BIRDS HAVE VARIOUS NAMES

Get Cognomens From Habits or Plumage Though Not Infrequently From Song or Call.

Birds are given various names in various parts of the country; some get these names from their habits, others from their plumage, while the song, or call, in other cases is responsible for the nickname of the bird, according to London Answers.

The cuckoo has two mates. The meadow pippit is known as the cuckoo's mate in some parts of the country, because of its habit of always accompanying the cuckoo from place to place throughout its stay in this country. The wryneck gets the same name for a different reason. It arrives in the country about the same time, or a few days earlier than the cuckoo, and therefore the name has been given it.

Little "Bread-and-no-cheese" is perhaps rather a mouthful, but the name is given to the yellow bunting on account of the fact that its simple song resembles these words more than anything else in the world.

"Yaffle" is the name given to that laughing bird of the woods, the green woodpecker, also known by the less cheerful cognomen of rain bird, because whenever it laughs the glass goes back and the rain comes down. In other words, the laugh of the green woodpecker, like the "hee-haw" of the donkey, is considered by many to be a sure sign of wet weather.

The whitethroat has a habit of creeping along the lower parts of the hedges, where the nettles grow, and therefore it has acquired for itself the name of "nettle creeper."

TIRE KNOWN BY MANY NAMES

Not Including What It Is Called by Impatient Autoist When It Punctures.

A thing which ties is a tire—say makers of the dictionary. The first purpose of the tire was to tie or band the wheel together. As time passed, the original meaning of the word has been lost sight of and now the tire is the part of the wheel which touches the road and stands the wear and tear of travel.

England and her possessions, except Canada, spells the word "tyre." No less an authority than England's own Encyclopedia Britannica is on record with the opinion that "this spelling is not now accepted by the best English authorities," yet "tyre" persists.

In some of the Spanish-speaking countries, such as Chile and the Argentine, tires are known as "neumaticos." In Mexico they are "llantas." In other places where Spanish is the language, notably Cuba, the correct word is "gomas." In Brazil, where Portuguese is spoken, the name is "pneumaticos."

The French have the short name "pneus" for tires." This is a contraction of pneumatiques. In practically all the Scandinavian countries the Danish word "gummiringer"—rubber ring—is used.

Making a Citizen.

You make the citizen by giving him intelligence. He must learn to see things as they are. He must also learn to see the possibilities and rise in power to put them to the test. There is no place for the coward in the march of progress. We need men, "brave men, who dare while others fly." And this means they must have brains and brawn with which to fight life's battles and hold their own in the world. And to intelligence we must add constancy. It avails little to be brilliant if you haven't the power to stick to your job until you make a success of it. Persistence will help you win, when you put your head to work. These are the first things in the making of citizens. The home and the school must work together to produce it.—Grit.

July.

July was originally the fifth month of the Roman year. In the Alban calendar it had a complement of 36 days, which was reduced to 31 and then to 30, and it stood thus for many centuries.

At length Julius Caesar restored it to 31. He felt a personal interest in July, as it was his natal month. After the death of this great law-giver and reformer Marc Antony changed the name from Quintilis to July, in honor of Caesar's family name, in order to note that as the sun was most potent at this time so was Caesar the most powerful potentate who had ever lived. Our Saxon ancestors called July "Hey Monath" because they usually moved their hay at that period of the year.—Chicago Journal.

Black Hole of Calcutta.

This name was given to an apartment in Calcutta in which a party of English were confined on the night of June 20, 1756. The garrison of the fort connected with the English factory at Calcutta was captured by the Nawab Siraj-ud-Daulu, who caused all the prisoners taken to be confined in a room 18 by 14 feet 10 inches. This cell had only two windows, obstructed by a veranda. Of the 150 people who spent the night in a horror of thirst, heat and agony from pressure, only 23 survived the experience.

Natural Explanation.

"Why is it that the dark horses in a political convention always keep so quiet?"

"Because under the circumstances, the word with none of them can be nay."

OH, DEAR! MY BACK!

Merciful Heavens, how my back hurts in the morning!" It's all due to an over-abundance of that poison called uric acid. The kidneys are not able to get rid of it. Such conditions you can readily overcome, and prolong life by taking "Anuric" (anti-uric-acid). This can be obtained at almost any drug store, in tablet form.

When your kidneys get sluggish and clog, you suffer from backache, sick-headache, dizzy spells, or twinges and pains of lumbago, rheumatism or gout; or sleep is disturbed two or three times a night, get Dr. Pierce's Anuric, it will put new life into your kidneys and your entire system. Send Dr. Pierce's Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y., ten cents for trial package.

SAN FRANCISCO, CALIF.—"I have used Dr. Pierce's remedies in my family for fifteen years and have found on every occasion that they gave satisfactory results. Recently I was troubled with my kidneys and my back constantly pained me. I took three packages of Dr. Pierce's Anuric Tablets which removed all pain and cleared up conditions. I advise every one to give Dr. Pierce's remedies a fair trial."—MRS. E. EVE, 422 Brannon Street.

ALL WANT TO LIVE IN PARIS

So Many Foreigners Are There That the Frenchman Is Being Crowded.

The New York Evening Post's Paris correspondent says that in an article in Excelsior a French writer contends that while Paris before the war was the meeting place of all nationalities, it has now become their permanent abode, so that the Parisians are crowded out into the suburbs or unable to find an apartment in the city.

The writer says that if you take a census of the average apartment you will find that it contains "Belgians who left when the Germans came, Russians driven out by bolshevism, French families from the devastated regions who seem to like it where they are. American students with their omnipotent dollars, Englishmen trying to do business and representatives of the Balkan states, Poland, Turkey and other distressed and unsettled regions who are living on the Lord only knows what. Paris is proud of her cosmopolitanism, but is finding it inconvenient when the peoples of the world show so little inclination to move."

Cardinal's Hat Symbol of Office.

The peculiarity of the cardinal's hat is that it is not to be worn. On one occasion only is it to be seen on the head of the cardinal, and that is when the pope himself places it there as a symbol of its owner's elevation to the Sacred college. When the cardinal dies it is placed in his coffin. The hat is of a deeper red than that of the robe worn by the cardinal. It has long heavy silken cords, each with 15 tassels at the end, hanging on either side. The crimson robes which, like the hat, denote the cardinal's office, are made of cloth which for several generations past has been supplied by a firm of cloth merchants at Burtscheid, near Aix-la-Chapelle. The process by which the dye is distilled is a jealously guarded secret.

Auguste Bonamy, chief justice of the supreme court of Haiti, headed a delegation from that country which went to Washington to discuss with the American state department issues affecting the two countries.

BETTER THAN CALOMEL

Thousands Have Discovered Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets Are a Harmless Substitute

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are the result of Dr. Edwards' determination not to treat liver and bowel complaints with calomel. For 17 years he used these tablets (a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil) in his private practice with great success.

They do all the good that calomel does but have no bad after effects. No pains, no griping, no injury to the gums or danger from acid foods—yet they stimulate the liver and bowels. Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets when you feel "logy" and "heavy." Note how they clear clouded brain and perk up the spirits. 15c and 30c a box.

Going home to turkey and trimmin's

THANKSGIVING DAY last year.
I ATE my chow.
ALONE in the big town.
AND THE TURKEY was all.
NEATLY VARNISHED and had.
NICE LITTLE paper pants,
ON BOTH its legs.
AND TASTED strongly.
LIKE NOTHING at all,
BUT THIS year.
MAN ALIVE, I'm going home.
AND THERE will be.
A COUNTRY turkey.
DONE TO a turn.
BROWN AND savory.
CRISP AND flaky.
SENDING UP little clouds.
OF TANTALIZING steam.
MAKING NOSTRILS wrinkle.
AND PALATES quiver.
OH BOY, real turkey.
AND THEN afterwards,
ABLE TO breathe,
BUT NOT to bend.
I'LL REACH for a smoke,
THAT'S THE real turkey, too.
COSTLY AROMATIC Turkish,
BLENDED WITH the best,
OF MELLOW Domestic leaf,
AND ONCE again—oh boy,
CAN'T YOU just hear me,
INFORMING THE world,
"THEY SATISFY."

IT'S real Turkish tobacco that goes into Chesterfields—really grown in Turkey and bought on the ground by our own buyers. To blend it with best Domestic, in the exclusive Chesterfield way—leave that to us! "They Satisfy" We'll leave that to you.
