Winners Named In Advertising Contest

An advertising contest, under the supervision of the House of Kuppenheimer, was recently held in the commercial department of the local schools, and the result sent to the factory in Chicago. The names of the winners in the contest were received this morning by Supt. Smith, together with copies of the winning advertisements. The best ad was drawn up by Millard Meredith, the second by Lealle Butler, and the third by Myrtle Ballif. Accompanying the returned sketches were criticisms on each, and a few words of praise from the Advertising Service bureau of the House of Kuppenheimer. According to the opinion of the bureau the writers from the Roseburg school had sensed the fundamentals of advertising fully, and should have further practice in the art to develop their ability. Harth's Toggery, local agent for Kuppenheimer, will use the advertisements in their regular advertising, accrediting each to its creator.

CORINNE GRIFFITH

Corinne Griffith is known as the best dressed woman on the screen. Her gowns are designed especially for her productions and quite frequently this favorite of the silver screen sets the style for Dame Fashion. But dress is not the only asset Miss Griffith possesses; her facial expression is in a class by itself. There is not an emotion, shade or degree of feeling that she cannot express with her features. "The Climbers," "The Tower of Jewels," "Human Collateral" and "Deadline at Eleven" give an idea of her versatility. These features also show Miss Griffith in some of her latest gowns.
