THREADED Rubber Insulation, which is always to be found between the plates of the Still Better Willard, doesn't know what it is to lie down on the job. REPAIRS TO BE MADE TO HOSPITAL

Roof Will Be Put Over Second Floor and Height of Structure Will Be Reduced.

ANNEX IS PLANNED

Financial Affairs Must Be Adjusted, However, Before Construction of Addition Can Be Started by the Organization.

Repairs on the Mercy hospital building are to be started within a short time, it was announced today. Material has been ordered and as soon as it arrives workmen will start the task of repairing the damage wrought by the fire which destroyed the third story of the building. Alterations will be made to the degree and the form of the building will be greatly changed. The third story will be razed and in its place will be put a flat fireproof roof such as is constructed over the business houses of the city, making the structure only two stories in height and reducing its capacity to quite a marked degree.

The insurance money, which amounted to the sum of $3400, will be sufficient, it is said, to cover this expense but will not do more. This will give a hospital greatly reduced in size but still capable of taking care of a portion of the patients that will be brought.

If finances, which at the present time appear doubtful, can be procured, a concrete fireproof annex will be constructed adjoining the lower floor. This annex will cover considerable ground and will contain besides a surgery a number of private rooms. The hallway between the two portions of the building will be continuous but a fireproof door will be built to completely shut off the annex from the remainder of the building in the event of fire. This structure cannot be built out of the present funds and until such time as the financial part can be arranged in some manner the project will be left untouched.

The citizens of the city are glad that a decision to rebuild has been reached. Aside from being a valuable place in the event of accident or sickness to residents of the county, the institution is a moneymaker, not for itself or the organization behind it, but for the city. In addition to the payroll, which amounts to approximately $500 a month, the hospital buys supplies and provisions costing in the neighborhood of $1,500 each month. Aside from this, each patient brings to the city one, two, three or more relatives and each of these stay for periods varying from one day to one month, spending money with the various mercantile and business establishments during the sojourn in this city. Consequently aside from being a desirable institution because of its primary purpose, there is a financial aspect which should appeal to the business man. There is also a civic side which should be kept in mind, for a city without a hospital is in a bad fix. In a city the size of Roseburg accidents are a daily occurrence and a small number of these occurrences are of a semi-serious nature such as to call for trained and immediate medical assistance. The presence of a hospital within a distance that should probably be reckoned in minutes instead of miles, has without doubt saved the life of many a Douglas county citizen during the few years of the existence of the institution, and the fact that the organization is to continue its work in this community should be greatly appreciated by the citizens of Roseburg and vicinity.

The Sisters of Mercy organization has lost heavily on the local hospital, it is claimed. Although the insurance has covered the damage done at the various fires, incidental expenses connected with each of these conflagrations have converted each into a loss. To offset these there has been practically no profit accruing from the business administration. The year 1918 was the most profitable in the history of the hospital, the books show, and in that year the profit for the entire twelve months was $700. Four other years showed a profit of a few hundred dollars, but for the greater portion of the time the expenses and income have been about equal and at certain periods a loss has been experienced.

This fact makes the organization reluctant to proceed with extensive additions to the building on which there is already a small indebtedness, for without profit to meet the expenditure which would be necessary to cover the cost of construction, a very great burden would be imposed.

Logans to Bring Grower $40,500

SAELM, Or., May 4.—Although the majority of Marion county loganberry growers are demanding from 14 to 15 cents a pound for their 1920 crop, L. H. Vincent yesterday contracted to sell his entire yield from 70 acres to the Albany cannery at a stipulated price of 13 1/2 cents. Mr. Vincent estimates that he will have 150 tons of berries, for which he will receive approximately $40,500. Out of this sum, however, the grower will be compelled to expend about $9000 for pickers, while $5,000 more must be deducted for training, cultivating, yard help and transportation.

A few days ago an effort was made to develop a 14-cent market for loganberries, but as yet the buyers have refused to make any contracts at this figure.

Brunswick Principles In Fine Tire Making

The reason you are interested in the name on your tire is that it identifies the maker. By knowing the maker you can judge his ideals of manufacture.

The only secret of a super-tire lies in the principles of the maker. His standards decide the quality. For there are no secrets in the tire industry.

What you get depends on what is behind the name on your tire. Brunswick, as you know, means a very old concern, jealous of its good name. Since 1845 the House of Brunswick has been famous the world over for the quality of its products.

The Brunswick Tire is all that you expect—and more. Your first one will be a revelation. You'll agree that you've never known a better. And you'll tell your friends. So spreads the news among motorists. The Brunswick is the most welcome tire that ever came to market.

Try one Brunswick Tire. Learn how good a tire can be built. And remember, it costs no more than like-type tires.
