COX CHARGE LOOKS LIKE A BOOMERANG

Chairman White Admits That He Has No Proof of the Governor's Claim

BUT BELIEVES 'EM TRUE

Based His Trust in Confidence in Democratic Presidential Nominee—No Limit Placed on the Democratic Funds.

(By Associated Press.)
CHICAGO, Sept. 1.—George White, chairman of the national democratic committee, is believed to have made damaging admissions in his testimony today before the senate investigating committee, when he stated that he had no evidence to sustain any one of the charges made by Governor Cox, democratic candidate for president, who made sweeping allegations concerning republican funds and state quotas. White also admitted that he had no competent evidence to substantiate Cox's statement that the republican contributors had expressed a desire "to have back of them in industrial centers the bayonets of their puppets in office." White went on to say, before the senate witness stand, that he did, however, believe the charges made by Cox were true, because he had confidence in the governor, but that he had not discussed the matter in detail with the democratic nominee. White testified that Cox had told him Sunday that he was sure of his ground. White replied, "You are the boss and you run it." The democratic national chairman also admitted that it was true that he had made the statement that he would not place any limit on the campaign contributions.

Takes Up New Red Cross Work

Alfred Powers, Assistant Manager of the Northwestern Division of the American Red Cross, has resigned to direct the enlarged program of educational slides and moving picture films in the Extension Division of the University of Oregon, and took up his new duties at Eugene September first.

In the Division office he has had charge of the publicity and has directed Red Cross Military Relief for Camp Lewis, Park Sound Navy Yard, Fort George Wright and the other military posts and camps of the Northwest.

He has also supervised the work of the Junior Red Cross, with a present membership of 200,000 school children in Alaska, Idaho, Oregon and Washington. This year a thousand schools in the Northwest alone have arranged to supply themselves with First Aid school kits. Last year students in 160 high schools carried a correspondence with schools in France and Chile. The Junior members sent 37 cases of shoes and clothing to children in Siberia, $15,000 to the suffering children in Europe and in several instances have operated their own free hospitals in their communities as part of their Red Cross work.

At the University of Oregon he will direct the visual instruction program with service to the whole state. The University will offer this fall 400 different films and slide sets, to which additions will be rapidly made.

He was formerly connected with the Extension Division of the University of Oregon for many years ago to enter the United States Army, with which he served eight months in France.

He is succeeded as Director of Publicity and Junior Red Cross activities by Dr. Dan E. Clark, who was formerly associate editor of the Iowa Historical Society and Professor of History in the University of Iowa, and who has been in Red Cross service in the Northwest the last two years.

More Men Commit Suicide Says Report

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Aug. 31.—Only one-third as many women as men commit suicide, according to a survey of California vital statistics made by L. E. Ross, statistician of the state board of health. Suicide by firearms, Ross found, was the most used method, accounting for 45 per cent of the total. Poison was next and apyxia third. The suicide rate among Orientals was greater than any other race and the average age of all persons who died by their own hand was 42 years, which, Ross pointed out, was eight years under their life expectancy as shown by insurance tables.
