

LABOR CONDITIONS HURTS FARMERS

Growers Unable to Meet High Wages Must Allow Production to Decrease.

MEN NOT AVAILABLE

Attractive Positions on Highway Are Accepted in Preference to Harder Work With Less Pay on the Farms, It is Stated.

Dropping into the News-Review office last evening after the paper had gone to press, a comely young woman with a handful of want ads clipped from the News-Review, inquired if we conducted an employment office in connection with the work of publication. The desk man stated that in some instances that was the case. The lady stated that unless someone got out and gave the farmers timely assistance a lot of people would be going hungry about next winter and prices of farm products would soar. The situation became interesting at once, and a good story in what the lady had to say was in the making, because she was evidently in dead earnest.

It appears that the young woman, Mrs. A. S. Kennedy, had clipped several want ads from the columns of this paper and to be sure that she should be able to land a man to work on the farm, took the train and came down in person to hunt up the individuals. She stated that her quest was unsuccessful, as every one of the parties had accepted work on the highway at $5 per day of eight hours—more than any farmer could possibly pay for services of a man, to say nothing of the fact that eight hours on a farm would not get the rancher anywhere. She stated that the contractors had only recently raised wages of common labor on the highway, and no one would consider a farm situation, and that owing to the fact, farmers would be unable to do very much, consequently production was bound to be limited. The lady said that so far her husband had been unable to get his corn planted, and a lot more were in the same dilemma. This fact meant fewer turkeys, because corn is the principal grain used in fattening the birds, and also that fewer hogs would be raised for the same reason. She alleged this situation is inevitable, and that it could only result in somebody going hungry, because she said, that so far as this section is concerned, farmers were handicapped and doubtless this part of the state was but a replica of the conditions in other sections.

That help must be extended farmers at once was her conclusion, or plantings would be limited. If unassisted, farmers would do what they could without help, provide for their own needs, and if there was anything left over it would go to feed someone who had the price to pay.

Fattest Man to Be at Carnival

Joseph Krebeck, best known as "Jolly Joe," is said to be the fattest man in the world. He weighs 601 1/2 pounds, weighed by Chas. G. Johnson, state superintendent of weights and measures of California. Joe formerly ran a restaurant in Sacramento, California, but gave it up when he had grown so large he could no longer get into it. Then he was discovered by Foley & Burk, who engaged him for one of their circus side shows. After he was "signed up" the showman found they had "an elephant on their hands." No passenger coach door was large enough to admit him so they had to build him a state room in a baggage car.

"Jolly Joe" has a wife in Sacramento who weighs 116 pounds, and was at the depot in Sacramento this year to bid her husband good-bye for the 1920 season.

Joe says he likes the show business on account of meeting so many people and his wife says he doesn't flirt. Joe is a good advertisement for Sacramento. In his lectures he always has words of praise for his home city and considers himself an example of the big things it produces.

Jolly Joe will be with the Roseburg Strawberry Carnival for five days and nights commencing Tuesday, May 25, 1920.

The Roseburg carnival will be at the Catholic school grounds, which has been donated free of charge as in former years.

The street parade will start Tuesday evening, May 25, about 6:45 p. m. from the show grounds, thru the business district of Roseburg, then back to the grounds when the big time of the week will start.

OF INTEREST TO WOMEN

This is a Short Letter, but it Brings a Message of Importance to every Woman.

Woodford, Va.—"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Liver Pills before my child was born and it did wonderful work for me. My baby weighed eight and one-half pounds when born and I did not suffer many pains. You can publish this letter if you wish for I would not be without your medicine before child birth."

The reason why Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is so successful in overcoming women's ills is because it contains the tonic, strengthening properties of great old-fashioned roots and herbs. Women from all parts of the country are continually testifying to its strengthening, curative influence, and as it contains no narcotics or harmful drugs it is a safe medicine for women. If you want special advice write Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (Confidential), Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read, and answered by women only.

BOOKS BRING AID TO SOLDIER SICK

American Library Association Serves Ten Thousand Men in Nation's Hospitals.

EFFORTS BRING RESULTS.

Works on Vocational Training Circulated Among Men Who Must Take Up New Callings Because of Their Injuries.

Hospital library service maintained by the American Library Association during the war was credited with great value in aiding in the recovery of many sick and disabled men.

There are still in our hospitals more than 10,000 former service men. Of these nearly 8,000 are in Public Health Service hospitals, the remainder in civilian hospitals. Books, magazines and newspapers are sent to these men from the American Library Association. In the larger hospitals, containing over 300 patients, special librarians are placed. To the smaller hospitals, through the co-operation of many public libraries, library visitors are sent to visit the wards once or twice a week and learn the book needs of the patients.

A special effort is made to supply to ex-service men in hospitals the books in demand as a result of the training given by the Federal Board for Vocational Education.

More Books for Blind.

The A. L. A. in co-operation with other agencies already interested in work for the blind, is printing books in the new Braille type. Because of the newness of the revised Braille adopted for teaching to the American war blind, literature printed in it is limited to fewer than 200 books. Though the total number of blinded soldiers is small, their need of books is great, and the "magic of print" can do much to restore hope and usefulness to them.

Not only for former service men who are sick or disabled is the association working. The value of books proved so great to men in camps that efforts are still being made to connect discharged soldiers and sailors with libraries wherever they may be. Hundreds of letters have reached A. L. A. headquarters from former service men telling of the lack of library facilities in particular localities to which those men have returned.

Direct Service Provided.

In many cases there is a state library commission or a nearby library to which a man can be referred for the books he needs, but if there is no such organization through which he can be served, books for almost any serious purpose may be borrowed directly from the A. L. A. War Service, 24 West Thirty-ninth street, New York city. The only expense in connection with these loans is prepayment of return postage on books borrowed.

The A. L. A. has published lists of books to help ex-service men who are studying to advance themselves in their work. "Five Hundred Business Books" and reading courses on practical subjects are now in preparation.

Other Work Being Done.

Other branches of work which the A. L. A. War Service is carrying on include service to the Merchant Marine, Coast Guard and lighthouses, service to industrial communities which are resultant from the war, service to United States forces overseas. This work is carried on with money received from the United War Work funds, the use of which is limited by the conditions of the gift to those specific purposes.

The service of the Merchant Marine department provides free library service to seamen on American merchant ships in the form of "cruiser libraries," bookcase boxes, each containing about 50 books. These libraries are exchangeable at principal ports. Books and magazines are sent also to men in coast guard stations, in lighthouses and on lightships.
