OPEN MODEL CATERIA AT NEW STUDEBAKER PLANT

Rivals Army System for Efficiency in Feeding Large Numbers of Employees in Short Time—5,000 Can Be Accommodated Every 15 Minutes—10 Branch Restaurants in Addition to Main Cafeteria—Most Modern Equipment Installed—Operated Without Profit.

What is declared to be the most efficient and most modern industrial plant cafeteria system in operation in the country has just been opened at the new $20,000,000 factory of the Studebaker Corporation in South Bend, Ind. With a capacity for feeding 5,000 employees every fifteen minutes, it rivals the world-famous American Army system for speed, and at the same time offers service and an assortment of delicacies.

In addition to the main cafeteria, which accommodates 1,500 persons, there will be ten branch cafeterias in the various plant buildings, each with a capacity of approximately 250 employees. A special feature of efficiency is the method of distributing food ready to serve, in vacuum containers from the main cafeteria kitchens where it is prepared, to the branches throughout the factory. This plan makes it unnecessary for all the workers to congest one dining hall, and saves their time by placing a restaurant near where they work.

Some idea of the healthy appetites enjoyed by the Studebaker workers may be obtained from statistics showing that the average amount of food consumed by each 1,000 men and women daily is: 320 pounds of meat, 7 bushels of potatoes, 1,500 biscuits or rolls, 30 loaves of bread, 30 pounds of butter, 35 pounds of sugar, 25 cases of milk in pint bottles, 120 pies, 500 individual orders of pork and beans.

Always foremost in improvement. This is a Studebaker year. C. O. THOMAS, Roseburg, Oregon.

A B C OF THE LEAGUE OF NATIONS. By Will Irwin.

VII.—Is the League a Super-State? Q. Can the covenant of the league be amended? Q. With regard to the second objection to the league, if we stay out, can we hope to maintain our isolation?

Q. At present, and comparatively speaking, no. Air warfare is still in its infancy, but it is being rapidly improved. What aircraft may be able to inflict, in combination with the new poison and inflammable gases, disease bacilli, and wireless control, no one can say.

Q. The British empire could not land an expedition at Gallipoli against the feeble Turks. How could a foreign nation land troops on our shores? A. They could not, directly. But any condition which held the seas and which included Mexico or Canada could make of such adjacent country a base for accumulating armies and dispatching aircraft.

Q. Assuming that we were immune from attack, would the United States find it easy to keep out of another general European war? A. No. Our world interests as a great power are so wide that we would be inevitably affected in our interests by a general war; and the history of the last war would in all probability repeat itself.

Q. What other important factor makes it impossible for us to stand wholly aloof from a general European war? A. Our population is a blend of many European social and national elements, some of them dating back to our earliest history, some more recent. It is inevitable that a general European war should arouse sympathies or fears among our various social strains. A European war is bound to re-echo loudly in the United States.

Q. Is the league a super-state? A. No. A state must have an authoritative government, armed forces to make good its ordinances, and the power to levy taxes. The league of nations has no trace of government in the ordinary and accepted sense. The council and assembly have no power except to advise, propose, or recommend. The council might advise the members to join in war upon an offender, but the members are in no wise bound to take this advice.

Q. Do we give up any of our sovereignty in subscribing to the covenant of the league? A. Only insofar as it is restricted by the express agreements contained in the covenant. We surrender no sovereignty to the council or assembly. We have now, and had before the great war, treaties with twenty foreign nations agreeing to submit to investigation and report by an international commission all disputes, even those involving vital differences. By these treaties we agree not to exercise our sovereignty right to go to war during the year allowed for investigation. The league merely carries this principle a step forward. It does, however, provide adequate and modern machinery, never in existence before 1919.

Q. Do we make no other surrender? A. We do. We agree that when any nation, through war or to war in disregard of its covenants, becomes outwitted, we will surrender temporarily our sovereignty over our foreign commerce to the extent of stopping trade and communication with the offender.

A TYPICAL ARGUMENT. Declaring that former president Roosevelt favored the Lodge reservations to the peace treaty, the Portland Telegram says editorially: "Mrs. Robinson tells that her brother, (Theodore) Roosevelt, shortly before he died, gave his unqualified approval to the Lodge reservations which he thought absolutely essential to the maintenance and preservation of American sovereignty. This is typical of most of the arguments on the League of Nations by the republicans and about as sincere and truthful.

"MONEY" Don't Spend it "INVEST IT" An Opportunity

One of the greatest opportunities that has ever come to the American people, especially the people of Douglas County and Roseburg, is now being offered by the Automatic Electric Brake Company

It is the pleasure of the Automatic Electric Brake Company to offer to the people of this country what they think will be one of the greatest profit-making industries of the world. The Nation has been calling for some sort of a device, some kind of an automatic equipment applied to brakes on automobiles, trucks, trailers and even railway trains and street car lines, preferably an Electric Brake.

We have gone through the experimental stage and have a number of cars equipped with our Automatic Electric Brake; Premier, Buick, Mitchell, Oldsmobile, Dodge and Studebaker, working from the regular service battery that supplies the lights and starter and it has proven satisfactory in every detail, there not being an added cost in maintenance over the usual battery cost, as electricity is used only the instant the application or release is made.

We could give you a long list of successful companies that were organized to promote public commodities, but however, you would have to admit that we have a bigger proposition and an article in greater demand than they had at the start.

Electric Brakes and Electric Drill-Hammers and other inventions of the company will be demonstrated to you at your pleasure and the Secretary, W. M. Hiney, Room 424 Perkins Building, will give you any information you may wish regarding the inventions or the progress of the company.

Oregon Must Have a Port Equal to Any Port on the Pacific Coast.

Initiative measure No. 310 on the ballot gives to the Port of Portland means to create such a port. The primary object of this bill is to furnish the means to insure the opening and maintaining of a 30-foot channel from Portland to the sea and of building and establishing port facilities at the City of Portland sufficient to handle the foreign and coastwise shipping of that port. The cost of this improvement will be met by the people living within the boundaries of the Port of Portland. When you go to the Polls November second vote 310 YES and give to the Port of Portland the power to maintain its 30-foot channel to the sea and to build adequate port facilities to handle all of the great products of the interior of the state. The passage of this bill means lower freight rates for the products of Oregon in reaching the markets of the world and a consequent greater profit to the producers. This is the most important and the most valuable measure that has ever been put up to the voters of the interior portions of the state.

quaffed approval to the Lodge reservations which he thought absolutely essential to the maintenance and preservation of American sovereignty. This is typical of most of the arguments on the League of Nations by the republicans and about as sincere and truthful.

When Senator Harding faced an audience in Des Moines, Iowa, a man asked him this question: "Could the League of Nations, if the United States were a member of it, call this country into war without the consent of congress?"

Senator Harding promptly answered, "Certainly Not."

Yet the whole attack upon the League of Nations has been made upon the false assertion that it would drag us into Europe's wars and is a "surrender of sovereignty."

Mr. Harding in his set speeches has repeatedly used these phrases. It was not until he was caught unaware by a heckler that he uttered the truth.

Congress alone has the right to declare war and no war will ever be declared by congress without the consent of the people of this country, and the people of this country have no intention of becoming involved in any war.

It is for this very reason that we seek to ratify the League of Nations and make any future wars well nigh impossible. The campaign of falsehood that is reaping its reward in the desertion from the ranks by those who stand for "progress as against reactionaries. Only through the election of Congress this country hope to enter the League of Nations and take its place in the council of the nations in preserving world peace. —Eugene Guard.
