Heaven and Hell No Worry to Reds

CHICAGO, July 13.—Rev. George C. Richmond opened the forty eighth's convention with a prayer that was received with cheers.

"We are not concerned in Heaven or Hell," he said. "It is this world in which we are interested. As Jesus failed, so do we."

The prayer charged that republican candidates "take orders not from Jesus, but from Wall Street."

He charged that the democratic party "has sold out to those forces which face mortal ruin and spiritual dissolution," and continued:

"We are corrupt, mean, low-visioned and selfish. Forgive us, O God, and in the great revolution now coming, save us from national dissolution."

Dr. Richmond specifically gave thanks for the revolution in Russia, for the "new spirit of self assertiveness" among negroes, and in Ireland. He asked for the destruction of Palmarism, Penrosism and all other kinds of paganism. He also blessed Eugene Debs "in his prison cell."

This reference was cheered.

M. E. Church Ladies Work For Hospitals

The Women's Foreign Missionary Society, of the M. E. Church, will meet Thursday afternoon, July 15, at 2:30, at the parsonage. There will be a short program and work for hospitals.

The following is a partial list of things needed: Hot water bottles, metal; room thermometers; hygienic nursing bottles; old linen or muslin; scraps of outing flannel; light colored gingham or calico; common pins; safety pins; needles; tape; soap; medicine droppers; medicine glasses; malted milk; ball files and nail brushes; orange wood sticks; towels; bedding. Donations of any of the above mentioned articles or money to buy them will be thankfully received from members or friends, and may be brought to the meeting or left with Mrs. A. C. Marsters.

A divorce suit was filed by Clarence Hilliard against Ethel L. Hilliard. Desertion is named as the cause of the action.

On account of the failure of the members of the Chamber of Commerce to be present at the meeting called for last night, the meeting was postponed until some future date. The officers were present but few of the members attended. Several important matters are being considered by the organization and the support of all members is needed.

He has been doing all sorts of flying, even to night trips, and has furnished thrills a plenty to the "natives" of the northern part of the county. Several evenings ago he delivered four loaves of bread in his plane to a farm house near Yoncalla, dropping the "staff of life" onto a haystack in the yard of the farmer. He is an experienced aviator and has an enviable record with the Royal Flying Corps of England.

First Failures Not Fatal.

How often have we heard people say that if they had their lives to live over again they would do very differently at certain points! And, though we could see that they thought they meant what they said, we understood that they did not mean it very seriously, and that a second chance at life would probably not yield a much better result than the first one had. As a matter of fact not many of us have made such fatal mistakes in life that we have not had hundreds of second chances of overcoming very largely the handicap and disadvantage that they brought us. Indeed, the pathway of life for every man of us is strewn with second chances and new opportunities of making good. There is this to be said, however: a second chance may be a little harder to realize on than a first one would have been. But to say that a thing is hard is not to say anything about its possibility. A first mistake or a first failure may be bad, but does not decide a life unless we let it.—Montreal Family Herald.

Magic Stones Get a New Bid.

Tradition tells that miracles of healing were performed by "St. Tiffan," in the Scottish highlands, by rubbing on the suffering man or beast certain old water-worn stones. These stones, or stones of that description, are still carefully preserved in the island mill of Killin, at the western end of Loch Tay. Lord Breadalbane, the owner, has leased the old mill for a handloom weaving factory; but the lessee binds himself carefully to protect the relics, and to give the public facilities for viewing them.

On Christmas eve, as on every Christmas eve for centuries past, the stones in their niche of the wall were provided with a new "bed," of reeds, straw and other wrack brought down by the mountain torrent of the River Dochart and left staked on the rocks. The bedding must on no account be picked by the hand of man.

Season Tickets Are Great Saving

In order to make this saving in the price of a season ticket for the Chautauque, which begins Saturday evening the 17th, tickets must be purchased by Saturday noon. The total cost for single admissions will amount to $8.05, while a season ticket can be purchased now for only $2.75. Student's tickets for $1.65 and child's tickets for $1.10. Tickets are on sale at the banks, drug stores, Abraham's store, H. T. Shop, Bubar Brothers jewelry store, Commercial Abstract office, and from the local committee. Many of our citizens pledged themselves to buy and sell five to ten tickets and these pledges should be cared for immediately, so that the guarantor's may be relieved of the financial obligation which they have assumed. The program to be presented this season is without question the strongest ever brought to the city. Twelve complete programs, all of them first-class, all for the sum of $2.75, war tax included. Every working person in Roseburg and vicinity cannot afford to miss hearing the great lecture Saturday evening by Z. B. Fish on the subject, "The Cure For Industrial Unrest." He has done more to drive the Reds out of the northwest than any other individual, and his lecture is clear-cut from the lips and heart of a fellow laboring man, and deals with the principles of 100 per cent Americanism. He is the sworn enemy of W. W. Wism and the friends forever of organized labor when founded upon purely American ideals. Don't fail to hear him.
