

Choose a Safe Job for Your Money

IF your own occupation is dangerous it commands more wages than a safer one because the chances of injury and loss of earning power are ever present. Likewise, money put into speculative schemes must promise higher returns than when kept in more legitimate channels, or when deposited here at the Umpqua Valley Bank.

TIMES "SURE HAD CHANGED"

Doughboys in France Hailed as Friend Man Whom They Had, When "Kids" Feared Greatly.

The story of how two doughboys found their old enemy in France is told by Mike Nolan, former police lieutenant of New York city, who served as a K. of C. secretary assigned to the Sixteenth infantry First division. Nolan is fifty-two years old and put in 23 years on the New York police force. When he changed the blue uniform for khaki, he was in charge of the twenty-third precinct, the old Tenderloin.

On his breast is a victory ribbon with two bronze major offensive stars and three silver citation stars. He has been recommended for the D. S. C. by the commanding officer of the Sixteenth infantry.

He had wandered up to a "little bunch" of doughboys who were "shooting craps," and gave each of the boys a pack of K. of C. cigarettes. The game was an exciting one, and a soldier who was about "to roll the zeroes" looked up at him and asked him to "kiss 'em for a five." Nolan did so, and the dice turned up a two and a three.

One of the unlucky boys who had lost on the toss of the dice looked up at Nolan and recognized him as an old enemy.

"Holy cat! Look, it's Tenderloin Bull Nolan!" he said to his pal. "Don't you remember, he's de cop who used to chase us from doorways for shooting craps when we was kids?"

"Shure," said the lucky soldier, "and he pulled us once for smoking butts. And here he is shelling out packs of real cigarettes and kissin' de bones for us. Damnd if it ain't right dat de war changes de whole world!"

INSIGNIA OF ANCIENT ORDER

That Now Worn by United States Army Medical Officers Goes Back Four Thousand Years.

The caduceus, which was introduced in 1902 by Col. John Van R. Hoff, M. C., U. S. A., editor of the Military Surgeon, as part of the medical officers' insignia, dates back 4,000 years, according to F. H. Garrison, M. D., U. S. A., writing in the Journal of the American Medical Association. For a number of reasons the serpent was always the symbol of medicine in antiquity. The Babylonians' caduceus, which as the insignia shows today—two snakes entwined with wings at the top of the staff—occurs in Hittite remains. It stands for an actual serpent god, Ningishzida, who as the special messenger of Ishtar, was the awakener of life in the springtime, and the Mesopotamian prototype of the Greek Hermes. The Romans had a special functionary, the caduceator, who was a sort of peace commissioner. The caduceus was used on the title pages of books published by the famous medical printer, Frobenius, in 1490 to 1527. The "wand of Mercury," as it is sometimes called, was also carried by merchant traders in ancient times, on excursions where peaceful negotiations were desired and they wanted to be known as neutrals.

Labor Troubles in China.

The $40 a month which the Chinese coolie with his family drew from the Chinese government during his period of enlistment in the army is the basis for the labor disturbance which is rocking China at the present time, says C. C. Thompson of Shanghai in the Seattle Post-Intelligencer. Mr. Thompson explains that prior to the war the average coolie made a monthly wage of $12 to $13, while having become accustomed to the new standards of living made possible by the $40 allotment he declines now to return to the old basis. Even household domestics have become affected by the new unrest and are demanding more money, he says. Recently because of the unsettled conditions there was a strike of dockworkers in Chinese ports which held up all trans-Pacific traffic for a considerable time, Mr. Thompson states.

Owes All to Uncle Sam.

Building upon his past experience as an employee in a shoe factory, the federal board for vocational education placed a young chap of 24, who was disabled at Soissons, in a shoe manufacturing plant for training. His left hand and arm were severely injured by a high-explosive shell, but he finds he can carry on, in spite of the handicap, and is fast becoming an expert shoe cutter. The management, finding his service valuable, are paying him $1 a day—this, of course, in addition to his training pay, which comes from the board. He is enthusiastic and writes: "This training is great stuff. Everything is going fine. * * * I wouldn't have been able to do anything if the government hadn't given me this chance."

Movies Set Distance Record.

Two moving picture records were broken recently, according to the Popular Mechanics Magazine, at the centenary celebration of the Methodist church in Columbus, O. An ordinary projecting machine, equipped with a special lens, a rapid shutter, and a 150-ampere light, was used to throw pictures 100 by 75 feet, on a screen 350 feet away from the machine. The light employed was three times the strength of those commonly used. It generated so much heat that it was necessary to operate the cinematograph at great speed to prevent burning the film. The screen on which the pictures were thrown was 115 feet square.

Newspapers Hit By More Advances

WASHINGTON, May 8.—Further advances in print paper prices are to be made by the International Paper Company July 1 said a telegram from Chester W. Lyman, vice-president of the company, which was presented today to the senate committee investigating the paper shortage.

The message addressed to Joseph Pulitzer, Jr., publisher of the St. Louis Post-Dispatch, said:

"Alarming rise in price for pulp wood, other materials and mill supplies, together with inevitable increase in transportation charges will necessitate a higher selling price for last two quarters. Impossible to foretell extent of increase on account of uncertainty of conditions. Increase in cost likely to continue to turning point reached in general industrial, social and financial conditions."

"Only remedy for present trouble is rigid economy by publishers in their use of news print. It would be the height of folly for government to attempt to regulate or lower spot market as it would result in diversion of many specialty inks now making news print to their normal product."

Burroughs, Willard Smith, Gus Lindholm, W. H. Rose, H. A. Hatfield, Frank Hahn, F. J. Holstead, Douglas Waite, and Clyde Hatfield.

Reception Held Christian Church

A reception and mixer for new and old members was held at the Christian church last night, the lecture room being filled to capacity by the large number in attendance. A brief business session was held and reports of the work of the various departments of the church received. The quarter just past has been a very profitable one in the church and was marked by a great gain in both membership and finances. After the business meeting a social was held in which a number of unique and new games were played, and this in turn was followed by refreshments.

ARRESTED LAST NIGHT.

P. Rocha and Juan Pena, Mexican laborers, were arrested last night when found in an automobile car in the local yards. They were turned over to the county officials and are being held while an investigation is being made.

Mother's Day

"All that I am or hope to be, I owe to my Angel Mother."—Abraham Lincoln.
FLOWER'S FOR MOTHER

Join the millions of men women and children of the great nation in paying homage to her. This day has been set aside by an act of Congress as a day to be kept sacred in honor of the "Mothers" when we, as a nation, turn aside from our usual tasks to pay homage to her who gave us birth, whose guiding hand and unselfish love made life's path smooth for our first faltering steps.

Profusely fragrant and delightfully refreshing, they will, if presented on this day, be a true token of love and devotion. It means so much to Mother, every petal, every leaf, every waft of fragrance is laden with a message for her. It speaks to her in language no human tongue can speak—it makes her feel that the pain, the anxiety, the fear, the sleepless nights, her silent sorrow, her sufferings have not been in vain—it speaks to her of love returned, the sweetest of all compensations, and it means so little to you, measured by the standard of gold and silver. Give her favorite flowers to "The Best Mother That Ever Lived, Your Mother." All flowers are appropriate for "Mother's Day." Blooming Plants, Cut Flowers, Baskets, in fact any of the many kinds she likes so well.

You can mail or telegraph your Flowers if your Mother is in another city. Place your order for Mother's Day NOW!
