New System High Finance is Found

BOSTON, Mass., Aug. 4.—Payment of more than $1,000,000 in the past three days by Charles Ponzi, proprietor of the Securities Exchange company, appeared today to have effectually met the run on the concern, and when business closed for the day at 4 o'clock this afternoon there was no one waiting in line.

All excitement passed away from the nine-day financial attraction. Employees of the financial company left the office at 27 School street just before closing time, and announced in loud voices that there was still opportunity for note holders to present them, but there were no more comers. Everybody, apparently, who had any demands on Ponzi had been satisfied.

George W. Storck, of the United States department of justice, who arrived in Boston last night, supposedly in connection with the Ponzi case, was in conference during the day with the assistant United States district attorney, but no visit was made to Mr. Ponzi's office.

Ponzi Garbed in White. Payments in the past three days from statements given out at the office of the Securities Exchange company, are said to total somewhere over $1,000,000, as follows: Monday, $418,000; Tuesday, $353,950.62; Wednesday, $333,258.76; total for three days, $1,085,209.37.

resuming business as soon as the voluntary suspension of ten days expired, which would be tomorrow night. If no new developments occur it is expected that Ponzi will commence to issue notes again Friday of this week.

Damage Claims Total $30,000

SALEM, Aug. 5.—Claims aggregating $30,000 for the death of the three Oregon artillerymen killed by the explosion of a gun which they were firing while in training at Camp Lewis last month, have been filed with the war department by Adjutant-General White. The claim calls for the payment of $10,000 each to the widows of Corporal Edwin G. Scott and Corporal Clyde R. Dindinger, of Marshfield, and the same amount to the parents of Private Ralph R. Fraley, of Ashland.

In his claim the adjutant-general points out that the men were under the orders of the federal government and were firing a gun belonging to the war department at the time of their accidental death. The sum specified in the claim is based on that paid to the next of kin of men who lost their lives during the recent war and were protected by government insurance.

Party Without a Name is Barred

SALEM, Ore., Aug. 4.—The new political organization for Oregon, which proposed to choose the name "socialist labor" party will have to select some other title that does not make use of the word "socialist" either singly or in combination, declared Attorney General Brown, in an opinion written today at the request of Secretary of State Kester.

The reason that Oregon already has a legally constituted socialist party and for a new party to choose a conflicting title would be contrary to law.

Petitions for the new party, containing 8688 signatures have been presented to the secretary of state by T. P. Johns, but were held back pending an opinion from the attorney general. The number of signatures is more than the required 5 per cent of the total vote cast at the last general election, but another name must be selected.

It was said by Mr. Johns that if the name "socialist labor" should be held conflicting with the "socialist party" the name chosen might essentially be "industrial labor" party. As soon as the title is decided upon the party can call a convention, nominate candidates, certify them to the secretary of state and they will go upon the ballot.

Peek-a-boo Skirt Sets Paris Agog

PARIS, Aug. 4.—This is a great day in Paris. The fall fashion show has opened to discover the skirt rapidly disappearing, and thousands spent the day with their noses flattened against the plate glass shop windows behind which beautiful mannikins displayed new fashions. Hundreds of American tourists straggled for places next to the windows. In the more exclusive shops all the accents of the United States could be heard as the spectators uttered exclamations, surging against the silken ropes which kept the crowd from swarming into the "rue" where the models languidly strolled about.

The peek-a-boo skirt was the hit of the show. This garment is composed of two panels, one in front and one behind. The panels overlap and are stitched only part way down, so that a breeze (concealed). The loss extreme fall skirts are two inches longer than last season's and are reaching new altitudes. Sleeves likewise are shorter, but necks are higher. Some of the collars are designed to touch the ears.

Fluffy ruffles and transparencies are favored in evening gowns. Colors are astonishingly yellow and silver, for example trimmed with silver lace and chinilla fur with a low V back and a headed ornament hanging down to fill the V.

Wraps also have a punch this season. One which attracted much attention from sedate, middle-aged American tourists was cloth of gold lined with ermine.

Experts say the style pack any new constructive ideas and are simply a reeduction of those of 1914, with novelties. Some novelties.

New Record Work Established O.A.C.

CORVALLIS, Aug. 5.—Establishing a new high record mark for summer session attendance at the O. A. C. summer session, the 1920 term closed July 31, having registered 619 students. The highest registration in summer session history up to this time was 255, in 1919.

The work in physical education, designed to help fit teachers for the physical training of Oregon girls and boys in accordance with the new educational laws and regulations, attracted the greatest amount of interest. This was most noticeable among rural and small town teachers, where no physical trainer is employed and the teachers must do the work themselves. The summer work showed them how some of the most important duties in keeping the body and mind of the child in healthy, active condition, can be performed by the teacher.

The largest single class of the session was that in tailoring conducted by Edmund Gurney, a Portland specialist.

Medford Man Shot In Home-brew Row

MEDFORD, Ore., Aug. 2.—An altercation over "home brew" led to the shooting of George Douglas, a Medford upholsterer, by Tom Murphy, local junk dealer, at the latter's home last night, according to the police. Murphy is being held for inquest this afternoon on a charge of assault with intent to kill. According to Murphy's story, when Douglas threatened to beat him up and broke into his house, Murphy fired twice, one bullet grazing the intruder's forehead and the other making a shallow flesh wound in the chest. The police confiscated two cases of home made whisky and a copper bottle full of over mash at Murphy's home. Douglas was not seriously injured and will be able to testify at the hearing.

Mrs. R. W. Terrell, who has been visiting at the N. Rice home, left for her home at Medford this morning. She was accompanied by Miss Jeanette Rice who will visit in Medford for a short time.

ROUGH ON "BILLY"

Observing the success of the Billy Sunday methods in the matter of conversation, Puck arises to suggest that the attempt be made to apply the same methods to other church ceremonies and activities, proposing the following formulas:

Pastor (christening infant): "What do you want to call this hunk of excess baggage, Bo?"
Preaching Parson: "What miserable mutt giveth this skirt to be married to this gink?"
The Bride's Father: "I'm the guy."
Industrious Usher: "Slide, you ice carts! Slide!"
Passing the Plate: "Come across with the iron men, you low-life tight-wads!"
Sunday School Superintendent: "All of you little flivvers that want to swat Satan stand on one leg!"

Crisis Exists is British Opinion

LONDON, Aug. 5.—British government officials alleged today that the situation in Poland is an exceedingly grave. One official stated that the "situation is as serious as it was in 1914."
