ANOTHER GIBSON
 SERIAL SECURED
 "Love and Married Life" Will End In Next Saturday's Edition.

NEW STORY MONDAY
 "Her Daughter and His Son" is the Name of the Latest Idaho Mac-Glone Gibson Feature—To Run Three Months.

With next Saturday's issue the closing chapter of "Love and Married Life," Idaho MacGlone Gibson's famous newspaper serial, will be published.
 During the months that this serial has been published in the columns of the News-Review it has caused no small amount of favorable comment concerning the writing ability of Mrs. Gibson.
 From the number of letters which have poured into this office from the various readers it is apparent that the story has carried to them a lesson of tolerance and a spirit of forgiveness which are cardinal virtues in the lives of all.
 So on next Saturday we will bid good-bye to John and Katherine, but we have much better news for our readers.

A New Serial
 We wish to announce a wonderful new Gibson serial, entitled "Her Daughter and His Son," which will run for three months and will start in next Monday's edition. The following letter from Mrs. Gibson to the News-Review is so convincing that we are sure our readers will look forward with interest to her new story:

"I am sending you today the beginning of "Her Daughter and His Son," a story which I have had in my mind for a number of years. I am going to depict the difference between the society girl of today, who has no interests other than the worldly pleasure that satisfies her selfishness—a selfishness fostered by a worldly mother—and the girl, who through a hard experience, has come to understand that life is something bigger and better than merely entering into one's self and one's own whims and one's own pleasure.
 Poets, dramatists and novelists in their definition of the little blind god, have made romantic love the end of all and to be of existence. This, I think, is a fallacy, and while our daughters and our sons must be taught that love makes life sweeter, yet life is a much bigger thing than love.
 I am going to try and show in my story that marriage, which must be the ultimate aim of men and women, has never received the study that should be given it.
 I believe that one may love devotedly many times, but up to date we have no proof that we live upon this earth but once, and therefore it is our duty to try and teach the generations which will follow ours to profit by the mistakes we have made.
 I believe that the reader will be interested in knowing just how the

LOVE and MARRIED LIFE by the noted author
 Idaho MacGlone Gibson

The Gods of Jade.
 Because I want you to understand, my dear child, that after all has passed, it is the surface of things which affect us most, I'm going to tell you exactly what your "Daddy Karl" and I did last evening.
 You remember he came in just as I was writing to you what he, perhaps, would call a little sermon and I was ready to take up the seriousness of it all with him. But one look at his face took it all out of my mind.
 "Get on your hat, Katherine, and come out in the new car."
 "What new car?" I asked rather stupidly, as I could not come back so rapidly to mundane things.
 "Your new car."
 "My new car?" I repeated.
 "Yes, my dear. Don't you realize that today is the anniversary of a very important event?" And then I suddenly remembered that your "Daddy Karl" and I had been married twenty years.
 "Of course," said "Daddy" mischievously, "I'm going to overlook your forgetfulness this once, but don't you ever do it again. When a woman begins to forget her marriage anniversary, something must be very wrong."
 "Or else, Karl," I murmured as he bent down to kiss me, "everything must be very right."
 "Why, do you know, it seems as though we have been always married. Even today, while I've been thinking of Mary's marriage, which must necessarily bring up many memories of my youth, I can hardly make it seem that you are not her father. You have so long been a part of my life, the best part of it, Karl, dear, that any other part seems a dream."
 "And that brings me, Katherine, to the real present I have for you," answered your Daddy as he laid in my hands two queer little green jade images.
 They were absolutely alike, except that in one the right eye was mis-ing and in the other the left eye was gone.
 "How strange," I said, "did these little gods never have but one eye each?"

 "Never and that is the reason why they always go in pairs. They can see the world as it really is only when they are together. Consequently there has grown up about them a peculiar tradition which is that if these little gods are ever separated, they bring great unhappiness to their possessors. Through all the ages these gods must be kept together to bring happiness, according to ancient command. And if a man wishes to do great hurt to his enemy, he contrives to separate his house, or near him, a single one of these little idols.
 The other, he throws into the sea or other inaccessible place.
 "By great good luck, my dear, I received these little bits of jade, around which this age-old superstition clings, this morning, from an old friend who is now in Egypt. And knowing how you enjoy anything of the kind, I brought them to you.
 These, my friend writes, are supposed to bring particularly good luck, because they were found by a peart diver together, deep down in an almost inaccessible cavern."
 "How did they get there?" I asked in wonder.
 "Well, the story goes, that always when these gods are separated they seek each other; meantime, making all the trouble possible for those who possess either one of them. The diver who brought up these so-called makers of Destiny, insisted that thousands of years ago a man sent one of these gods to his enemy and threw the other into the sea.
 "And through the ages, they were always seeking seeking each other again. Just how they came together, no one will ever know. But here they are, my dear, and together they meant happiness for their possessor—for you."
 I looked at them for a moment and then I said: "Why, Karl, to Mary, don't you see, let's give them to Karl. I will string them on a cord and place the cord through the leaves of this book and within the next few weeks I will place this book in her hands and tell her to read the book and preserve the little green gods, jealously, after her marriage."

Tells How to Dissolve Casein

County Fruit Inspector Armstrong has received a letter from Frank Lathrop, research assistant in entomology at the Oregon Agricultural College, in answer to a query from Mr. Armstrong. Some time ago a quantity of casein, used as a spreading in sprays was received here. The material was not finely granulated as was expected but on the contrary was in good sized lumps. Mr. Armstrong asked the assistance of the O. A. C. specialists in determining some method to dissolve the casein lumps and today received an answer.
 The letter says:
 "Upon examination of the sample of casein which you sent, I find that this is certainly much larger in size than the material which we have been using and the one which Prof. Lovett had in mind in making his recommendation is composed of granules about the size of ordinary sugar. This probably accounts for the difficulty which the growers have experienced in trying to dissolve it. We tried to dissolve some of this material in lime water as given in the recommendations which were sent to you and I find that this is certainly a hard material to get in solution. I then tried the sodium hydroxide method and found that the material which you sent went into the solution very readily by this means and probably this would be the best method to use on this material. A description of this process is given in Farmer's Bulletin 1121, published by the United States Department of Agriculture. As given in the bulletin, this method is described as follows: "The casein must first be put in the solution and the boiling point for ten or fifteen minutes in water to which has been added one-seventh as much sodium hydroxide as casein is used. In this manner a stock solution may be prepared and a proportionate quantity taken for use with each tank." Trusting that this may help solve the difficulty."

LORD SINHA
 White Men Planning Complete Possession of Fertile Islands of That Far-Away Ocean.

With Europe a seething mass of unrest and discontent and uncertainty, your Britisher is looking to the islands of the South Pacific, already owned by the empire, as the next place to go—and to exploit, to use the expression of a lot of people who do not know the meaning of the word. Already corporations are being formed to colonize the islands, and beautiful wood pictures of the advantages of a residence upon them are being printed.
 The truth is, for some years the white man has been gradually getting a foothold in the region. The delightful pictures which one sees of the natives, glass a little idea of what is really to be seen in the country. They are not the wild, naked people rooming at large, eating each other and the missionaries. Rubber plantations, coconut groves, phosphate mines and other industries are operated by Europeans. And schools and churches are encountered on every hand, with the bank of the horns of the automobile heard in the shade of the palms.
 The white man will not reach the end of his road until there is no more country to be settled up, and there are still vast areas to be brought under his dominion. In Africa, and upon the islands of the sea, he is setting his foot and clearing up the jungles and conquering the pests and becoming acclimated. But the end is not yet; there is still much to be done, and the chances are that the next few years will see an exodus to these far-away places where a beginning has already been made.—Columbus Dis-

Physical Ed. Teacher
 Here From Chicago

Helen Ford Turner, who has accepted a position with the Heinline Moore Conservatory as head of the Physical Education Department, for the coming year, arrived in Roseburg from Chicago where she resides. Her classes will open next Monday morning, September 13th, but reservations may be made before that time. Miss Turner has had years of experience in the physical education work and will add many new classes to the physical education department. Friday afternoon at the conservatory, Mrs. Heinline and Mrs.
 Moore will entertain informally in her honor.

Sleepy Little Pennsylvania Community

Within the limits of the city of Philadelphia, yet separate from the municipality proper, is the little village of Bustleton. Unlike its name, it is a sleepy community, populated mostly by retired farmers.
 Bustleton is replete with historic lore. Old Bill Tyler's Union hotel is a relic of the days when British and colonial troops overran the country.
 One sleeping chamber in the ancient inn contains a great four-poster bed in which, so the historians of the village say, once slept "Mad Anthony"

NEBRASKA FARMER WAS UNABLE TO RAISE A
 HAND TO HIS HEAD

"Yes, sir, I can endorse Tanlac, for I know what it will do and I know from personal experience," said Robert Kerach, well-known and prosperous farmer living near Spencer, Neb.
 "My stomach was in such awful shape I fell off from a hundred and fifty-five pounds to a hundred and five," continued Mr. Kerach. "Nothing I ate agreed with me and it seemed like I would die from the terrible cramping spells I would often have after meals. Gas would form in my stomach so bad it would almost cut off my breath and I suffered from blinding headaches every day or two. I had a pain in the small of my back nearly all the time, and if I stooped over I could hardly straighten up again. In addition to all these troubles I had the rheumatism in my left shoulder so bad I could not raise my hand to my head. I just seemed to lose all strength and energy and got so weak I could hardly get about."
 "A man came out on the farm one day to build a bridge and when he heard of my condition he came to see me and told me Tanlac had overcome similar troubles for him. After taking a few bottles of Tanlac I was back thirty pounds of my lost weight and now sound and healthy and there isn't a man in this country who has anything on me. Every one of my troubles is gone and I can do as his day's work as anybody on the farm. That is what Tanlac has done for me, and you can bet your bottom dollar I will never lose a chance to praise it."
 Tanlac is sold in Roseburg by W.
 F. Chapman and by the leading druggists everywhere.
