ONE PAPER ADVOCATED.

Undoubtedly the trend of these times is toward the one-paper city. The following article is taken from the Saratoga Springs (N. Y.) Saratogian:

A Saratogian canvasser made a house to house survey in March. The result of this investigation, on file at this office, where it can be inspected by anyone who so cares, shows that all the homes in the city where a newspaper is read, there are only 56 into which the Saratogian does not enter.

"In newspaper circles the phrase 'one paper cities' is common, meaning those communities in which only one newspaper is printed or in which one is so widely read as to greatly outstrip any other."

"An unexpected sequel to this decrease in the number of newspapers in these cities has been an increase in the quality of community effort, civic pride and co-operation. It was stated that lately, civic sympathies have been much less frequent in Michigan because it has been found where more than one newspaper is in the field, the newspapers are constantly attempting to justify their reason for existence by seizing upon every possible opportunity to take opposite sides of a public question and to foment a discussion for the selfish reason of increasing their readers. When no such reason exists the civic strike has generally ended."

The American Legion weekly tells of a soldier monument in a Louisiana town which has carved in the polished granite on one face the names of the town's city council and on the other the names of the building committee. A few words on the front tell that it is a soldiers' memorial. The Legion Weekly quite rightly asks: "Who won the war, anyway?"

So far no nation that paid its coal heaviers more than its school teachers ever rose to a leadership in the affairs of men.

Motorcycle riders should occasionally slow down to a mile a minute, so they can get some idea where they are going.

Some of these fellows who have got $100.00 locked up in silk shirts, will soon be asking to borrow $10.00 to pay the laundry.

The people who are burning up their money, will want more substantial fuel when the cold days come.

AIRSHIP LINE MAY START SOON

Dirigibles Will Carry Passengers Between New York and San Francisco.

HELIUM TO BE USED

Present Cost of Helium is Ten Times That of Hydrogen, but it Will Be Used for Lifting Power—Will Build Plant.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., May 28.—A dirigible airship line to engage in regular passenger service between New York and San Francisco is a project in which the war department officials would like to interest especially, with a view to having an air fleet immediately available in case of war, according to Professor Harvey N. Davis, of Harvard University.

Professor Davis is engaged in expert work on helium gas for the department, and is designing a plant to be built at Langley Field, Va., where the expensive gas after use in the military lighter-than-air craft may be saved free of impurities and used again.

Estimates by Colonel William N. Hensley, of the war department, indicate that it will be possible for passengers to go by airship overland at a cost of about 5 cents a mile, at a speed of 45 to 70 miles an hour.

"The advent of the airship as a regular passenger carrier is much nearer than many persons in this country realize," said Mr. Davis. "I should be surprised if the coming summer does not see a line of airships in operation by an English firm between the United States and the British Isles, and I have no doubt whatever that a rear from now will see regular weekly sailings."

"By the use of helium all danger of disaster from explosions such as have wrecked big balloons filled with hydrogen will be averted. There will be no fear of ignition of the gas by bullets, lightning or sparks from the engine. In fact, it is pointed out, the engines may be placed inside the water shell of the dirigible, and that except for observation purposes no need be carried outside the big bag."

While the present cost of producing helium is about ten times that of hydrogen, Professor Davis believes that development of its manufacture will result in a cheaper product. Helium will be used to furnish the lifting power in the $2,500,000 dirigible which the navy department expects to obtain from an English manufacturer soon.

Class Day Program Given Last Night

The annual class day program of the graduating class was given in the auditorium of the Roseburg high school last night, and was witnessed by many friends and relatives of the graduates.

The program was presented to the members of the girls' team winning their title this year by Miss Ruth Ann Wilson, of the mathematics department. Those receiving the letters were Vernita Kohlhaugen, Ruth Barlow, Lucille Myers and Rose Brisson.

The class day program included the following numbers: Piano solo, Hazel Hinkle; class history, Mildred Clark; class prophecy, Toka Raynes; religious poem, Harry Hall; violin and piano duet, Bertha Pentney and Hazel Hinkle; last will and testament, Clara Goides; presentation of class gift, which consisted of classic pictures to the amount of $250. Miss Vernita Kohlhaugen, class president, acceptance. Miss Agnes Hopkins, president of the junior class; class song, by the 1920 graduates. The words and music to this song were both composed by Muriel Hunt, one of the most talented musicians in the class. During the program the girls were out for a short time, but in Miss Hunt's program of songs and poems filled the time. The auditorium was beautifully arranged with purple and white flowers, and large 20% developed in the same colors.

R. A. DENNISON, of Los Angeles, owner and trainer of fine trotting horses, who says Tangle cut him right back on his feet again, after he had been in bad health for over a year. Declares he is feeling like his old self now.

"For the past year or more I have not been right physically; I just didn't feel good at all, but last April I had an awful attack with my stomach which nearly drew me up and I have been worse ever since. About the best way I can describe the way I felt is to say I was just leg-weary and all in. I really did not have strength to keep going and I gave up all idea of trying to work. For a long while I had no appetite but would eat anyhow though my food never seemed to do me any good."

"I could go to bed at night and could sleep, but apparently did not rest for I would get up just as tired as when I went to bed. I got so I could scarcely go a block but what I would have to stop and rest."

"Well, I read about Tangle one day and that reminded me that a friend had spoken about the same medicine, so I got some and began to take it. I had been taking it about a week when one evening, after supper, I started to walk and before I realized it I had walked up to First street and back, about 1 1/2 blocks, and never felt it at all, and then I realized that the tonic was helping me."

"I have taken four bottles now and am just feeling real good again. I am able to be back at the Exposition Stock Yards every day and have just as much energy as I ever had. I get refreshed in the mornings and I have a real appetite now which makes me enjoy three good square meals every day. Anyone who needs a good tonic will certainly be satisfied with Tangle and I am glad to recommend it to my friends."

The above statement was made recently by R. A. Dennison, a well known owner and trainer of fine trotting horses, residing at No. 214 East 8th St., Los Angeles, Cal. Dennison has lived in California for 22 years; he is 62 years of age and has followed his present line of business for 20 years. He is well known on the Pacific coast.

Tangle is sold in Roseburg by W. F. Chapman, and by the leading druggist in every town.
