

AMERICAN LEGION
HOLD CONVENTION

Will Meet in Astoria July 30, 31 and August 1st—Program Announced.

HAVE REAL MESS LINE

"Hit That Old Mess Line Buddy" is the Slogan Adopted by Clatsop Post for Chow Time—A Big Time Expected There.

ASTORIA, Ore., June 15.—To make the second annual convention of the American Legion for the department of Oregon, the greatest event in the Northwest for ex-service men since the war, is the intention of the committee on arrangements which is busily engaged in outlining the program for the important event.
Astoria is the city which secured the honor of entertaining the delegates and their friends and the dates are Friday, Saturday and Sunday, July 26, 31st and August 1st. Clatsop post No. 12, which on account of its activity in connection with con-battling bohemian has become widely known throughout the country, has proclaimed that the "buddies" will be entertained as they have "never been entertained before." The committee on arrangements is as follows: Jesse R. Homan, chairman; S. A. Wold, secretary; Astoria, Lane Goodell and Arthur Murphy, Portland; Pat Dillon, Seaside; R. H.
Hoskins, Leland R. Gilbert, E. T.
Gooch, Harry Fuller and F. H. Vin-cell, Astoria.

According to the present arrangements that are being made, the ex-service men and their friends will gather in Portland on Thursday, July 29th and board a special train that will leave in the afternoon for Astoria. The train will arrive in the convention city about 5 o'clock where the visitors will be received and assigned to quarters. The entertainment features will start the same evening, among which will be a big free dance on the streets, music to be furnished by a 29-piece concert band.

The convention will open on Friday morning with an address by Governor Ben W. Olcott. It is expected that the national commander, Frank DeWolfe, will also be present to address the ex-service men. The largest place in the city, the Astoria theater, has been secured in which to hold the convention.

One of the entertainment features of the three days gathering will be the big salmon barbecue and arrangements are being made to send at least 1000 ex-service men at one mess table. E. T. Gooch, chairman of the committee having this affair in charge, has adopted the slogan, "Hit that old mess line buddy," and will insist that all live up as in days of "ore, for the big feed. The bugler will blow mass call and the love line of American Legion members will wind through the streets to the scene of the banquet.

Friday evening, July 30th, has been set aside for the Annual American Legion Convention hall, which promises to be one of the most brilliant affairs of the kind ever staged in the city.

The convention will adjourn long enough on Saturday afternoon for the delegates and visitors to participate in the big historical and statistical parade. Prizes will be offered for the post in the state having the largest number of members in line in proportion to membership. Many floats and interesting features are planned for the parade.

Sunday, August 1, will be spent at Seaside where the citizens of that progressive beach resort will serve a clam feed to the delegates and visitors. In the evening will be staged the spectacular pyrotechnical display depicting the "Battle of the Argonne."

GLENDALE NEWS.

J. B. Hart, of the well known firm of Hart, Grant & Hart, at the Central garage, has the prospect of shipping the first carload of cars ever brought to our city. He has also made an additional shipment of Chevrolet cars and still the demand exceeds the supply. The Central garage is a very convenient location south of the post office and one of the firm is always in the office to great customers.

We are pleased to note that Mrs.
A. H. Henson is slowly improving in health at their home in this city.

Mrs. M. E. Kennedy is visiting her son and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Hudson, at Portland.

C. O. Garrett is wearing a cast.
He had the misfortune to cut his foot quite severely. We hope the injury may not be very serious, yet

LADY GEDDES

This is a very recent photograph of Lady Geddes, wife of Sir Auckland Geddes, the new British ambassador to the United States.

It is painful.
Marion Hanks, a prominent citizen of Klamath Falls, made us an appreciated call this week with his wife and their daughters. They were enroute to Portland to visit the Rose Festival and enjoy Shriners' week.
They will spend a few days here as they return home.

Mrs. S. Jacques and Miss Estel Harris made us a pleasant call on Tuesday.

Miss Freda Rogers is again on duty at the Hagen & Wilson canteen.
Mrs. E. J. Garrett, of Grants Pass, came to visit her brother and family.
Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Totton, who were moving to Eugene.

Mrs. Mary Watkins and Mr. Lew Carnes, of Astoria, were married on the 15th inst. at Eugene, the Rev.
E. W. Warrington officiating. The bride's father, Mrs. A. R. Watkins, and her brother, Wm. Dawson, went to Roseburg with them to be present at their marriage. Thus ends another romance of the war, as their engagement lasted five years. Mr. Carnes served in the service and his fiancée stayed at home with her mother, who was in poor health, until the war ended, and the mother is in much better health. Mrs. Carnes' father, Wm. I. Watkins, was a Roseburg pioneer and died at Roseburg several years ago. This most estimable couple have the best wishes of a host of friends and relatives here. They will make their home at Astoria, where Mr. Carnes is engaged in business.

We all voice sincere regret in the going away of Mrs. S. W. Miler and Mrs. J. L. Winchell, who have gone to Seattle to reside, where Mrs.
Winchell's sons are employed. May they enjoy peace and prosperity in their new home.

A brother-in-law and sister of P.
N. Wilson were called here on account of Mr. Wilson's illness. Mr.
Wilson is now some better. He is most tenderly cared for by his wife and son at their beautiful home in South Glendale, and we hope to note his speedy recovery.

Rev. Harry McConnell, of New York, the new pastor of Olivet church, arrived here last Saturday and was present at the Sunday morning service. Olivet church greets our new pastor appropriately and extend him a hearty welcome.

Glendale is growing every day and our business houses report large sales and small profits. Everybody is happy—only two cases of measles in town—and our popular M. D. looks a little gloomy over most excellent health conditions.

Mr. and Mrs. John H. Moore are the happy parents of a baby girl born June 12, and Mr. and Mrs. Bndell Hoore are very happy and smiling grandparents. We congratulate you all.

NOTICE OF ANNUAL SCHOOL
MEETING.

Notice is hereby given to the legal voters of School District No. 4, of Douglas County, State of Oregon, that the Annual School Meeting of said District will be held at Roseburg High School Bldg., to begin at the hour of 2 o'clock p. m. on the third Monday of June, being the 21st day of June, A. D. 1920.

This meeting is called for the purpose of electing two directors, to serve for a term of three years, and the transaction of business usual at such meetings.

LOVE and MARRIED LIFE
by the noted author Idah McGlone Gibson

JOHN IS HAPPY.

"Well, are you going to be able to go for a motor ride with me this morning, Mrs. Gordon," he asked.
"I am afraid not, Mr. Gordon, the nurse answered for me, 'but I think she may take a little ride tomorrow afternoon.'"

"I won't be here tomorrow afternoon; I have got to return."

"Oh, I am so sorry," I said.
"Well, the sooner I return, probably the sooner you will come back home yourself. We haven't been much together in the last year, have we Katherine? We will have to begin all over again. Shall I move into the new house before you return, or would you rather do that yourself?"

"You certainly are beginning all over again, John," I said. "In ordinary circumstances you would never have asked my opinion on this subject but moved or not as you thought best."

"To tell the truth, I would rather not move until you come home."

"Well, anyway, I am pleased that you have gone about the matter diplomatically, and in this case I want to say to you that your ideas and mine are in perfect accord. I would rather do the 'moving.'"

Letters From Karl.
"By the way, have you heard from Karl Shepard lately?" John asked unexpectingly. "He was so devoted, sending you flowers and hauling me over the coals for my little derelictions that he supposed were mine, that I thought he must have at least written to you."

"Yes," I answered. "I have received two or three from him."

John looked up in surprise.
"Where is he?" he asked.

"In India, now," I answered.
"Have you written to him?"

"No, I have not; in fact, I don't think he expected his letters to be answered."

"Oh! they were just simply the ordinary post cards, or letters of travel?" said John.

"I did not answer, as I did not want to show John Karl's letters yet. In fact, I was not sure that I would ever show them to him."

"Spooky, wasn't it," he said, "that he should give up his business and traveling all by his lonesome? However, I could do it easy, if I had plenty of money and I don't know that I blame him. When I am rich enough I shall try to take it easy, too."

This morning John seemed perfectly happy. The world was using him as he would wish to do. I had not only given him a daughter, but she had brought, in her little hand, a $25,000 check.

Never Will Change.
I suppose I must get over the fact of wanting John to think less of money than he does, because I am sure he never will change in this direction. I lost caste with him when my father died and he found that I had given up my small personal income to my mother. I gained it back again when he thought I was an heiress to some splendid oil wells.
Again my stock was below par when he found that those wells were not paying and now that Charles had given little Mary $25,000 he again thought that possibly his life might be worth something after all.

I had just begun to think that the world was very beautiful after all, and deciding within myself that all that had ailed John, all that had made our marriage an unsuccessful one, was the fact that we had no children, when John abruptly said:

"Do you know when we leave for the new house Elizabeth Moreland is going to come and live with mother?"

Turkish Women
No Longer Shy

CONSTANTINOPLE, June 15.— Turkish women are no longer the shy veiled creatures who passed their time in the seclusion of the harem and were never seen by foreign men. They still cling to the veil. But the streets in Constantinople and other large Turkish cities are filled with women who have their veils thrown back from their faces. They are highly ornamental and becoming. Most Turkish women don't want to abandon them in favor of hats. But there are many sorts of veils and the smart, black silk veils which some of the women are very fetching when draped artificially over their hair.

In the railway and street cars there are special seats for women, but the filmy curtains which are supposed to screen them from the gaze of men are usually drawn back and it is not uncommon to see men standing in the compartments for women. Only very old men, however, are seen enough to sit down in the same seat with a Turkish woman.

Turkish women seldom go to a theater where there are men. Special matinees and evening performances are arranged for women only.
The war has done much to break down the barrier between Turkish men and women. The women were needed so badly as nurses and relief workers that the government had to allow itself of their services.

And now it is regarded as quite proper for men and women to be associated in all sorts of charitable works. Consequently many women who were formerly forced to content themselves with seclusion in a home where fancy work and French novels were the only diversion, are devoting their time to hospitals, orphanages and other philanthropic institutions.

Women who have been educated abroad or in the foreign schools in Turkey are the leaders in this movement for greater freedom for their sex. Their broad experience in war work has interested many women in socialities and they have openly played a great part in the national movement. In the Constantinople Women's College the Turkish girls take great interest in basketball and other athletic games and the effect upon women who have come under foreign influence is making the old life of seclusion and inactivity unattractive to younger Turkish women.

DISSOLUTION OF PARTNERSHIP.

Notice is hereby given that the partnership heretofore existing between F. C. Powell and L. L. Robertson, known as Powell & Roberts, is by mutual consent this day dissolved.
F. C. Powell will continue the Maxwell and Chambers car agency at the present location. L. L. Roberts will continue the agency for the Chandler and Cleveland cars.

Farmers' Feed shed at Washington and Main streets for a number of years, has changed the name of the place to the Travelers Garage.

College Boys
Take to Air

EUGENE, June 15.—The law-mower, long the symbol of "working one's way through college" is being forced from his position by such innovations as the airplane. This summer Jacob Jacobson, of Juncosn City, Don D. Davis, of Nyssa, and John W. Benefield, of Portland, students at the University of Oregon, will make their attendance at the institution next year possible by serving as observers in the airplane forest patrol.

These three men, who gained their flying experience in the nation's exercise, will take up their novel work June 25, immediately following the university commencement. Each of the four planes with which they will work will make half of the circuit from Eugene to Mount Hood, to As-toria, to Roseburg, and back to Eugene daily. The machines will be equipped with wireless by which the observers may report blazes detected.

Elmer Cook, of Salem, a freshman who a year ago was flying in France, will spend the summer piloting a commercial plane with headquarters in his home city.

WASHINGTON, June 15.—Endorsing in the main the action of the republican national convention at Chicago, Herbert Hoover in a letter to friends, which was made public today, after he had conferred with Senator Harding, called upon all elements in the party to support the national ticket at the polls in November. Hoover declared that the greater part of the Chicago platform is constructive and progressive, and that nothing prevents a compromise on the planks on labor and the league of nations from being given a forward-looking interpretation. He added, however, that "some things, including the reorganization of the election expenditures at the primaries, are not adequately dealt with in the platform."

STATE PAYS NINE MILLION A YEAR FOR PLEASURE

By Earl C. Brownlee
Oregon people will have spent within the fiscal year ending June 30, at least $9,249,844.12 for theatrical, motion picture, concert and amusement resort entertainment.

This rather astounding revelation of the scope of the industry in the state is gleaned from the statement of amusement tax returns for the first 11 months of the fiscal year, as compiled in the office of Milton A.
Miller, collector of internal revenue, to whom is delivered the 10 per cent tax collected when admission tickets are sold. The fiscal year covered by the figures opened July 1, 1919, and will close June 30, 1920.

Collector Miller's figures show that from July 1, 1919, to May 31, 1920, Oregon people spent exactly $8,479,023.74 for amusements to which admission was charged, or an average of $770,820.24 each month.
With that average it is apparent that the total for the 12 months of the fiscal year will be $9,249,844.12.

The public expenditure for entertainment includes the price of admission plus 10 per cent amusement tax, which means that for the 10 months of the year the treasury of the United States will derive $840,894.96 in taxes. To the theatrical and motion picture industries will go the remaining $8,408,946.60.

Few industries in the state, as far as official calculations show, realize a greater income than the industry of public entertainment. The income is distributed, of course, to a great many individuals and amusement companies, but the total remains an astounding insight into the very scope of the business of providing the pleasure seeker with the joy of life.

ANNUAL STOCKHOLDERS' MEET-ING.

The annual stockholders' meeting of The Umpqua Savings and Loan Association will be held at the office of the Douglas Abstract Company, 248 North Jackson street, Roseburg, Oregon, at 7:30 p. m., Wednesday, June 23, 1920, for the purpose of electing directors for the ensuing year and such other business as may regularly come before the meeting.

NOTICE OF SALE OF GOVERN-MENT TIMBER.—General Land Office, Washington, D. C., June 1, 1920.—Notice is hereby given that subject to the conditions and limitations of the Act of June 9, 1916 (39 Stat., 218), and the instructions of the Secretary of the Interior of September 15, 1917, the timber on the following lands will be sold July 12, 1920, at 10 o'clock a. m., at public auction at the United States land office at Roseburg, Oregon, to the highest bidder at not less than the appraised value as shown by this notice, sale to be subject to the approval of the Secretary of the Interior. The purchase price, with an additional sum of one-fifth of one per cent thereof, being commissions allowed, must be deposited at time of sale, money to be returned if sale is not approved, otherwise patent will issue for the timber which must be removed within ten years. Bids will be received from citizens of the United States, associations of such citizens and corporations organized under the laws of the United States or any state, territory or district thereof only. Upon application of a qualified purchaser, the timber on any legal subdivision will be offered separately before being included in any offer of a larger unit. T. 22 S.,
