Beckley Ranch Sold to New York Man

One of the biggest real estate deals consummated for many months was completed yesterday when the Beckley brothers ranch, consisting of 2400 acres on the North Umpqua river, was sold to R. C. Oliver, of New York, recently of South Africa. Oliver is an official of a Belgian mining company which is operating in the South African mines. He is expected to retire in a few years and will make his home on the ranch. The place, which was bought by the Beckley brothers, was formerly owned by the J. W. Beckley place was also sold recently to the Beckley brothers' ranch is one of the largest in the county and contains 400 acres bottom land with a large range in connection. The buildings are all modern and well improved and a large part of the place can be used for general farming purposes.

South Deer Creek Couple to Marry

Preparations are being made for a very enjoyable event to be given to-night in honor of Agnes McCormack and Harley Swift, residents of South Deer Creek, who are to be married this evening. The wedding will be attended by the immediate friends and relatives and afterwards a general social time will be given at the Grange hall, where the bride and groom will be honored by the entire community. The couple will leave soon for Los Angeles for a wedding trip and will then go into Washington to make their home.

POULTRY RANCH STRICTLY MODERN

Winchester Man Has One of Best Equipped Poultry Farms in County.

BUILDING IS ADDED

New Structure containing Many of the Latest Features Just Completed to Accommodate a Large Number of Fowls.

J. H. Clark, Winchester poultryman, has just completed a new laying house to accommodate 500 chickens, which addition gives him one of the largest and most modern poultry farms in southern Oregon. Mr. Clark has made many substantial improvements on the farm which he recently bought and now has what is perhaps the best equipped plant in the county. The building was started several weeks ago and is of the very latest type and contains many new features which will greatly assist in handling and caring for poultry in addition to providing suitable nests. Nest banks are located under the front part of the structure, which is 50x82 feet in size, making a very valuable addition to the equipment already on the place.

Mr. Clark was one of the first residents of this immediate vicinity to go into the poultry business on a commercial basis. He started with a 10-acre tract in Edonbower, where he was able to carry about 1000 chickens. He developed this place to a very high point and was finding it very profitable when he sold it at a very attractive figure to F. E. Chase, who still operates it at a substantial profit on his investment. Mr. Clark then bought the 24-acre place he now occupies at Winchester and has given his entire time and attention to its development. He will install all of the latest and most approved devices and will have his place thoroughly equipped for the handling of poultry. He has given much study to the industry and has succeeded in conducting the business in a thoroughly efficient and profitable manner.

His present location gives him a large amount of available land on which he can raise all the feed necessary to keep the fowls in perfect condition, and in addition has room for his own home garden. His place adjoins the railroad and the Winchester station so that his shipping facilities are unexcelled. Mr. Clark started in with a small investment and faith in Douglas county as a suitable place for poultry raising, and has demonstrated the correctness of his belief as well as providing himself with a well paying business. His success has led many others to engage in the industry until at the present time the county is rapidly becoming a poultry center and within a short time there will doubtless be a still greater growth.

His highness, the Great Tchelabi, is the highest ranking official in the Mohammedan religion next to the sultan, and is the person called upon when a new sultan is to be crowned. His religious and political powers are unequaled in the Turkish empire.

What a lot of argument there used to be about a woman driving an automobile

TODAY she can "make a train" or fix a tire as well as anybody.

As soon as a luxury becomes a necessity the point of view changes.

Two or three years ago you would have listened to more varying opinions about tires than you could shake a stick at. Mileages, construction, treads and whatnot.

It's different now. Tire users are working towards a unanimous feeling.

You express it one way—the man down the street another. But sifted down it amounts to this:

That the only way to settle your tire problem is to get a tire of known value and stick to it.

We recommend and sell U. S. Tires because their value is known.

There's no guess about it.

It was the U. S. quality policy which led to the perfection of the straight-side automobile tire, the pneumatic truck tire—two of the greatest additions to tire value that have ever been made.

As representatives of the oldest and largest rubber concern in the world, we are in a position to tell you something about tire values. Come in some day and talk to us.

Select your tires according to the roads they have to travel. In sandy or hilly country, wherever the going is apt to be heavy—the U. S. Nobbs.

For ordinary country roads—The U. S. Chain or Usco.
For front wheels—The U. S. Plain.
For best results—everywhere—U. S. Royal Cords.

the forest fire season with the airplane patrol this summer, according to information given out yesterday by N. F. Macduff, supervisor of the Cascade national forest.

Instructions have been received by the supervisor to provide a landing field and shelter for the observers and radio equipment, also quarters for the ten enlisted men. The municipal aviation field will be used this year as last, said Mr. Macduff.

W. E. Naylor, assistant in the office of the Cascade forest, has received orders to go to Portland and act as observer out of that city during the season. He took a special course in observing from planes and in radio work at Marsh field, Calif., last winter. The observers stationed here will be J. Jacobson, Jack Benford, Don Davis and Elmer Pendell, all students of the University of Oregon.

C. W. Boyce, of the district office in Portland, has been assigned to Eugene as liaison officer.
