

Official Democratic Statement

By Douglas County Democratic Central Committee.

The republican press and politicians have created so much confusion in the minds of the average voters that the real meaning and purpose of the League of Nations and its thought well by the Salem Capital Journal and other publications. The purpose of these articles will be to explain the complex questions in a language so simple that all can understand it. These articles will be carried in these columns from today to day and will answer the following questions:

What is the League of Nations, How is the League Organized? How will it Operate? What do the Nations of the League have themselves to do? What is an outlaw Nation? What is the League's method of dealing an outlaw Nation? Can the League declare war? Can the League order American troops abroad? Can it interfere with our purely domestic affairs? Does the League imperil the Monroe Doctrine? What is the Secretariat and its duties? Who in Europe favors the League? Is the League of Nations a super-state? Can America maintain its traditional isolation? Can the League be amended? Would Great Britain have six votes over us in the League? Why has the senate failed to ratify the League? How do we give up any of our sovereignty in subscribing to the League? What is Article X? Does the League bind its members to go into war in another's defense? What is the Saar valley question? What is a Colonial Mandate? Can the League force a Mandate on America? Would American reservations be violated by the League? Will the League of Nations reduce our power? What is the alternative to the League of Nations? These are the questions—all vital questions about the League of Nations that America has been asking since it was brought back from the straightjacket of isolation. They are straightforwardly asked and straightforwardly answered. They are printed to help our readers see only America's good, to see this question for themselves and the nation.

JAMES M. COX

backed by penalties. Q. How was the League established? A. It was established as part of the Versailles Peace treaty which ended this great war. Q. Have all the Nations whose representatives participated in the drafting of the treaty, accepted the League? A. They have with the exception of the United States. The senate at Washington has so far refused to ratify the treaty and the covenant of the league as part of the treaty. Q. Have neutral nations entered the League? A. Yes. Q. How many nations are now members of the league? A. At the last reckoning, thirty-nine. Q. Has the United States, through not a member, taken any official action in relation to the league? A. Yes. President Wilson in accordance with the terms of the covenant has issued a call for the first meeting of the assembly of the league on November 15. Q. Is the League a new departure in international relations? A. It is. States or nations had never until 1919 met and attempted to draw up rules of conduct for themselves. What is more important, they had never agreed to punish any violators of such shadowy codes as the ineffective treaties of the Hague tribunal. The Hague court not only failed to prevent the great war of 1914, but even to put in force, when the war did begin, the rules it had drawn up to mitigate the horrors of warfare. Q. But have not the Nations such a thing as international law? A. Yes—a very imperfect international law and also a certain chivalric idea of proper national behavior, both of which usually break under strain. Tomorrow's ABC of the League of Nations will tell how the League is organized and operates.

ABC OF THE LEAGUE OF NATIONS.

What is the League of Nations? What is the League of Nations? It is a society of free and civilized nations for the purpose of preserving peace. It is a society of free and civilized nations for the purpose of preserving peace. It is a society of free and civilized nations for the purpose of preserving peace.

W. H. MORSE, of Seattle, Wash., who says he can now turn out as much work as he could thirty years ago, in spite of his age. Gives Tanlac credit for his splendid health.

"I am in my eighty-fifth year, but since taking Tanlac I am as hale and hearty as I ever was and can do as much work as I could thirty years ago," declared W. H. Morse, of 52 Blaine St., Seattle, Wash. Although in his eighty-fifth year, Mr. Morse is still daily to be found engaged in hard work down at the Ames Shipyard and is remarkably well preserved for his years.

"Last spring I had an attack of the flu that left me in a very badly run-down condition and so weak that I could hardly get around. For a long while I had a very bad cold that I couldn't shake off and my bronchial tubes were so choked up that I was coughing all the time. I had no appetite and in fact ate so little that I was steadily losing weight. I couldn't sleep at nights and became very much worried about my condition, because I couldn't find anything to straighten me up and restore my lost strength.

"I saw by the papers what fine work Tanlac was doing for other folks, so I got some for myself. It did me good right from the start, for in a very short while my cough left me, and I was eating fine and sure did enjoy every mouthful. I slept better at nights and was soon feeling much better in every way. I have gained seven pounds in weight and am so much stronger that I can turn out about as much work as most any other man, in spite of my years. Tanlac certainly must be a great medicine to put me on my feet like it has, and I'm glad of the chance to tell everybody about it."

Tanlac is sold in Roseburg by W. F. Chapman and by the leading druggists everywhere.

GREEN GLEANINGS

Russell Harness has moved to the ranch he recently purchased from Mr. Emmons in Happy Valley, so that he can look after his broccoli crop and prune orchard.

Everybody in this vicinity is taking a keen interest in the Land Products show to be held in Roseburg on October 21 to 23 inclusive. Land products shows have been held in Nebraska and other middle western states and have been a decided success. Every man, woman and child should get behind the local organization and make the Douglas county show a permanent institution. Cash prizes are offered for displays in the various departments and much rivalry should prevail. Thursday will be horticultural day, Friday will be poultry day and Saturday will be stock day. The writer understands that the armory has been secured for the fruit exhibit and all stock will be shown at the Signor barn.

Mr. M. M. Van Horn is one of the busiest apple merchants in the Green valley. He will have about one thousand bushels of Spitzenberg and Newton apples and has disposed of the same to the Oregon Growers Association for export trade.

Mr. William Austin and family visited at the state fair at Salem last week, and were very much impressed by the exhibits in general. Fall planted grain is coming along in fine shape.

George Bart, the good looking manager of the poultry department of the Land Products show has just completed a modern chicken house capable of accommodating a thousand hens on his Happy Valley ranch.

John Howard has a large crew of men busy filling his large silo on his dairy ranch.

The teachers of the Green school, Miss Armstrong and Miss Lull, have planned for a picnic on next Saturday afternoon, for the entertainment of their pupils.

Next Sunday is Rally Day at the Green Sunday Schools.

Miss Grace Lloyd and Mrs. Fred Renner are entertaining next Saturday evening in honor of Dr. and Mrs. George Bradburn, who are soon to leave for Honolulu to spend the winter.

Judge Stewart should see that the two bridges leading from the Pacific highway to Green station be put in passable condition. They are unsafe in their present condition. Your correspondent wants to offer

Jail Wit Soon Placed on Trial

(By Associated Press.) PARIS, France, Oct. 13—Henri Landru, who is shortly to be placed on trial on charges growing out of the disappearance of 11 women to whom he had promised marriage, and who has acquired quite a reputation for his dry wit since his incarceration 18 months ago, showed deep interest in the health of the Mayor of Cork, Terence MacSwiney, on a hunger strike in a British prison.

Every morning he inquired of the jailer whether MacSwiney were still alive.

For a short time Landru refused to partake of the usual food of the prison fare.

"Are you trying to do the MacSwiney stunt, starve yourself," the jailer inquired.

"The innocent never commit suicide," replied Landru sentimentally.
