders of Liberty bonds of this nature will be able to exchange their bonds for permanent securities as soon as the last interest bearing coupon is turned in. All except the first issue bore temporary coupons and although the coupons expire at different dates.
