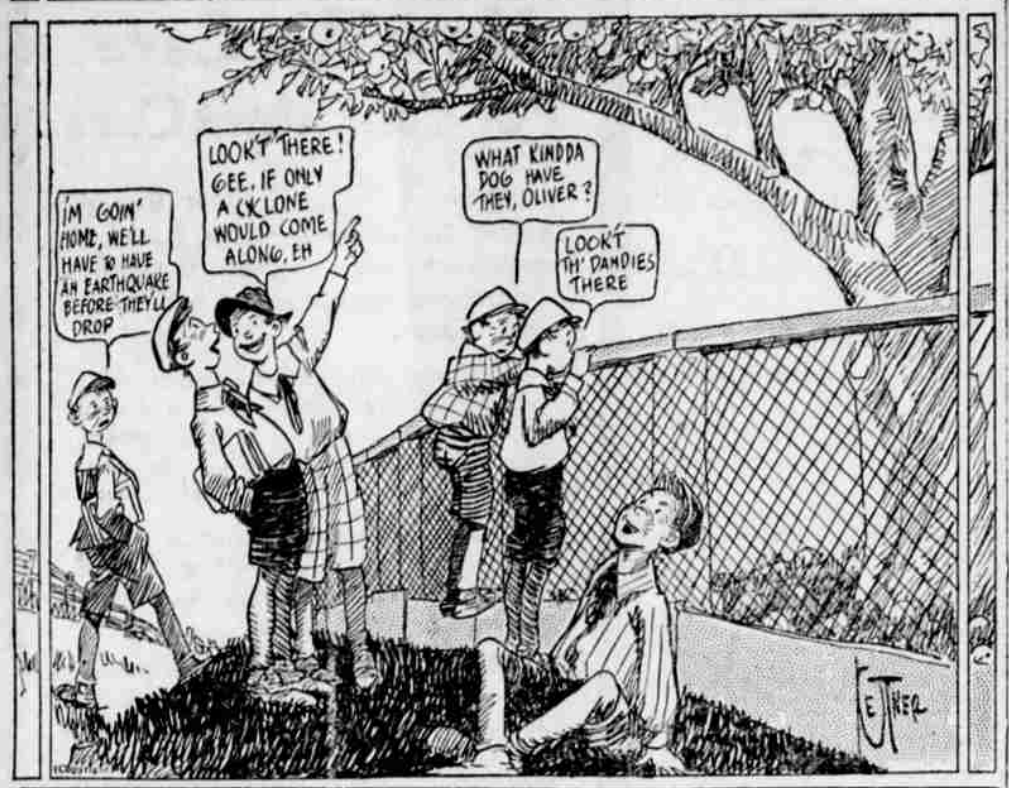
Waiting for the Windfalls



AROUND THE TOWN

Class at Yoncalla—
Miss Gladys Strong left this morning for Yoncalla, where she has a class in music.

Will Enter Hospital—
J. W. Deardorff and wife left this morning for Portland, where Mr. Deardorff will enter a hospital to undergo a surgical operation.

To Visit in Portland—
Mrs. L. S. Taylor and children left this morning for Portland to spend a few days visiting with friends and relatives.

Goes to Coast—
Harry Pierce, democratic candidate for sheriff, left last night for Reedsport and points in that vicinity where he will spend a week or more working in the interest of his campaign.

Here on Business—
Mrs. Cora McBride, field secretary of the Women's Relief Corps, spent yesterday in Roseburg visiting with members of the local auxiliary and attending to her official duties. She left this morning for Cottage Grove. Her home is in Portland.

FULLERTON RECEPTION.

The Fullerton P.-T. A. reception Friday was a most enjoyable affair. The address of welcome was given by the vice-president, Judge Fullerton, and responded to by Mrs. Church and Supt. Hamm. Miss Smith, the county visiting nurse, also outlined her work. Miss Bertha Kohlhagen graciously accepted a large bouquet of flowers, presented in recognition of her having won first prize at the state fair for the best loaf of bread. A piano solo and encore by Miss Ruth Wilcox and two vocal solos by Mrs. Wm. Hiney were much enjoyed. Light refreshments were served during the social hour. A large crowd was in attendance.

"Top Hole"

You might say "bully," "immense" or "great"—means the same thing.

Means: "There was room at the top for a cigarette that can refresh a tired and much tired taste. And Spur's that cigarette."

In the new Spur blend you find:

The richness of the full bodied Oriental leaf tempered by the mildness and fragrance of Burley and other choice home-grown tobaccos. It's a happy blend that brings out to the full that good old tobacco taste.

Just smoke a Spur and see.

Movie Closeups

Handsome Wallace Reid lying in bed, a towel around his head and a pretty nurse and two doctors in attendance This is the sight which would have met your eye had you visited the Lasky studios recently. And you might have wandered if Wallace had paid the price at last for the reckless daring that he displays in those automobile racing pictures of his.

But you would have quickly learned a different story. Mr. Reid was just making scenes for his new picture, "Sick Abed," which will be at the Antlers theatre tonight. Not that the picture is one of those depressing dramas with half the cast dying off in the third reel.

On the contrary, "Sick Abed" is one of the liviest Reid pictures ever screened. Wallie isn't ill a minute, not even for film purposes. He is just shamming according to the story in order not to incriminate a friend of his in a divorce suit. Ant the nice pretty nurse by his bedside is none other than Bebe Daniels, the dusky beauty of "Male and Female." "Why Change your Wife", "Sick abed will make real invalids forget their pains and well folks will roar with laughter.

The Babe Ruth picture which was a part of the program at the Majestic theatre last night will be at the Antlers tonight. These pictures are exceedingly interesting as they show in "slow" movies, all of Babe Ruth's famous twirls and swings, which have become the most interesting materials for psychologists of late.

A thirty piece orchestra and Claire Adams' own violinist supplied the musical atmosphere for the troupe of stars who appear in "Riders of the Dawn." Benjamin B. Hampton's production of the famous novel by Zane Grey, "the Desert of Wheat." But in spite of all this harmony, one of the stars often had to supply the music for the rest of them. This was the star, Miss Adams herself.

Miss Adams is an accomplished musician, and occasionally she consented to play the piano for the musical atmosphere for Violet Schram and little Marie Messenger, when she herself was not required in the scene of the big W. W. Hodkinson release. Opposite her in the charming love story is Roy Stewart as "Kurt Dorn" returned war hero, now wheat rancher. Other notables in the cast are J. J. Dowling, Robert McKim, Marc Robbins and Frederick Starr. "The film version of this famous story as "Riders of the Dawn" is the star attraction at the Liberty theatre tonight.

The last opportunity to see William Farnum's superb work in Victor Hugo's "Les Miserables," will be today, as the Fox production so widely discussed will be shown at the Majestic theatre for the last time. The appeal of the picture is tremendous, for it has a grandeur that touches the spectator in a way far beyond the reach of the average photoplay.

Victor Hugo has been adjudged the greatest poet since the time of Shakespeare. His genius was diverse and among his works is every form of literary creation. "Les Miserables" is always placed at the head of his achievements. It is a classic in school and leading educators have recommended the use of the photoplay in conjunction with the class room.

Forest Service To Plant Trees

One million trees will be plated by the forest service in the woods of district No. 1, near Missoula, Montana, according to an announcement at headquarters here. Weather conditions, it is stated, are unusually favorable for the work.

On Placer creek, 5 miles south of Wallace, Idaho, 400 acres will be planted in an area which was burned over in the disastrous fire of 1910 and which is now free from brush and undergrowth. The trees to be planted are chiefly white pine and spruce from the nurseries at Haugan Montana.
