Better Laws For Children Urged

A striking development in the movement to obtain better conditions for children, is described in the pamphlet just issued by the Children's Bureau of the U. S. Department of Labor, entitled "State Commissions for the Study and Revision of Child Welfare Laws."

In almost every State where such commissions have been appointed, a careful study of conditions in the State and of remedies that have proved successful in other States has preceded suggestions for new legislation or for the revision of existing laws, thus avoiding the danger of hasty and ill-considered action.

The subjects covered include the safeguarding of health, school attendance, regulation of employment, protection against exploitation or corruption of morals, special provision and training of dependent and neglected children, methods of dealing with delinquent children and State supervision of agencies and institutions.

The pamphlet gives a summary of organization and plans of work for each of the States in which commissions have been appointed, and an outline for an index of existing legislation affecting child-welfare.

SURVEY NEARS FINISH. GARDINER, Or., Aug. 25.—The hydrographic survey of the Umpqua river, which is being made by a United States coast and geodetic survey party stationed at Gardiner in charge of O. W. Swanson, government engineer, is nearing completion.

The party has taken a close network of soundings on the bar for three-quarters of a mile north and south of the channel. This network of soundings has also been extended up the river from the mouth to as far as the railroad bridge. Altogether over 20,000 soundings have been made.

The charts, when completed, will show the short line, the limits bare at low water and the correct position of all aids to navigation.

Sutherland Likes Airplane Delivery

The Sutherland Sun has the following comment to make concerning the News-Review airplane delivery of Tuesday: Sutherland subscribers to the News-Review received their papers Monday afternoon right off the press—they were delivered by airplane, and so rapidly was the stunt pulled off that the ink was barely dry on the sheets when the bundle was dropped in Sutherland.

Twenty minutes after the papers were printed in Roseburg they were in the post office at Sutherland fourteen miles distant! This is going some when it comes to quick delivery, and the large family of News-Review readers in Sutherland certainly appreciated getting their papers the same day they were printed.

The plane was in charge of Lieutenant Ayers, with Bert Bates, of the News-Review staff, as passenger. The Sutherland bundle of papers was dropped on Central avenue opposite the Academy building, barely missing a large dog which was taking a quiet snooze on the shady side of a doorway.

CLEANING UP PARIS. PARIS, France, Aug. 27.—The city of Paris is to have 200 more rubbish carts at the end of the year. ROSEBURG LAWN HIT BY TOURISTS

Unsightly Yards Cause Home seekers to Turn Away from City and Look Elsewhere. HAS NO GREEN GRASS

Tourists Arrived in Roseburg Expecting to Find Beautiful Lawns and Roses But They Are Woefully Disappointed.

It daily falls to the lot of the average reporter to answer a great many questions relative to the city, especially when his duties require his presence near the railroad station where tourists are seeking for information. This morning, however, the newspaperer met a stumper when he was asked, "Why has not Roseburg more pretty yards?"

It was a woman who asked the question. She and her husband had been in Roseburg for about a week and had expected to locate here. They had heard a great deal about the city, had obtained data on its climate, its industries, and had confidently expected to make their future home here.

"We were greatly disappointed," the woman said. "We had expected to find beautiful lawns, for we knew that Roseburg raised the prettiest roses to be found in any city. We knew that you had beautiful surroundings and as we approached the city on the train we commented on the wonderful hills and expressed our belief that Roseburg would be one of the most beautiful spots on the coast."

"The surroundings were even more than we had expected, but on the yards. We walked about the city looking for the beautiful lawns we had expected. Everywhere we found the attractive looking homes surrounded by desolate looking patches of dry grass. The lawns, unkept and dry just made us sick. There is not a yard in Roseburg but what could be made beautiful, and if everyone would take some interest and fix up their own yard it would not be long before Roseburg would be made the most beautiful city on the coast."

"What Roseburg needs is green grass. Green lawns would add one hundred per cent to the city. You advertise your roses, and you have a right to do so, for you have the most beautiful flowers I have ever seen, but the beauty of your roses is lost when you allow the bushes to grow on lawns which are dry and dead."

"We had expected to live in Roseburg and came here with the purpose of making our home. We were unable to find a suitable house for rent, but that did not deter us, but only made us more anxious to stay. Then we started to find a house which we could purchase, but none had lawns and those which did have a slight amount of green grass surrounded by such unsightly yards that we did not care to buy."

"We are not the only ones who feel this way, for others have expressed the same ideas. At the hotel we heard a number of tourists commenting on the yards and one said 'Roseburg would be a pretty town if it was't for the yards.' We will probably go back home, for although the climate is not as desirable, yet we have pretty yards and our surroundings are always attractive."

Baptists Win League Pennant

The Twilight league ended its season last night with the final game between the Baptist and Presbyterian. They were fighting to see who would be the winners of the year, and the Baptist won out by a score of nine to five. The game was scheduled for four o'clock so that a full nine innings could be played. It started about 4:30, but the nine innings were played. The Baptists won because they got to Street in the seventh inning, and hit him all over the lot. It was the only inning in which they did hit him, making five of their runs in that inning. They had previously made three runs off the delivery of Epstein, who started to pitch for the Presbyterians. Ritzman was also hit much harder than usual, the Presbyterians finding him for eight hits, three of which were made by Finley. The twilight league has had a successful season, with just enough wrangling along to make it "peppy." The Baptists owe considerable of their success to the playing of Ackley, who was a visitor here. He played in four games and batted at the rate of 461. Jimmy Goodman, who also played in about four games batted 444. Other leading hitters were Cecil Black 377, Cedarstrom 333, Throne 325, Ritzman 324, Finley 311 Street 300 and Randolph 300. Singleton also hit 326. Others ranged along down to some who had no batting average. It is hoped that the league may be renewed another year, and all the Sunday schools join in, and may be put on a more substantial basis.

FORCED TO LEAVE THE SOUTH SEA ISLANDS

Rheumatism Knocked Him Out But Morgan Back On Job Every Day Since Taking Tanlac.

"I only wish that I had run across Tanlac fifteen years ago, for I would have been saved that many years of terrible suffering," said John H. Morgan, an employee of the Moore Ship Building Company, living at 253 Seventh street, Oakland, California.

"My stomach was in such an awful fix," continued Mr. Morgan, "that if I ate the least bit of breakfast or even drank a glass of water, I became so nauseated that I couldn't keep it down. Gas formed on my stomach and kept me in distress for hours after eating, and I also suffered terribly from constipation. My sleep was always restless and broken, and in the mornings I would get up feeling just miserable."

"About two years ago I went to the South Sea Islands to live; but muscular rheumatism set in and I became so bad off that I had to quit my work and come back to California very much discouraged. I took very kind to medicine I heard of, but none of them did me any good."

"I read about Tanlac and decided to give it a trial, too, and it certainly has done the work for me. I'm just now on my fourth bottle and am eating three big meals every day and enjoying every mouthful of my food. The nauseating spells are all gone and I'm never troubled with gas, constipation or dizziness. I sleep sound and get up in the mornings feeling fine. I'm a ship-rigger by trade and can work steady all day long now, and you know that's real work, but I can now stand up to it all right."

Tanlac is sold in Roseburg by W. F. Chapman and by leading druggists everywhere.
