Salem Logan Yards
Bring Big Returns

SALEM, Sept. 16.—Bruce Cunningham, who has a 45-acre loganberry yard in the Liberty district, reports a gross return of $45,115 from the 1929 yield of berries just harvested. The loganberry crop was purchased by a Washington canning concern at a price a fraction above 13 cents per pound.

Mr. Cunningham's sales vouchers show a net profit of about $39,000. He believes that the world market for loganberries is just opening.

The cash return made this year are the first assurance given logan growers that the uncertain years of the industry's infancy have passed. There have been times when Marion county growers have been compelled to borrow money in order to continue their loganberry holdings from year to year. With the unprecedented demand this year for this small fruit, the grower should begin to receive his reward for his investment during these years when his entire holdings were at stake.

Smaller returns have also been reported from the smaller logan yards in this section.

The Liberty yard will be added to by a 10-acre planting next year. Mr. Cunningham states. In addition to this immediate yard enlargement, further additions are contemplated in the near future.

MUCH INTEREST BEING SHOWN IN PRESIDENTIAL STRAW VOTE

Considerable interest is being displayed in the straw vote for president being conducted by the Rexall stores. The voting will probably start about the first of next week and will continue for several weeks. The ballot boxes will be placed in Rexall stores in 8,000 cities and towns throughout the United States and consequently a very accurate vote will be obtainable. Ballot boxes are being procured by Nathan Pulver of the local Rexall store and as soon as the materials arrive the balloting will begin in this city.

Why drive in ignorance? A Boye Motorcar insures you against the dangers of a costly repair bill. H. Morten.

Improvements Are Made S. P. Yards

Considerable improvements have been made in the local yards during the past few days by the repair crew in charge of J. L. Barker and carpenter foreman C. Casper. The crossings at Oak Lane and Mosier streets have been smoothed up and new ties and planks have been placed, and the light rails in the south end of the yards have been replaced with heavy steel. The spur track for the Oregon Growers and A. Rupert, canneries have been constructed and are now being ballasted.

BIG PROGRAM.

PENDLETON, Ore., Sept. 15.—Seventy bucking horses, more than ever before, will be available for the best cowboy and cowgirl bucking riders in the country at the Pendleton Round-Up, which opens Thursday, Sept. 23, for its eleventh annual presentation. These earthquakes on legs have been brought in from mountain pastures and from the ranges of Wyoming and are in prime shape for wild riding.

Just as there are more bucking horses, more performers and more Indians than ever before lined up for performing end of the Round-Up, so do indications point to an attendance that will surpass previous records. Advance sales of reserved seats never were as brisk as this year and a keen demand is expected each morning for the east and west section grandstand seats which are withheld from the advance sale in order that those who come late may have a chance to obtain reserved seats.

Pendleton will be quite a convention city during Round-Up week. The State Federation of Labor will meet here, with between 300 and 400 delegates, opening on Sunday and ending Wednesday night. The rest of the week is to be used by most of the delegates in seeing the Round-Up and Happy Canyon. The sheriff and county clerks of Oregon, each with its own association, will also convene here, during the mornings of the three days for sessions. There are three meetings will bring hundreds of Pendleton.

INDERGARTEN AND PHYSICAL EDUCATION.

The kindergarten classes of the Leland-Moore Conservatory begin today, Sept. 13th, and since it is important that the babies begin their work together, parents are urged to enter them on Monday morning. Please phone the studio if you wish to be called for your child.

The Physical Education classes begin Monday also, and Mrs. Turner could like to meet all pupils of the grades and high school at 7 o'clock. The "Jed's" classes will start at 7 o'clock Monday evening and both old and new members are asked to come so that they may be grouped properly.

State Fair to Be Big Affair

When the gates open for the 1929 Oregon State Fair on Monday, September 27th, the people of the state will be offered an entertainment program, the equal of which has never been staged by any previous management. Those who attend but one day will hardly have sufficient time to visit all of the departments, the amusement features being entitled to a day by themselves. Something has been changed for every hour of the week, details of the program crowding closely upon one another.

The night horse show, for four nights, beginning Tuesday, is of tremendous importance on the evening's schedule, the leading hunt clubs of the northwest are to be well represented, among them being those of Seattle, Victoria, B. C., Spokane, Portland and Vancouver.

Expert horsemen and horsewomen will participate in brilliant equestrian feats, numerous individual entries to compete in try outs for first honors in horsemanship. The entire state will be well represented in the single entry class, Eugene, Corvallis and Shedd to occupy conspicuous places.

High jumpings and horses of every zaiting will be offerings as well as the A. C. Ruby series of two six-horse teams. Eastern Oregon will send similar teams and various other formations of high-bred horseflesh will be exhibited.

Horses with nation wide reputations for speed will participate in one of the fastest speed programs ever staged, professional auto polo will be staged on Lone Oak track for the first time, promising to be a big drawing event, and championship dirt track drivers in record-holding cars will, it is predicted, establish new speed records during the first two days of the fair.

Among the drivers are Horey, the holder of eight world's records driving a Fiat-Essex; Duray, Case; Euffman, Durrace; Reynolds, Victoria, and Maley, Comet, Salem and Portland automobile concerns are also equipping special cars for the races, and will name as drivers, men with local fast driving reputations.

DOUGHNUT KING STOPS HERE

M. D. Hoyt and wife of San Francisco, spent last night in this city on their way to Seattle. A number of years ago Mr. Hoyt began making doughnuts in a small shed erected in the rear of his home in Los Angeles. He made his deliveries on foot and with a basket. He now owns doughnut bakeries in all of the principal cities of California and also in Seattle and in Portland. A new bakery in Los Angeles recently erected cost him $45,000. He is on his way to Seattle to inspect the two bakeries at that place and on his return will stop in Portland where he is manufacturing the well known "Hoover" doughnut. During his stay in this city he visited with Ray W. Clark of the Umpqua Hotel, the two having been friends for a number of years.

PICNIC LAST NIGHT

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Harth, Phil Harth, Mrs. V. M. Pletcher, Miss Agnes Pletcher, Mr. and Mrs. Harley Watson, Miss Madeline Miller and Miss Clara Patrick made up a party last night which motored to the country south of town and cooked their supper on the banks of the river. Following the dinner the evening was spent around the campfire.

TO THE PUBLIC.

CHORUS GIRLS COME HIGH
COMMEND $100 A WEEK.

NEW YORK, Sept. 16.—With the new theatrical season about to start Broadway, as usual, is complaining of the dearth of chorus girls and the high cost of the young women of the ensemble who nowadays taste as much, and in some instances more, than their brothers and sisters of the drama. The chorus girl of today, it is said, is good-looking and dresses well enough to attract the tired business man to the theater several times to see her, demands and in most cases receives $75 a week. Others draw a paltry salary of $50 to $60, while some exceptional show girls draw as high as $100 a week.

HER
AND HIS SON.
BY IDAH MCGLONE GIBSON

Conventions.

I have always loved to hear and see my mother give that little girly laugh of hers. She cracked up the best around here and made her own career of her own. She was a pretty girl, always wanted to be a doctor, and so I wanted to be a doctor, too. I was a doctor, too, and so I wanted to be a doctor, too.

But she had her own little girl, and she was a doctor, too. She was a doctor, too, and so I wanted to be a doctor, too. I was a doctor, too, and so I wanted to be a doctor, too.

Why, mother, it had a little girl, and she was a doctor, too. She was a doctor, too, and so I wanted to be a doctor, too. I was a doctor, too, and so I wanted to be a doctor, too.

Then she went back to the college, and she was a doctor, too. She was a doctor, too, and so I wanted to be a doctor, too. I was a doctor, too, and so I wanted to be a doctor, too.

Then she went back to the college, and she was a doctor, too. She was a doctor, too, and so I wanted to be a doctor, too. I was a doctor, too, and so I wanted to be a doctor, too.

Then she went back to the college, and she was a doctor, too. She was a doctor, too, and so I wanted to be a doctor, too. I was a doctor, too, and so I wanted to be a doctor, too.

Then she went back to the college, and she was a doctor, too. She was a doctor, too, and so I wanted to be a doctor, too. I was a doctor, too, and so I wanted to be a doctor, too.

HOUSING ROOM NEEDED

From letters received by the local Chamber of Commerce secretary it is believed that the housing situation over the entire Pacific coast is much the same as in Roseburg. All letters of inquiry contain a request for information concerning the availability of houses and furnished rooms. There has been a decided reduction in the number of incoming settlers because of the great scarcity of living quarters and many easterners who came west to reside have returned to their former homes because of the failure to secure homes. The same conditions exist along the entire coast. In Roseburg it is practically impossible to secure a desirable home without purchasing it outright, while furnished rooms are at a premium. Reports from other cities in the state show the same condition in existence while tourists from California report the same scarcity existing there.

Riverside Laundry

In opening up this establishment it is not my aim to run a large laundry nor a cheap one but to be reasonable and try to please those who appreciate good work. Gentlemen's work is my specialty. Special rates made on family work. Telephone 467 or leave laundry at either Willard's or Rose's barber shop. Riverside Laundry, 549 N. Pine Street.
