Mrs. J. P. Lemos, of Sutherlin, spent this morning in Roseburg attending to business matters, returning home on the afternoon train.

Roseburg is sorely in need of more homes. People are leaving our town every day because there isn't a house to be had, and for that reason we are going to offer lots in Overlook. Addition for a short time and loan the home-seeker the money to build his home. The streets are paved, the sewer laid, and no additional assessments to be paid. Instead of paying rent on some old house, why not pay a little more and let the rent you pay buy you a home. It is just as easy as paying rent.

Judd Gets Back From Trip.—

J. M. Judd returned last night from a trip to Portland and Willamette valley points, where he went to investigate the feed market. He states that at present little business is being done, owing to the fact that farmers are holding their baled hay for a $25 market, and also asking as high as $70 per ton for the new barley crop. Amusing Incident Related.—

Officer Shambrook today related an amusing incident which occurred a short time ago while he was searching a local home for some missing articles thought to have been hidden about the residence. The search had progressed from the cellar to the first floor. The owner was then requested to lead the way into the attic. This was done and after considerable rummaging around with no fruitful results, the officer noticed a large crock jar in one corner of the room and a cup setting close by. The owner tried to hurry the officer down stairs, but Dave was loath to leave and asked to see the contents of the jar. The "victim" then walked over to the jar, picked it up and spilled it over the floor, thus destroying the "evidence".
