UMPQUA VALLEY FINEST OF ALL

Is Second Largest In State of Oregon Says Statistics Compiled.

FRUIT THRIVES HERE

Much land is still available and many of the large farms are being subdivided and placed on the market.

The Umpqua valley is the second largest valley of Western Oregon, 125 miles south of Portland, on the main line of the Southern Pacific and also on the Pacific highway.

The Umpqua consists of a congeries of small valleys, separated by low hills covered with oak and fir timber, which adds a beauty and picturesqueness seldom found.

The areas of level land are small, compared with other valleys of the middle west, but consist of winding valleys and rounded slopes, sheltered nooks, with occasional bold, rocky bluffs, combined to make up a scene of picturesque beauty unsurpassed on the coast of the Pacific Northwest.

The diversified region extends in all directions from Roseburg, the county seat of Douglas county, and for twenty-five to thirty miles in each direction, with about two thousand square miles of land in the valley proper.

Fruit Thrives.

This valley produces crops of grain of all kinds, as well as fruit, for which it is especially favored, by reason of its increased warmth, which comes from the gentle sea breeze from the coast at the mouth of the Umpqua river. The valley in most places is but little over five hundred feet above sea level, and on its warm sheltered southern slopes, fruits and berries and vegetables are produced almost as early as in California. The crops of all kinds are fully from two to four weeks earlier than in any other section of the state. The Umpqua valley has less rain and more sunshine than the northern sections of the state, the average rainfall being about thirty two inches. The proximity of the ocean and the rolling surface of the country insure good drainage and give the Umpqua an exceedingly healthful climate. It is mild without being enervating.

Land Still Available.

The Umpqua valley was settled in the early forties and fifties, and while most of the desirable lands were taken up, there still remains some land to be settled, and the opening of the Oregon and California grant lands the first of April of this year made available thousands of acres of land, a portion of which is suited to agriculture and can be had under the homestead act at $2.50 an acre.

Crops Are Varied.

No part of the Pacific northwest is likely to charm the traveller more than the Umpqua valley, and here a comfortable living can be made fruit raising, loganberry culture, general farming, which includes grain, corn, hay, vegetables, cattle and truck gardening, broccolis, a winter variety of cauliflower harvested about the first of March, strawberries, watermelons, cantaloupes and all kinds of small vegetables.

Douglas county contains 1-52 part of all the standing timber in the world, and as yet it is untouched, so here lies a fortune for the lumberman in the manufacture of all kinds of lumber with a ready market at hand.

Peering and fruit raising are essentially the outstanding features to which the valley is devoted, and the vivid green of the forests, both fir and oak, and occasional bold bluffs in the distance, the general air of tranquillity, all combine to soothe and cheer the mind, and hence make a desirable home in the valley of the Umpqua.

JOE BLOSSER MARRIED.

Word was received here today that Joe Blosser, a well known resident of this city, was married at Kansas City, Mo., June 23, to a charming widow of that place. The happy couple will soon leave for Roseburg, where they expect to make their future home. Mr. Blosser has a host of friends here who wish him all kinds of happiness and will be glad to welcome his bride to the west.

A Bank Account is a Real Investment.

An investment is anything in which you put money EXPECTING to make a profit on it. And if you deposit your money in an account here at the Umpqua Valley Bank and forget about it until living costs again become normal, haven't you made a handsome profit on your money? We'll say that it's the best investment we know of, and SAFE.

KNOTS WERE FORMED ON THE JOINTS OF THIS PORTLAND WOMAN

"I have not only gained twenty pounds in weight since I began taking Tanlac, but I firmly believe that it saved my life," said Mrs. Jennie Keizer, who lives at 816 Senise St., St. Johns, Portland, Oregon. Continuing, she said:

"About a year ago I began to suffer with a terrible attack of inflammatory rheumatism. There was never a minute of the day or night when I was free of pain in my arms and limbs; and it was next to impossible for me to get any sleep. My hands and feet swelled terribly and became stiff and were drawn all out of shape, big knots formed in the joints and I could not wear shoes and had to carry one of my arms in a sling all of the time. I had great difficulty in feeding myself and often could not walk a step, not even on crutches, and for months could not do any of my housework. I had a very poor appetite and what little I did manage to force down would sour and ferment and gas would form and press against my heart so badly I would have great difficulty in breathing. I had the worst sort of nervous and dizzy spells at times when I would have to catch hold of something or sit down to keep from falling. I lost weight until I was little more than a frame and was dreadfully weak. I was in such bad condition no one thought I could survive. I had reached the point where I would have welcomed death as after trying every kind of medicine and treatment I could hear of without getting any relief, I had given up hope of ever being well again.

"I was in this condition when I read two statements regarding the benefits two ladies, who lived in Portland, had received from Tanlac and decided to give it a trial. After I had taken only two bottles me and it was like bringing me back from the grave, for I have no idea I could have possibly lived more than another month. If that long, I have now taken five bottles, and I have no pains of any sort, the swelling has entirely gone from my hands and feet and I am able to wear my shoes and to do all my own housework. I have a fine appetite, everything I eat agrees with me perfectly. The fact is, I am feeling better in every way than I have in years, and I owe it all to Tanlac and I am so thankful for what it has done for me I expect to praise it as long as I live."

Tanlac is sold in Roseburg by W. F. Chapman, and by the leading druggists in every town.

CUPID WORKING OVERTIME

Dan Cupid worked overtime this week. Eight hour laws were ignored and he put in a full twenty-four hours each day. As a result the force at the county clerk's office has been kept busy writing out marriage licenses and filling returns. A license was issued Saturday to George Alfred Anderson and Gracie Alberta Mason of this city. They were married at once by County Judge D. J. Stewart in the presence of only the intimate friends and relatives. A license was also issued to Earl Brant and Addie May Wilson of this city. A return by the minister, Gardiner, announcing the marriage of Eldon F. Rice and Eva Grace Graham of that place on June 20. Other licenses were issued today and a number of marriages are scheduled for this week, and will bring the June total up to a high standard.

PATROL PLANES IN EUGENE.

EUGENE, June 27.—Flying majestically in wild-fowl formation, five of the big De Havillands assigned to the Oregon forest patrol arrived over Eugene Saturday, bringing a squad of seven pilots and observers under Captain Lowell H. Smith. The actual flying time from Mather field, California, was 5 hours and 20 minutes, equivalent to a 20 per cent higher speed, as they had to fight a heavy wind the greater part of the way. They took an altitude of 9500 feet in crossing the Siskiyou and found the air bitterly cold. This party will be stationed at the Eugene base for the summer. Work will be commenced at once by the city in smoothing up the field and establishing quarters for the officers.

Many Fishermen Report Good Catches

Fishing is improving noticeably. Trout are taking flies in fine numbers according to the reports of those who have been out trying the county waters during the past few days. A great many good catches were reported yesterday, and for the first time a disgruntled fisherman heard grumbling about the weather. Fishing in Rock Creek, the main river in Douglas county, is also good, but will probably be better within a week or two. Brewster is providing sportsmen with good catches while the county is also being patronized with results. The roads to these places in good condition generally, and those who desire to spend a shipping any of the streams county.
