WILBUR REUNION WAS FINE EVENT

(Continued from page 1) of Mrs. Inez Miller, one of the most popular principals of the Wilbur schools in recent years, and to whose efforts is largely due the inauguration of these annual reunions.

The afternoon session was opened with the dedicatory program for the fine new school building erected during the past year.

The dedicatory address was given by Judge J. W. Hamilton, of Roseburg, a former student of the Umpqua Academy.

We are honored by being privileged to take part in the dedication of this new building for this widely known educational institution, declared Judge Hamilton.

The cost of living must be no higher. Wages must be advanced in every case to a point at which the American standard of living is secure.

Officers Are Chosen. During the business session which followed the dedication, officers of the association were chosen for the ensuing year.

A letter from Mrs. F. B. Watts was read, announcing the presentation of nearly 250 volumes to the library of Umpqua Academy.

As a mark of appreciation by the association and the friends of the Wilbur schools of the work of the people of Wilbur in erecting this fine new building, which is so admirably fitted to the purpose for which it is to be used, the following resolution was unanimously adopted:

Resolved, that the Umpqua Academy association in annual session assembled, do hereby make this recognition of our warmest appreciation and recognition of the people of the Wilbur school district in voting the bonds and doing the intricate work which has resulted in the splendid building which we are privileged to occupy today.

The annual address delivered by Hon. Austin Mirre during the morning session was considered such a comprehensive and masterly effort that it was unanimously voted that it be entered in full on the records of the association.

A number of new members of the association were elected and the report of the committee on library was made. Four more members were added to the library committee and it was voted that one-tenth of the annual dues be devoted to the purchase of books for the library.

Further social converse and another luncheon on the school grounds completed a very happy afternoon. In the evening there was more music, followed by the old-time play, "Among the Breakers," produced in the main by the same cast of characters who played it here about 25 years ago.

A large crowd was present during the day, while in the evening even standing room was at a premium by the great number who assembled to see this noted old time play.

Too much praise cannot be given to the officers, members and patrons who had the day's program and arrangements in charge, and multi-plied praise and commendation was given to the people of Wilbur and vicinity for their splendid support of this famed educational institution and their unbounded hospitality in entertaining the annual sessions of the association.

LABOR FEDERATION MAKES REPORT

(Continued From Page 3.) ed so as to give credit to all properly organized co-operatives, just as credit is now given to individual farmers. Co-operation is no less vital and worthy of support than are the railroads, which were given hundreds of millions of dollars and an area of land equal to New England to facilitate their establishment.

"We urge that the U. S. department of labor compile and issue monthly statements of the cost of manufacture of those staple articles which form the basis of calculation in fixing the cost of living.

"We do not demand, nor do we desire, a precipitate collapse in prices generally, for in such a collapse there would be the greatest danger of national calamity.

"The workers are appalled at the waste and ignorance of management, but they are too frequently denied the chance to offer their knowledge for use.

"They decline to be enslaved by the use of knowledge and they can not give it frequently or effectively except as equals in industry, with all of the rights and privileges and with all of the stature and standing of employers.

"Adoption of the principle of voluntary effort, of full co-operation in industry, will bring to the industrial life of the nation such an impetus that production will cease forever to be a problem in American life.

"Evidence in possession of the Trade Union movement is that workers today are as willing to work as ever and that their productive capacity is as great if not greater than ever," the report states.

"In so far as possible employers should be labor have sought to re-introduce autocratic control into industry, making necessary a resistance on the part of the workers.

winning of the war. It made industry more productive. Industry today requires these remedial measures:

"It requires greater democracy in order to give to the workers full voice in assisting in its direction.

"It requires more intelligent management and acceptance of the principle that production is for use and not for profit alone.

"It requires full and free acceptance and use of the best that invention has to offer.

"It requires bold and audacious reconstruction of method and process in the conduct of basic industries.

"Labor does not oppose introduction of improved methods in industry. It courts and encourages improvements, processes and machinery. What it will always resist is the introduction of these processes and this machinery at the expense of the workers.

"There is a knowledge of industry among the workers in industry of which society has not begun to avail itself.

"The workers are appalled at the waste and ignorance of management, but they are too frequently denied the chance to offer their knowledge for use.

"They decline to be enslaved by the use of knowledge and they can not give it frequently or effectively except as equals in industry, with all of the rights and privileges and with all of the stature and standing of employers.

"Adoption of the principle of voluntary effort, of full co-operation in industry, will bring to the industrial life of the nation such an impetus that production will cease forever to be a problem in American life.

"We urge the setting up of conference boards or organized workers and employers, thoroughly voluntary in character and in thorough accord with our trade union organizations, as means of promoting the democracy of industry through development of co-operative effort.

"Labor runs-over is but one of the evils which will disappear in proportion as the workers are given voice in management. This is proven by statistics which show the lowest turn-over in those industries where the workers exercise the most effective voice by reason of the highest degree of organization.

"We propose the salvation of industry. We propose the means whereby the world may be fed and clothed and housed and given happiness. We have service to give and terms of manhood and equality we will give in abundance.

"On the subject of bolshevism and other extremist propaganda, the report has this to say: "During the year just passed the labor movement has stood its ground solidly and maintained the progressive, constructive policy which has marked it apart from most of the labor movements of the world throughout the whole period of the world war.

"But the nation has witnessed sporadic outbreaks of extremist sentiment and has been compelled to deal with extremist propaganda in a number of cases since the war period came to an end. This tendency toward unreasoned conduct and unreasoned thought has been most unfortunate for the nation and still more unfortunate for those who have been the participants.

"Bolshevism has been a lure for some of our people and its doctrines have been propagated with great vigor. This hideous doctrine has found converts among two classes of people principally—those intellectuals, so-called, who have no occupation save that of following one lead after another, and those who find in the game of life that they lead no appeal in anything except the most desperate and illogical schemes. The rank and file of the organized labor movement, as was to have been expected, has given no countenance to the propaganda of Bolshevism, but has, on the contrary, been its most effective opponent in America.

"The propaganda of revolutionary thought has not been limited to the propaganda of bolshevism. It has taken other forms. The 'one big union' idea has had its adherents, despite the disastrous results of the experiment in Canada with its treacherous machinery during the year preceding our 1919 convention.

"It is gratifying to note that everywhere the ostensible strength of this propaganda has been lost and that its fallacies are daily becoming clearer to its former victims.

"Of more importance than the results of studied propaganda of revolution and extremism is the feeling of unrest among our people which is due to abuses in our political and industrial life and which seeks relief and freedom and not revolution and catastrophe.

"The written and spoken propaganda of unreason and extremism can be met and defeated by truth. But legitimate unrest, growing out of conditions of injustice can be met and overcome only by intelligent dealing with conditions. Those who drink from a poisoned well will be poisoned until the well itself is poisoned."

Covering nearly 250 closely printed pages the report makes references to almost every phase of the organized labor movement.

Oakland Tribune Sold By C. A. Riddle

The Oakland Tribune, which was established about a year and a half ago by Claude A. Riddle, has been sold by him to D. C. Boyd and R. A. Hutchinson. The new management will charge this week. Riddle has given the people of Oakland a good weekly paper and his successors will doubtless keep it fully up to the standard. Mr. Boyd is a well known printer and newspaper man and Rev. Hutchinson is favorably known throughout the county.

Mr. Riddle expects to move his family to Riddle where he will be associated with his brother-in-law, D. Riddle, in the prune growing industry. They have arranged to take the management of the big orchard which adjoins the town of Riddle, which with the orchard of E. D. Riddle, includes an area of about 40 acres of full bearing, which makes it a very valuable property.
