Harding Invades Kentucky State

ABOARD HARDING SPECIAL. Oct. 14.—Senator Harding is on his way to Louisville, Kentucky, where he will speak tonight. He spoke in the Chattanooga armory last night and to an overflow crowd outside. The train is scheduled for six o'clock today. In his talks the republican nominee made a record of the present administration as the basis for appeal for support in the south.

Itinerant Father Slaughters Own Kin

BAKERSFIELD, Oct. 14.—W. E. Willbanks, an itinerant farmer, was arrested following an alleged attempt on the life of his daughter, Mrs. Mary Midkiff, and confessed, according to the district attorney, that he had killed his two daughters and two young children, one near Fresno and the other near Ranford. The prosecutor said that Willbanks confessed that he was the father of the two dead children.

REPUBLICANS FOR STANFIELD

Harding Needs a Republican Senate.

Oregon Needs a Protective Tariff.

As is generally known, the present republican majority in the United States senate is just one vote. Republican control of that body is, therefore, in jeopardy. It is the realization of this fact which is causing Oregon's republicans to unite in support of the candidacy of the republican nominee for United States Senator, Robert N. Stanfield. With a difference of only one in the present senate, republican voters have awakened to the fact that if they vote for George E. Chamberlain they may by that very act be turning the control of the senate over to the democrats. On the other hand, by electing Robert N. Stanfield it is possible that his single vote may give the republicans control of the senate, and thus put that body solidly back of Harding. Oregon producers are fearful of the effect that the election of Cox and a democratic senate would have upon them. It is quite evident that under democratic rule rival products of foreign origin would offer a serious menace to many Oregon products. If the American standard of living is to be maintained, Oregon farmers, livestock men, fruit growers, lumbermen and woolgrowers must receive a price for their products which will enable them to make a reasonable profit over and above the cost of production. They will be unable to obtain such reasonable profit, or any profit at all, unless a republican administration is elected to levy protective tariff duties just high enough to save our producers from the ruinous competition threatened by Canadian wheat and lumber, New Zealand butter, Australian wool, Argentine corn and beef, European beet sugar, South African meat and hides and Manchurian beans and peas.

To hamper a republican president with a democratic senate files in the face of the well accepted principle that governmental management should be centered, so that the people can correctly place the responsibility for success or failure. The feeling among Oregon republicans is, therefore, becoming quite general that Harding, if elected, is entitled to the support of a republican senate and that, therefore, Oregon should elect the republican senatorial nominee, Robert N. Stanfield, to help back up Harding.

Road Paving Plans Need Help of City

It is understood that a meeting will be held in the offices of State Highway Commissioner, Benson at Portland tomorrow afternoon to consider paving projects for next year and tentative arrangements for the contracts on the work. It is said by parties in touch with the situation that the unpaved road south of the city of Roseburg to connect up with the Winston-Myrtle Creek section of paving is not to be considered. Mr. Benson has shown his desire to let contracts for this work, it is alleged, but other members of the commission are stated to have taken a neutral attitude and are thought to be somewhat opposed to the improvement of the seven or eight miles of unpaved road from just west of the Winston bridge to Roseburg. Prompt action by highway improvement advocates and enthusiasts is believed necessary to secure favorable action by the commission at the meeting. That the road in question is badly in need of paving, as is the section from the north city limits. Contracts for this work should be let this winter in order to insure completion of the sections involved during the early summer of 1921.
