AMERICAN ATHLETES LEAD.

ANTWERP, Aug. 19.—Scoring 17 points in the Olympic contests today, American athletes brought their total up to 118. Their nearest competitors are the Finns, who have 49 points to their credit, although they failed to make a score today.

Read not to contradict and confute; not to believe and take for granted; not to find fault and discourse; but to weigh and consider. Some books are to be tested, others to be swallowed, and some few to be chewed and digested; that is, some books are to be read only in parts; others to be read, but not curiously; and some few to be read wholly with diligence and attention. Some books also may be read by deputy, and extracts made of them by others; but they should be only less important arguments, and the meaner sort of books; also distilled books are like common distilled waters, flashy things.—Lord Bacon.

Early Christian Communists.

For over 200 years all Christians were communists, who held the land and waters as well as all timber and precious metals in common. There were no superior ecclesiastics among them. The lot was cast in deciding all questions and the assembled commune judged all disputes; and when any decision was not well pleasing, the whole community passed review on it and reversed or confirmed it according to the will of all. This old democracy was an inheritance from the Jews and was held in abhorrence by pagans who trafficked in land and made profits from others' labor.—Rollins' Ancient History.

Meantest Yet.

Sales Manager—Well, Jobbie, how did that last prospect turn out?
 Vacuum Cleaner Convasser—The original Mrs. Gaspard, the well-known miser's worst half! That dame let me demonstrate the machine till I made her best rug look like new and then, all I got was a demand for a quarter of a dollar to pay for the electricity she estimated I'd use.—Buffalo Express.

BABY MARY ILL.

I snatched the baby from her bed as she went into a rare violent paroxysm of choking. I held her tightly to me.

"Don't do that, Mrs. Gordon," said Miss Parker, as she deftly arranged a hot bath. Stripping off the little night dress, she quickly immersed Mary's tiny body in hot water.

"Hold her there," she ordered and then lighted an aromatic smudge on a plate which she held under the baby's nose.

In a few minutes this stopped her coughing, but she was so exhausted that she could not open her tiny eyelids.

"Did you ask the doctor to come?" I questioned, anxiously.

"Yes. He should be here by this time."

I flew to the telephone. I could not stand inaction—I must be doing something. The voice of the doctor's office girl said:

"Yes, Mrs. Gordon, the doctor left immediately after the nurse telephoned him. He should be at your house by this time."

Again I stood over my baby's bed. There was a little blue line about her mouth and her nose looked pinched and her eyelids were only half closed, disclosing a part of her brown eyes beneath.

"Oh, I'm sure she is going to die. I'm sure if I!" I said to Miss Parker in agony.

"You must not go to pieces this way, Mrs. Gordon. I do not think the baby is in any great danger. If we can keep her from having another choking attack, she will be all right."

Just then the baby stirred in her sleep, but Miss Parker pulled the clothing up about her and the dread choking spell that I feared did not appear.

It seemed to me as if some fiendish fairy had stepped the hands of the clock, they moved so slowly.

"Has anything happened to the doctor, do you think?" I asked Miss Parker. "Surely he has time enough to drive over."

"Mrs. Gordon," said Miss Parker, as she put her arms around my shoulders, "you must realize that it has only been ten minutes since you came in." I looked at her incredulously—it seemed hours and I think I could not have stood it another moment if she had not opened

TO OUR CUSTOMERS:--

The only way to paint economically is to FORGET GALLON PRICE and figure cost by area cover and years of life. SWP covers one-third more area than paints which are cheaper per gallon. It lasts twice as long without re-painting, so requires half the material and labor costs. On that basis, SWP is the cheapest-per-gallon outside paint you could buy. SWP is the best prepared house paint. That is why we sell it. Now is the time to consult us about your house painting. Prepare to do it this fall before the rains fill the wood with moisture. Oil and water do not mix well and it will be better to fill cracks, crevices and exposed pores of wood with linseed oil and pigment now while water is absent.

AUTOMOBILE ELECTRICAL TROUBLES AND THEIR CAUSES.

Many of your electrical troubles can be prevented by carefully watching your equipment. If your ammeter shows a decrease and fluctuation in charging current and is allowed to continue, it will eventually burn out your generator. If your lights flicker and your motor misses, it is due to loose contacts, grounds or short circuits. If starting motor shows loss of power, turns motor over a few revolutions and stops, the contacts are loose, starting switch is burned, motor brushes worn out, or the internal mechanism of your starter is filled with oil and dust. Last but not least, don't let an amateur experiment with your electrical equipment. Our experience and training of years is at your service. Consult W. R. Brown, at the Auto Electrical Station, Cor. Oak and Pine Sts. Phone 136.
