LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

LACK OF PARENTAL CONTROL AND DISCIPLINE

Editor News-Review: In your issue of the 19th inst. you call attention to the very sad moral condition prevailing, especially among our young people. It is worth while to consider not only the unfortunate situation, but also some of the contributing causes. In the first place, there is a great lack of parental discipline and control. Especially are the mothers of young girls bringing them up without any disposition to work at housekeeping or anything else, with their minds absorbed in thoughts of dress and amusements. Again, the school authorities seem disposed to abolish parental control by encouraging every form of social life in the school, taking the young people almost entirely away from home interests and home discipline. From the time school opens in the fall until it closes in June, there is one continuous round of social activities, including "weinie roasts," receptions, parties, etc. Each of these draws the young people away from home influences. The only wholesome social life must have its center in the home. Our young people are coming to look upon home as merely a place to eat and sleep and receive tribute from mother and father. Our educational system will never do its full duty until it turns back the growing boy and girl to the home life, where the foundations of character must after all be laid. Our teachers who are taking a different course will have much to answer for. Just now young high school girls are required to go night after night to the high school building to practice for a play. This is causing them to be out at late hours of the night and doubtless in many cases not properly attended. Common sense would suggest that if work of this kind cannot be done in daylight it should not be done.
 Another influence having great power for evil is the moving picture show, with its exhibition of all sorts of crime, easy-going manners between the sexes, etc. It means that in the "movie" a young man is not expected to know a young woman more than ten minutes before he must be kissing and hugging her. Much more could be said on this subject. We have been startled recently by the report that the perpetrators of the greatest mail robbery in the history of our country included three boys from 17 to 29 years of age. Youthful crime is everywhere increasing at a tremendous rate. No doubt many a boy gets his ideas of crime from what he sees pictured on the screen. Impressions made thru the eye are most effective and lasting. The wonder is that our educators, preachers and newspapers are so blind to the situation.

MISS KATHERINE SELLERS

This is Miss Katherine Sellers, appointed by President Wilson judge of the juvenile court of the District of Columbia.

Liberty was a decided hit, and Manager Donnellan is intending to have them play several times in the near future. The band consists of twenty pieces, as follows: Olson, Krogel, Karcher, Tester, Giblin, and Hatfield, cornets; Carsten, Bowden, McCulloch, and Wharton, clarinets; Hatfield, Hunter and Main, trombones; Reizenstein and Epstein, baritone; Baker and Brumback, bass; Goodman, saxophone; Carhan, Baker, "Household," and Mahoney, alto; Wileon, bass drum and cymbals; Singleton and Bellows, snare drums. Alva Hunter has been elected president of the organization. Lawrence Krogel, secretary and treasurer and Theodore Olson, business manager and leader.

A Friend Recommended "Internal Baths" -- Now Never Troubled.

Mr. Otto Drum, 27 Proctor St., Tacoma, writes Tyrrell's Peppine, Idaho, as follows:
 "For a number of years I suffered with gas on the stomach and after using most every kind of medicine, a friend of mine convinced me that the only way I could be cured would be to use the 'J. B. L. Cascade' outfit, according to directions. I used one for about three weeks and now I have been using it once a month and have never been troubled with gas. This was five years ago.
 The 'J. B. L. Cascade' cleanses the lower intestine its entire length and keeps it always free of poisonous waste.
 Thousands testify that Constipation, Indigestion, Stomach Trouble, Bileousness, Headaches and all the many serious troubles which they cause are absolutely relieved and prevented by this Nature Treatment.
 Nathan Fullerton, proprietor of the Medical Drug Store, Peppine, Idaho, Roseburg, Oregon, will be glad to show you the 'J. B. L. Cascade,' explain its simple operation and will give you free, on request, an interesting little booklet by Dr. Chas. A. Tyrrell of New York, a noted specialist on Internal Bathing for 25 years in that city. Clip this out as a reminder to ask for the booklet at your first opportunity."

Oregon Citizens Should Come Thru

PORTLAND, Ore., Nov. 22.—Unless the people of Oregon come forward this week with substantial contributions for the Oregon W. C. T. U. $125,000 Farm Home Campaign, Fund, hundreds of little orphan children are not going to get an opportunity to find good homes and ideal living conditions, according to John F. Wheeler, state chairman of the campaign committee.
 "There is an urgent need for a Children's Farm Home, such as the W. C. T. U. plans to establish," said Mr. Wheeler today. "And unless we can procure this fund, of $125,000, these dependent little tots are the ones who will suffer. The movement has the unanimous endorsement of the welfare workers, who admit that there is great need for a home of this character."
 Mr. Wheeler points out several special features of the proposed farm home, which are lacking in other of the children's institutions in Oregon. The cottage plan of housing the children is declared to be the proper method of rearing boys and girls. Then, too, it will be the only non-sectarian home of this character in Oregon, where children can receive clean, Christian training and all the educational advantages offered to other youngsters.
 "Child welfare and juvenile court statistics show that child dependency has been on the increase for the past few years," Mr. Wheeler pointed out. "For that reason, a home such as is proposed under this campaign will help to relieve what welfare workers admit is an acute situation. This movement is inaugurated solely on behalf of the little orphan waifs, whose present outlook on life is none too bright. If a pleasant farm home with all of the best advantages in going to help rear these children to better citizenship, the good people of Oregon should not hesitate one moment in judging the needed financial assistance at this hour of need."

DEMAND FOR PHONES

NEW YORK, Nov. 20.—Based on the present demand for telephones, New York City will reach the million mark by the end of 1921, G. W. Whittemore, valuation engineer of the New York Telephone company, stated in testifying at a hearing of the Public Service Commission here. At the present time there are 870,000 telephones in the city.

NOTICE TO RED CROSS WORKERS

Please remember that the Red Cross drive is supposed to be completed by Thanksgiving day, and if you have not already canvassed your territory, please put forth every effort to complete it as soon as possible. Remember that 50 per cent of the money collected remains in the hands of the executive board and that great good has been accomplished in the past; even to the saving of life; and will be accomplished in the future if you collect the dollars that are ready for you.
 B. W. STRONG,
 Chairman Douglas County Drive.

The first appearance of the band was on Armistice Day, when they pleased their many hearers. The added feature at the

Health Conference Held Next Week

DETROIT, Mich., Nov. 22.—Plans are developing rapidly for a national health conference to be held in Detroit November 30th and December 1st, at which representatives of the health departments of all the larger cities in the country will discuss the housing situation and its effect upon the health of the people.
 Officials of the local board of health are conducting a health survey to determine the difference in the death rate between the centers of the city that are crowded and in those where the number of persons in a given territory is not so great. Similar surveys are being conducted in other large cities of the country, and reports will be submitted at the meeting here.
 The Detroit survey is a repetition of one conducted in 1919. Several cross sections of the city were chosen for the survey and representative blocks in these sections inspected. The death rate per capita is being figured upon the following factors: The number of families in each apartment; the number of persons using each lavatory; the number of persons on each acre and the number of roomers.
 In previous surveys a much higher death rate was found in crowded centers than in less populated districts and the same finding is expected this year.
 The aim of the conference, according to Dr. Henry F. Vaughn, Detroit's Health Commissioner, is to bring to the attention of the country the danger of overcrowding.

SHOW LOCATION OF WATER

Signs on Painted Desert in the Southwest Guide Travelers to the Precious Liquid.

Travel on the beaten paths in the famous Painted Desert of the Southwest would be a dangerous matter were it not for the stone sentinels set up by the Navajo Indians to direct the stranger traveling through that country, where once there was water in plenty, but where now are only the dry beds of rivers.
 These sentinels are piles of rocks, as high as a man, located on rises of ground where they may be readily seen. In the body of the monument is placed a projecting rock which is arranged to protect the direction to the nearest spring or waterhole. If one follows the direction indicated, although he may have to proceed a considerable distance, the precious water will always be found.
 Frequently it is only a very weak seep supplying no more than a few cups in an hour. Or it may be a pool located deep in the recesses of a rocky ledge and collected from the snows of the past winter. Sometimes it is situated in an out-of-the-way place, and then there may be two, or even three smaller monuments erected along the route designated.
 Also along the way there may be arrows cut in the rocks or crooked grooves symbolizing the windings of a brook or signs of various kinds which will attract attention. These directions all help to make the way plain and reduce the chance of the traveler becoming confused.

JOIN A "THANK YOU" CLUB

No Initiation Fee and No Dues, and Membership is Open to Every Person.
 It's great, the "Thank You" club. No initiation, no dues, no long-drawn-out meetings, and no reports. Anyone can make a quorum to do business. No stated meetings nor any stipulated place of meeting. Anybody can start a "Thank You" club. Beats Overall clubs all to pieces! Lasts longer, does more good, and spreads sunshine.
 One carries the by-laws around in his head. The password is "Thank You." And that's all there is in the whole book of rules. That's all it means, the "Thank You" club—just a thank you for the little services performed daily as well as the big ones. A thank you is more appreciated by many people than a tip, which, by some, might be considered an insult.
 Start a club some morning. Watch your club grow. Good ideas spread. Try the club for one day. It may make you a life member. And the "thank you" exchanges will increase and radiate like ripples from a stone thrown into the millpond.
 There's a big field in this world for "Thank You" clubs. Their members take the edge off rough places. If "Thank You" is the password, the genuine smile of service is the open reward for its application.—Haverhill Gazette.
 A Craven Suitor.
 "I am convinced that I could never make you happy," wrote an abject lover to the lady who had won his heart. "You are of a different world from mine. You are to me as white marble to dull red clay. The devotion of my life would not recompense you for the sacrifice you would make to marrying me. I know I can never hope to make you happy, but if you think otherwise let me know by return." The woman who could accept so craven a lover as this can scarcely hope to be complimented on her judgment or on her capture.

CALIFORNIA WOMAN HAS GAINED 30 POUNDS THROUGH TAKING TANLAC

"One year ago today I was in the hospital, but now since taking Tanlac I have not only gained thirty pounds in weight, but I am enjoying better health than I have in years," said Mrs. E. C. Luther, of 318 Buckthorn street, Inglewood, California.
 "Before I began taking Tanlac I had been in wretched health and in a run-down condition for two years. I could not eat anything, and when I did manage to force down a little something, my stomach would become so badly upset I was in misery for hours. I was in constant pain and my nerves were so badly upset I could get but little sleep. I gradually lost weight until I was little more than a frame and was so weak I could barely get about and could not do my housework.
 "I had tried many different kinds of treatments and medicines but none of them did me any good. Finally my husband brought me a bottle of Tanlac and I began taking it and almost immediately I commenced to feel better. I continued taking it and continued to improve until now I am in fine condition. I have a splendid appetite, eat anything I want without having the least particle of trouble with my stomach, and can sleep all night long like a log without waking up. My strength has entirely returned so that now I can do all my housework with the greatest ease. I am sure glad that my husband got Tanlac for me, for it has simply done me a world of good and I will always have a good word to say for it."
 Tanlac is sold in Roseburg by W. F. Chapman, and in Dixonville by J. E. Hatfield, and by leading druggists everywhere.

MUST HAVE SURPRISED CZAR

John Randolph Had His Own Ideas of What to Do When Presented at Russian Court.

When John Randolph, erratic American statesman from Virginia, was in Russia he was about to be presented to the czar. Someone undertook to teach him the presentation etiquette of the Russian court. As minister he was to enter the room and bow; at the center of the room he was to pause and bow a second time, after which the czar would meet him and engage him in conversation. But Randolph was indignant at the thought that anyone could presume to teach him anything, and declared that he knew all about it without being shown.
 The day of presentation arrived and Randolph entered the door of the audience chamber and bowed very low; he advanced to the center of the room and bowed again very deeply. Then he approached nearer to the czar, took off one gauntlet and threw it to the right of the czar, removed his other gauntlet and cast it to the left of the czar. Next he pitched off his hat in front, threw off his mantle, unbuckled his sword and discarded it upon the floor and then fell upon his knees at the feet of the czar. The czar was speechless and the czaretsin astonished. However, the czar was equal to the occasion, so he approached the prostrate Randolph, required him to rise and engaged him in conversation. But the reception did not meet Randolph's expectations, and within a month he left Russia in considerable of a huff at what he deemed mistreatment at the hands of the czar.

HAS FOUND CRADLE OF EEL

Scientist Tells the World All About the Habits of That Migratory Aquatic Creature.

The eel has been tracked to his cradle. It has taken us 2,000 years to learn that eels, living in ponds and rivers climb out when full grown, crawl over the land, find a river running to the ocean, go out to sea, and lay eggs which produce offspring that come back in billions up the rivers from which their parents descended, says London Tit-Bits.
 A scientist has now tracked down these elusive marvels to the spawning grounds. It is the Sargasso sea, that enormous sea garden through which Columbus first sailed to the terror of his crews, from September to October, 1492. Of course, that is not the only nursery.
 Upon hatching, the eel larvae drift with the current, undergo a marvelous transformation, reach Europe, swarm up the river, climb the banks, cross dusty fields and parched meadows to inland ponds and ditches, and then settle there for the next seven or eight years, when they swim back to the Sargasso to lay their eggs and die.
 Is not that a crowning marvel of the migratory instinct? Across the Atlantic in infancy, to fatten in a wayside English pond, and back again, grown up, across the wide ocean.

Local Man Son Of Woman Sheriff

S. R. Johnson, president of the M. J. Lumber company, of Glendale, who has been in the city for the past two days as a defendant in a civil action in the circuit court, bears the distinction of being the son of Mrs. Jane Johnson, the woman sheriff of Roscommon county, Michigan. Mr. Johnson states that his father was sheriff of the county for two terms of four years each, and the law provides that no officers shall hold office for more than that length of time. So popular was his father in carrying out the duties of his office that the citizens insisted that he remain, but were unable to keep him in his place under the provisions of the law, so they elected Mrs. Johnson, who immediately made her husband first deputy. Mrs. Johnson is the mother of five children.
