Acting upon the request of S. D. Evans, the Douglas Light and Water company has forfeited its redemption right in the Umpqua Park, and within a few days Mr. Evans will have complete title to the land. In order to clear up all legal phases a sheriff's sale will be held in a few days. Under ordinary circumstances all persons have a right of redemption, but all those holding such rights have waived their claims and the title will pass to Mr. Evans upon the sale. He is preparing the papers for the transfer of the proposed Evans park to the city, and his attorney, O. P. Coshov, announces that the deeds will be ready to file in a few days. The title was completely cleared by the waiver made by the Douglas County Light & Water company, whose claim was the only one outstanding.

FIRST AMERICAN "LEGION"

CAMP PIKE, Ark., The first "American Legion" was founded in 1792, and its existence under that name, terminated in 1796. War Department records show that when the Regular army was reorganized in 1792, following the Revolutionary war, it was officially designated as the "Legion" and was divided into four "Sub-Legions" of which the 4th United States Infantry was a part. The idea of designating the United States army as a legion originated with General Knox, secretary of war under George Washington. The army was patterned after the Roman legion, the old military organization under which Julius Caesar and his successors conspired as much of the world as was then known.

instructed General Wayne, "do not spare powder and lead so that the men may become marksmen." The Legion fought its only battle at Miami Rapids on the Kentucky-Ohio-Illinois country August 20, 1794, engaging a force of hostile Indians. In 1796, it having been decided that the Roman formation was not suitable for fighting Indians, the Legion was disbanded and reorganized into four regiments of infantry.

ILLICIT DRUG TRAFFIC BIG.

BUTTE, Mont., July 3.—That Butte is one of the stations on a regular route maintained by vendors who bring illicit drugs from Canadian points, was the statement recently of A. J. Pritchard, a special agent of the internal revenue department, who has been investigating the traffic in narcotics in Butte. Mr. Pritchard said the traffic in Butte amounts to thousands of dollars each month and that the addicts in this city run into the hundreds. During his stay in Butte the special agent obtained evidence which resulted in the arrest of Dr. G. D. Bryant, a physician of Butte, and Wan Sing and Queng Chung, the latter two Chinese, on federal charges. The homes of the Chinese were raided and a quantity of opium, with full layouts for smoking, were seized.

"Tracing shipments of drugs which are sold in Butte, we have discovered that narcotics are being laid down here at a cost of $14.48 an ounce," said Special Agent Pritchard. "The drugs then are put out to intermediaries at $30 an ounce, and these men in turn sell the stuff at prices which vary up to $450 an ounce. The latter figure is reached when the vendor sells magnesia and milk, with a small quantity of drug mixed in."

"The drugs which are being peddled in Butte come here through Sweet Grass, Great Falls and Helena over a regular route. From Butte, the route leads to Boise, Idaho, and then to Salt Lake City, where a route from the south connects. The drugs which are brought in from the south cross the Mexican line at Tia Juana and follow a regular route to Salt Lake. The ring of vendors travels over these lines on regular schedules similar to those of traveling men, and carry considerable quantities for distribution in the larger cities of the west."

SUCCESSFUL AT RACES.

PARIS, July 2.—Ragged, hatless, and practically shoeless, an elderly man was sitting in the park on the south side of the Seine a few nights since, muttering to himself, 50, 60, 70, the while he was stacking little thin slips of paper one upon the other. He attracted the attention of two gendarmes for he had apparently been drinking too much wine. He was taken to the station. The desk sergeant was bewildered when the ragged man explained that the little slips of paper were perfectly good bills on the Bank of France, and that the figures he was mumbling represented their amount. He had 115,080 francs.

"I won this money of the races," explained the denizen of the park.

It developed that the man was one Billot, a former colonial soldier, at times a newspaper vendor, known to the citizens of Grenelle ward in Paris as "Father of Luck," or "Father Cherry." (The little fruit being known in the parlance of gambling circles as the emblem of luck. He had run up 140 francs, the amount of his pension paid to him as an ex-soldier, into 115,080 francs. The police released him, after giving him a little advice about counting his wealth in public parks while slightly under the influence of red wine.

Billot invested 80,000 francs in a life annuity the next morning, bought a suit of clothes, shoes, et cetera, and before departing for the Saint Cloud race track dropped in on the friendly police sergeant that afternoon and gave him a tip on the races. The horse won. The newspaper, L'Eclair has offered him 100 francs per day for his racing selections until the end of the season.

Sinnott Makes Excellent Speech

Representative Nicholas J. Sinnott of Oregon won a great deal of applause for his speech on the soldier adjustment pay and land legislation bill, in the house of representatives recently. Mr. Sinnott, in one of the shortest but most direct speeches made on the floor of the house, said: "Mr. Speaker, Kipling, in his poem on the survivors of the Battle of Balaklava, said: 'There were thirty million English that talked of England's might; There were twenty broken troops that lacked a bed for the night; They had neither food nor money, they had neither service nor trade, They were only shiftless soldiers, the last of the Light Brigade.'"

They felt that life was fleeting; they knew that art was long, That though they were dying of fame, they lived in deathless song; They asked for a little money to keep the wolf from the door, And the thirty million English sent twenty pounds and four!"

We might suggest an American version: There were one hundred million Yankees that talked of Yankee might (Applause) And sent by sixty dollars to the boys that fought their fight; Yes! sixty dollars; that and nothing more, If that's to be in history America's low score— Then—

"God of our fathers, known of old, Lord of our far-flung battle line, Beneath whose awful hand we hold Dominion over palm and pine; Lord God of Hosts be with us yet, Lest we forget—lest we forget."
