Movie Closeups

Ethel Clayton's new Paramount-Artcraft picture, "Roung Mrs. Winthrop," will be the feature attraction at the Antlers theatre tonight. It is an interesting story of young married people, telling of the estrangement of a youthful husband and wife, and their reconciliations under dramatic circumstances. Bronson Howard wrote the play from which it was adopted.

Ethel Clayton has the role of pleasure loving Constance Winthrop and Harrison Ford is the husband, immersed in business. Their varying interests lead them apart, the sole connecting link being their five year old child, Rosie. The husband becomes involved in an innocent but a shady looking affair with a Mrs. Dunbar, who is bent upon revenging herself upon Constance. The climax of the picture is the death of Rosie, which at first separates them still further, but later brings them together through the action of a lawyer friend of both.

J. M. Dumont, Charles Ogle, Raymond Hatton and Winifred Greenwood are included in the excellent supporting cast. Walter Edwards directed the picture.

Lew Cody, the great lover of the screen, has his love making made easy for him in his latest picture, "The Butterfly Man," a Robertson Cole special showing at the Liberty theatre tonight. He has no less than three leading women, and all of them are noted for their beauty. They are Louise Lovely, Lilie Leslie and Rosemary Theby.

The ladies, only a few of the many shown in the picture, appear in superbly becoming gowns, necessary because the story is based on high society life. There are exquisite costumes of the boudoir and the beach besides ultra gowns of evening and afternoon design, many of them being Parisian creations.

As the story develops in its celluloid form—it is taken from the novel by George Barr McCutcheon by the same name—it becomes more and more evident that a supreme treat for feminine eyes is in process of revelation. The beautiful costumes, the scenes showing woman in her most intimate moments and the atmosphere of feminine delicacy and refinement which the woman director of the play has woven about the production all focus on the major element of the screen clientele—the women.

Of course there is plenty to entertain the men. There is the underlying and ever present motif of the stellar role, interpreted by Mr. Cody, who flits from one romance to another. The engrossing human element which Cody introduces is certain to intrigue every male.

The attempt to make the marriage state a business proposition is an impossible undertaking, according to the dramatic story produced through Vitagraphs latest feature, "Slaves of Pride." This picture, of which Alice Joyce is the star will be presented at the Majestic theatre for the last time tonight.

Patricia Leds is virtually sold by her mother through the form of a marriage to Brewster Howard, a very wealthy man, in return for the financial reinstatement of the girl's mother. To Howard, the marriage is a business proposition. He believes he needs the girl to add a social tone to his household and figure as a chatelaine that will bring him into contact with select persons.

He proceeds to make the arrangement purely businesslike, and one of convenience, purely devoid of love. But Patricia feels love in her heart, and desires above all, the fulfillment of love.

The cold blooded business character of the marriage soon proves to be doomed to failure. The story weaves its waf through the situation to a surprising climax of semi-tragedy and romance.

OREGON IS TO GET GRANGE

BOSTON, Nol. 17—The National Grange voted today to go to the state of Oregon for its annual session to be held next year. The city in which the meetings will be held was not specified, but the invitation was extended in the name of Portland.

Sloan's Liniment Pain's enemy

Doctor Cupid

That love sometimes cures disease is a fact that has been called to the attention of the public by a prominent physician. Love is not, however, the cure for all women. Many a woman is nervous and irritable, feels dragged down and worn out for no reason that she can think of.

Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription gives new life and new strength to weak, worn-out, run-down women. "Favorite Prescription" makes weak women strong and sick women well. It is now sold by all druggists in the United States in tablets as well as liquid form.

ROSEBURG, OREGON—"I suffered something terrible from an organic trouble. Could scarcely stand on my feet. My head and back ached so hard and I was weak and nervous. I had severe pains in my side and my limbs and feet ached. I was also troubled with constipation. I took Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, Golden Medical Discovery, and Pleasant Pellets. These medicines cured me of all my ailments and I was well and strong."—MRS. W. D. MOORE, 1246 N. Jackson Street.
