531 ELECTORAL ARENA Election of a Candidate as President—Wilson Had to Have Only 277

By Associated Press.
NEW YORK, Oct. 29.—The national and state elections to be held Tuesday, November 2, will be notable for the number of women nominations and the large number of parties which have nominated candidates.

Six parties have national tickets for President and Vice-President, though by no means in all the states.
These tickets are Republican, Democratic, Socialist, Prohibition, Farmer-Labor and Single Tax. About 13 other parties have candidates either for state tickets or for representatives in Congress, bringing the total of all parties in the field nearly to a score.

In the Presidential election there will be chosen 531 members of the Electoral College of which 265 will be necessary to elect a candidate as President. In the last election President Wilson had 277.

The present membership of the United States Senate is 96, composed of 47 democrats, 48 republicans and one republican and progressive. This year 32 states are to elect 34 senators, the terms of 32 members of that body expiring on March 3, 1921, while the other two are being selected to fill unexpired terms up to March 4, 1925. Of the 32 senators whose terms expire next March, 17 are democrats and 15 republicans.

The two additional vacancies were caused by the deaths of Senators McDonald of Alabama and Martin of Virginia, both democrats. One senator is to be chosen in each of the 12 states except in Alabama, which elects 2.

The only states which do not elect senators are Delaware, Maine, Massachusetts, Michigan, Minnesota, Mississippi, Montana, Nebraska, New Jersey, New Mexico, Rhode Island, Tennessee, Texas, West Virginia and Wyoming.

Women candidates for the Senate have been nominated in six states, by the Prohibitionist in Indiana, New York and Pennsylvania; by Socialists in California, by the Farmer-Labor Party in New York and Connecticut and by Independents in Nebraska.

NO TRACE FOUND
OF MISSING CREW

Concrete Steamer Sunk Last

By Associated Press.
NEWPORT, R. I., Oct. 30.—Members of the coast guard here have reported that no trace had been obtained of any of the missing members of the crew of 34 of the concrete steamer, Cape Fear, which was sunk in Narragansett Bay last night in a collision with the steamer, City of Atlanta.

At a late hour 19 of the crew of 34 of the sunken vessel were unaccounted for. The Cape Fear was sunk in the deepest part of Narragansett Bay tonight in a collision with the Savannah line steamer, City of Atlanta.

The Cape Fear was outward bound from Providence for Norfolk, in ballast and carried only her crew, as did the City of Atlanta, which was bound from Savannah to Providence.
Just how the accident happened was especially as the weather was clear and a light sea running.

New York voters will pass on a proposed $45,000,000 bond issue.
North Carolina will vote on a proposed state income tax while North Dakota will decide whether to grant woman suffrage. Ohio has a referendum on an act providing for the enforcement of prohibition while Oklahoma is to settle the question of regulating the practice of medicine.

In Oregon there will be a vote on a constitutional amendment for compulsory voting and registration and an initiative on an anti-compulsory vaccination.

Six constitutional amendments are proposed in South Dakota including one to authorize the issue of $6,000, 000 in bonds to provide bonuses for soldiers, sailors and marines. Washington also will vote on a proposed bonus for soldiers and on the question of increasing the salaries of the state officers.

No state elections will be held next Tuesday in Maine, Maryland, Mississippi, New Jersey, nor Virginia.

WITCHES AND GOBLINS
IN FULL FORCE

Many Social Activities Last Night In Honor of Hallowe'en.

SMALL BOYS PREPARE
Churches and Schools Have Masked Socials Last Night—Mrs. Bradburn Has Large Party in Attention; Tonight's Activities.

Hallowe'en, the only night in the year when "the goblins" get you if you don't watch out, is close at hand, and from all indications a goodly number of ghosts, goblins, witches and their attendant black cats will be abroad riding broom-sticks, and flying through the air, and no one is safe from their visitations for it is a well known fact that hobgoblins of all varieties can easily use a keyhole as a means of entrance, or when none is available, walk right through the thickest walls.

Hallowe'en is beloved of small boys, the one time when they can gratify, in a small way, their urge for destructiveness, and in every family where there is a "boy terror," mysterious and solemn preparations are under way. Old spoils and most of the family soap is being commonly used in each case and remonstrances from the heads of the house usually bring forth, "Aw, can't you let a guy have a little fun? Halloween only comes once a year, anyway!"

Many pre-Hallowe'en activities have been taking place in the social circles for the past week, and a climax was reached last night when nearly every church and school in the city was the scene of ghostly feverment. Several other small dances are parties will take place tonight.

What was probably the most elaborate affair of the season was spoils-ted by Mrs. George Bradburn yesterday afternoon at the Bradburn home at Watsons. Over thirty ladies were bidden by the hostess and left this city in automobiles early in the afternoon. Good use was made by Mrs. Bradburn of Hallowe'en decorations, and grinning pumpkins and Jack o' Lanterns furnished the only light in the darkened and beautifi-cally decorated rooms. The guests were greeted at the door by a ghost hostess who presented to each one a cold and clammy hand to shake. Huge black cats stood sentinel on each side, the furry costumes concealing the forms of little Nova Winston and Helen Bowker. A bent old witch with long hair and a toothless smile rode her broomstick around the room, later telling fortunes, and still later revealing herself as Mrs. W. C.
Winston. Games of all kinds were played, and a procession of ghosts of the past caused much merriment.

A delicious dinner was served at small tables. Guests at the affair were: Messdames A. C. Marsters, W. T.
Wright, W. A. Glenn, John Engle, J.
C. Hume, Geo. Neuner and sister Mrs.
Nolan, of Colorado, J. P. Barker and friend Mrs. Dichtland, of Portland, A.
Broadway, R. M. Brumfield, A. A.
Wilder, Harry Stapleton, W. C. Winston, Fred Winston, Dr. Bowker, L. B.
Skinner, George Johnson, Frank Lili-burn, J. W. Hamilton, H. C. Waddell, Geo. Burchard, Gay Flint, Albert Abraham, I. B. Riddle, Fred Chapman, Nathan Fullerton, Clay Smith, M. J. Shoemaker Sr., Dean Huber and Paul Huber.

The B. Y. P. U. society of the Baptist church entertained with a social at the church parlors. Autumn leaves, corn husks, black cats and pumpkins were used plentifully in the decorations, and a fortune-telling booth caused much merriment. The traditional games were played and pumpkin pie and sandwiches finished the evening.

A similar affair was held at the Christian church, also sponsored by the young people's society. All those present were masked in the approved fashion and Hallowe'en games were in order until the delicious refreshments were served.
